Setting a Good Example.

ALTHOUGH THE EXTENT and details of diplomatic discussion held at the meeting of the "Big Three" last Friday night still remain a mystery...

Among all that the "Big Three" has done, the suggestion for a new "entente" of four powers is certainly the most important. It is still uncertain as to what form the proposed agreement will take...

During the first two weeks of the conference various problems, including the naval reduction program presented by Mr. Hughes, were handled by sub-committees of experts...

We have often pointed out that the strongest and safest national defense is the friendliest diplomatic relations with foreign powers...

There are many reasons for welcoming the admirable decision taken by our naval delegates in acceptance of the 5-5-3 ratio...

A Deplorable School Affair.

ALL CALIFORNIA has been interested in the controversy waged over Miss Yuki Furuta, selected to deliver the valedictory in the commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Oakland High School...

Miss Yuki Furuta, a student in the high senior class of the Oakland High School, has been selected by the school authorities to represent the graduating class in the January commencement exercises...

When the boys and girls of the high senior class learned of the honor that had been conferred upon a Japanese girl they were dissatisfied and launched a movement to oppose and to nullify, if possible, the arrangement...

The inspiration of the "revolt" came from high school youths whose ideas are in a transient state, so the incident may not be sufficiently serious to merit criticism...

Japanese children born in this country, as a rule, are very clever and make a good showing in their school work. The consensus of opinion of public school teachers, it seems, coincides with our observation...

This is good news not alone to Japanese parents; all Americans should feel the same way about it. For while the parents of these children are Japanese, the native born children are regular Americans...

Some Japanese, in the past, always have charged that Japanese children born in this country are unassimilable, or lack the quality requisite to become good American citizens...

The ideas, feelings and tastes of the young children are thoroughly American. This tendency toward Americanization is facilitated by the tendency of the public schools' brand of education...

Much praise is due to Japanese parents for the whole-hearted manner in which they are bringing up their young Japanese Americans...

When these young Americans display their adaptability in learning in the schools and are awarded high honors as their due, who shall say nay? Once we heard of the instance of a country school teacher who was badly treated by fellow citizens of the village...

If the American people wish to discourage scholarly achievement among the children of foreign-born parents, we see a degradation of American

JAPAN'S NEW PREMIER.

THE SENDAI CLAN requested Mr. Van Kooke, whose business was the selling of arms to various clans, to afford us his protection and care...

Our appearance must have been very unusual. I wore an ill fitting silk suit made in Japan by a tailor not accustomed to foreign styles...

Upon our arrival in San Francisco we accidentally met men who were members of our clan. They were political refugees and had been studying in that city...

But it was a dream of short duration and we awoke to the fact that they had not remained. My shoes likewise were cheap and at the point of discard...

When we left Japan we had not dreamed that we were embarking upon such a life as this. We had been sent forth as honor students of the great United States...

THE CROWN PRINCE'S REGENCY.

By KAZUO EHINA.

THE ONLY hope for solving the various political and economic difficulties confronting Japan lies in a new form of progressive government under the leadership of a wise and progressive ruler...

NO POLITICAL UPHEAVAL.

The regency now established by Crown Prince Yoshihito is certainly not to be regarded as any radical change of political system...

The crown prince has broken various precedents which old men regarded essential to the dignity of the emperor...

The scene of the crown prince's landing at Yokohama, at the conclusion of his tour, was a pleasant one to the eyes of the young natives...

HE WAITS ON HIMSELF.

Responding with his characteristic charming smile to the orations of his countrymen gathered at the pier...

Why have not American students in Miss Furuta's class studied more diligently if they did not wish to be beaten by her?

We respect the sacredness and impartiality of American education, but at the same time we deeply regret this incident.

KATSUGORO'S REVENGE.

(From The Hakone Reigen Izari Katakuchi.)

By CHIKAMATSU TOKUZU.

THEY sprang upon the cripple. They would not listen to his pleadings that they were mistaken. One seized each arm. Seated though he was...

"Right glad I am to meet you, Sato Gosuke. For years I have searched and suffered in quest of you. And now at last I shall have my revenge..."

"On your account, Sato Gosuke," she said, "my father committed seppuku. His death shall be avenged..."

"I say," Hatsuana proudly replied, "that rather would I kill myself than yield one whit to your vile wishes..."

"I suppose your silence is your token of refusal. Very well, I shall use the third degree..."

"Kill that old woman! I myself shall handle this blackguard!"

"Gosuke drew his great sword and raised it high above his head to deliver the death blow to Katsugoro..."

THE FUTURE OF GERMANY.

By BUNZABURO SASHIWA.

THE RUMORED tripartite alliance between Japan, Germany and Russia is too much a figment of the imagination to be realized...

This opinion was expressed in an interview accorded a representative of The Japanese American News...

As to the newspaper policy of the British government during the war, Dr. Mechenberg, secretary of the German Embassy...

"I do not think it will be necessary, for all people now going in and coming out of Germany know quite well about the German government..."

"Germany has abandoned militarism," concluded Dr. Mechenberg. "Her only way out of the present situation is to become a great, peaceful, industrial and commercial nation..."

Being a diplomat and having served in Japan for fifteen years, Dr. Mechenberg is said to have mastered the Japanese language so well that no one could tell the difference...

When the elders helplessly will spend their declining years under the dictatorship of their sons and daughters.

WHEN THIS OLD WORLD WAS YOUNG.

ONCE UPON A TIME in the village of Ashinoya there dwelt with her parents a lass known as the Maiden of Unai...

They might well have been twins, these two lovers, so closely did each resemble the other in age, face, figure and bearing...

With jealous love these champions twain And a bow of snow-white wood Did rest in the shewy hand of each;

Maiden grows heartsick But for all the sweetness surrounding her, the Maiden of Unai grew heartsick...

Enough, enough! You swiftly flowing wave Shall free my soul from her long anxious strife...

As soon as she had finished her song the Maiden of Unai fung herself headlong from the front veranda into the turgid, surging waters of the Ikuta...

CONFUCIANISMS.

KE KANG asked: "Is Chew-yew fit to be employed as an officer of government?"

"Yes, yes," replied the Master. "It is Tsze fit to be employed as an officer of government..."

YEN KEW said: "It is not that I do not delight in your doctrines, but my strength is insufficient..."

THE MASTER said to Tze-hea: "Do you be a man after the style of the superior man, and not after that of the mean man..."

By SOKSEI NATSUME (Translated by a Japanese Schoolboy.)

THIS ARE SUCH an all important question that you should not hardly expect me to solve it readily outright...

"Why, sir, you are so enraptured with sake this night. Your countenance are so glowing like a star..."

"I don't know whether I know that lengthiest word or not. I apprehend you have had enough of the sake. Have some nice rice now, sir?"

"No, I shall swally some more of sake. Gosh, how I enjoy and relish to swally sake! Do you desire me to teach you the longest of all the long, long words in all the long, long world?"

"Yes, sir, and then, sir, you shall eat off the rice, sir, if you please, sir..."

"I suppose it are a wild words, sir, born out of your brains this wery moment..."

"I don't know anything at all whatever about meaning of same, but I do know how it are spelled with letters. If you compose yourself to be written by longhand style, it measures six and three-tenth inch..."

For your benefit, what he are remarking now is the same they lost out when Buechus got hold of him, but he are saying it in all sobriety...

Two glass are plenty and sufficient to make his face pretty hot like. Tonight he drink twice times that much so his face are red as red as tomato and he

PRIZE WINNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

1087 Water Street, Sausalito, Cal., Dec. 1, 1921.

Japanese American News, 650 Ellis Street, San Francisco, Calif.

I herewith acknowledge the check for Fifty Dollars which you sent to me as the winner of the first prize in the contest on Disarmament.

I was much surprised, and very happy, to learn that I had won the first prize, and wish to express my sincere gratitude.

Yours very truly, ROY NAKAZA.

OUT OF LUCK.

By SHICHIHI ITO.

ADMIRAL KATO is blowing great guns "star-kato" in the Washington international jazz band.

THE "DEMOCRACY" of "the land of liberty" is a story of long ago. Oakland High School girls protested against a Japanese honor student speaking at the graduation.

SOMETHING WRONG with George Harvey? He is keeping silent concerning the Washington conference.

ACCORDING to the Japanese press Premier Takahashi is called "Hotel Premier" and Foreign Minister Uchida is "Gomu-ningyo".

TROOPS ARE CALLED in Meat Strike! Headline. We advise Chicago to join the disarmament conference.

OPTIMIST—A person who thinks that Chinamen will get out of their troubles through the Washington conference.

SURELY the disarmament conference will have a brilliant success "in principle". Yes, "in principle".

SHOULD A YOUNG MAN about to be married tell his sweetheart everything about his past? asked The San Francisco Call of its readers.

HUGHES, IT SEEMS, is as fond of a holiday as a schoolboy. He proposed a naval holiday and his conference is enjoying a holiday occasionally.

THREE CHIEF ADVISORS to the Chinese delegation resigned because Minister Zee is "too easy" in the handling of Japanese questions.

YANKS ARE MORE than soldiers, for it is reported that the first detachments of American troops from the Rhineland arrived in New York with seventy-three German girls and eight Rhine babies.

WHO SAYS that the "High Cost of Living" is still prevailing? The pretty San Francisco girl seeking a husband who will educate her, is showered with offers of marriage.

FACE SHOWS DISSATISFACTION. Saying which she compose dissatisfied face. "Not another 'sir'!" squeak the silly master kindly...

Keigetsu, though great he may be in his own price, no value of him are recognized by our sweet madam.

Keigetsu are the greatest of all our critics now all the best are dead. Says he to me, "Do drink, so it must be good, I say."
