The image contains three separate illustrations. On the left, a close-up view of the interior of a ship's hull or deck area, showing wooden planks and structural beams. In the center, a larger illustration shows the interior of a ship's hull, possibly a hold or cargo area, with wooden structures and equipment visible. On the right, an illustration of the exterior of a Japanese naval ship, showing its hull, superstructure, and rigging. The ship has the number '5' painted on its side.
