Fresno Students' Club, A. L. L. To Give Thanksgiving Dance

What promises to be one of the most pleasant and liveliest social functions of the winter season among the younger generation in Fresno is the Thanksgiving Dance to be given next Wednesday evening, November 24, jointly by the American Loyalty League and the Student Club of Fresno at the Hospitality Center.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by the members of both organizations, and so enthusiastic have they been in their efforts that assurances have already been received of a record attendance, not only from the members, but from the younger people of the valley towns.

once said:

"I can not believe that the good that is in us ever dies, that the great things we do are ever wasted, or that we—those of us who have developed individual traits of character or accomplished works for good—shall perish utterly or fail to reap the reward of good things well done here on earth.

"Possibly the Great Intelligence that rules the universe plans beyond our ken; knows that lives shall be most essential to the well-being of the world and sends them back to finish what they have begun and have been forced to lay down before the beckoning finger of the Dark Angel."

Harry Houdini was not only a brilliant mystifier but also an interesting speculator and a noble soul to utter such noble thoughts. We may not have agreed with his theory, but we must concede his sincerity.

TO-DAY'S TOPICS

Houdini Beyond the Death Line

Harry Houdini, that one-time show man and magician par excellence of America and Europe, must be greatly amused, in his home in the Great Beyond, were he to learn that "dozens and dozens" of spiritualist mediums are giving Mrs. Houdini messages purported to have come from across the infinite.

Harry Houdini is declared to have said, in an interview conducted some time before his death, that:

"I do not believe in spiritualism as practised by so-called mediums. I believe the spirits return, because to my way of thinking they are on a plane of thought which renders it as impossible for them to communicate with us earth folks as it is for the sleeper to communicate with his friend who is awake."

Yet a curiosity absorbed the wizard, for before his death he composed a quotation of ten words, of which his wife alone shared the knowledge. $5 far not one of the messages received from mediums by Mrs. Houdini could be identified as the key words composed by him to be transmitted across the death line.

Houdini did not believe in spiritualism, but he believed in reincarnation. He

Shakespeare's Play Beautifully Portrayed; Social Hour Follows Play

Many parents and relatives who crowded into the Alameda M. E. Church Hall, Friday evening, November 19, to witness the presentation of the students of the Japanese Language School were in unison in commenting upon the accomplished literary works of their sons and daughters.

The climax of the occasion was reached when Shakespeare's play, "The Merchant of Venice," was enacted in Japanese by the upper class students. The play was showered with hearty applause, rewarding the players for their faithful practice.

Following the play, the crowd moved into another hall for refreshments and games. The games were taken part by both the old and young and the scene was pitched with uproarious laughter and colored with mirthful faces.
