RANDOM THOUGHTS
 By Yamadori

Mr. Matheson Attacks Japan

In the May issue of the Current History appears a caustic essay on Japan and the Japanese people. The self-styled and all-beneficent prophet who penned the article attempts to elucidate truth concerning Japan to the sorely misinformed world, and in this God-given mission he slanders Japan—and the intelligence of the readers as well (no doubt for the good of the ignorant world)—by asserting that the Japanese are a race of dull and conceited fops with no individual initiative whatever. The article concludes with this ponderous bit of all-embracing wisdom: "As a first-class Power, Japan is a myth. The sooner this fact is recognized, the sooner will all talk of war with Japan die away, to the betterment of the world and to the betterment of Japan."

Wherefore, banzai for the new Messiah!

"Red Love" Now in America

Through the lily-maiden purity of our mail comes the scorching "Red Love," a book written by Alexander Kollontay.

When Madame Kollontay made a request some time ago to pass through this country on her way to Mexico, our Secretary Kellogg, it will be recalled, shuddered at the prospect (how magnificently he shuddered!)—as Lillian Gish might have done at the sight of a bad, bad villain—and Madame Kollontay was not permitted to enter and pollute our super-sanctified soil.

But now comes her book, scott free into this country, apparently with the benevolent approval of the Washington officials. The "Red Love" is a mediocre book, according to those who

EMPEROR IN UNIFORM OF GENERALISSIMO OPENS SPECIAL SESSION OF DIET

Government Submits Three Measures To Lower House

Special to the Japanese American News
 TOKYO, May 4.—The opening ceremony of the fifty-third special Diet session was conducted in the House of Peers at 11 o'clock of the forenoon yesterday. His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, dressed in full uniform of "daigensui" (generalissimo), read the message before all members of both houses, who remained standing throughout the ceremony.

The Government today submitted three bills to the Lower House. The first one demanded approval for the recently proclaimed Imperial moratorium. The second bill provides for giving relief to the Bank of Taiwan. The third provides for the ordering of emergency loans to Japan Bank under governmental guarantee against possible loss incurred by the bank.

Communication Minister To Mediate N. Y. K. Strike

Special to the Japanese American News
 TOKYO, May 4.—The long pending strike of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha stewards is expected to be settled this evening by the mediation of the new Minister of Communication, Keisuke Mochizuki.

It is intimated that the differences between the N. Y. K. and the strikers will be settled through compromises, including the understanding for reappointment of strikers who were recently dismissed.

Three Chinese Spies Land At Shimonoseki

Special to the Japanese American News
 TOKYO, May 4.—According to press reports, three Chinese spies on secret mission for Chiang Kai-Shek arrived at Shimonoseki today. The police authorities have become active in observing them.

have read it and are capable judges of such subjects, but the point is that one cannot help but wonder why Madame Kollontay's "polluting" foot should not step on our land of purity while her book is permitted to fly through our mails like a flaming meteor.

THE SYMPHONY

SIXTH MOVEMENT
 (By Iwao Kawakami)

"All right, Pierre—We're waiting for you." Carl prodded him with an elbow. "What? Must I sing, too?" Pierre whistled up the scale. "Mon dieu, then it shall be Gounod and Hugo's 'Berceuse'." And, in a modulated voice, He began to sing: "Quand tu ris sur la bou-che, L'amour se-pa-nou-it; Et sou-dain le fa-rou-che, Soup-con se-va-nou-it. Ah! Le rre-fide le-prouve Un couer sans de tours, Ah! ri-er, ri-er, ma belle, Ri-er, ri-er, tou-jours—"

We were so enthralled By the witchery of the song, It was somewhat jarring, When Carl demanded curtly: "Pierre—somebody here May not have understood—Sing it in English again." "What? In English? But It loses charm, I think" Nevertheless, he sang again: "When thy laugh like the song Of the dawn kisses so gay That the shadows of the night Are withdrawn and melt away; I remember my years of care And misgiving no more. Ah! then, laugh on, Laugh on, my beloved, Laugh on forevermore—" Carl lit a cigarette And blew out a comment: "Not so bad in English."

"Wild Togos" Gain Lead Over "Spartans" by Giving Entertainment

On Saturday night, April 30, the San Francisco Blazing Arrows Comrades Club held a big meeting at the Japanese Y.M.C.A., starting at 8 o'clock. The meeting was conducted by the "Wild Togos" with a musical program. Tad Fujita surprised the boys by announcing his birthday and furnishing the refreshments for the evening. In a "surprise" test sprung by Fred Koba, the "Wild Togos" nosed out the "Spartans," 51 to 43, and by the end of the entertainment the "Wild Togos" had piled up 135 points to 74½ by the "Spartans." The "Wild Togos" are now leading the "Spartans" in the total number of points, 793 and two-thirds to 768 and two-thirds.
