RANDOM THOUGHTS

The New Marriage Law

Governor Young signed a new marriage bill which requires at least three days and not more than ninety days previous notification before license will be issued by the clerk. The law will make impossible whimsical marriages and marriages contracted on a sudden dare by thoughtless couples at jazz parties.

Some newspapers make editorial attacks upon this law; first, on the ground that it discourages marriage; and second, that it is an infringement of personal liberty.

The first of the argument is answered easily enough. The law discourages undesirable marriages, the kind of marriages that wreck homes and turn the divorce mills. But it will not hamper solemn and premeditated marriages.

The other objection to the new law is superficial. Marriage is not exclusively a personal institution. It directly affects and is affected by society. And the society possesses the privilege of regulating it not only for the welfare of contemporary society but also of the generation yet unborn.

Try a Smile

A certain actor persisted in boisterous and extravagant amusement over everything. W. S. Gilbert, on commenting on him, said: "These are the facts. He is not a gentleman, and he knows it, and he tries to laugh it off."

Wherefore, the next time you are tempted to laugh, smile. Smile covers up ungracefulness with grace.

Adolescent Suicides

Harvey O'Higgins, who is entertaining as a novelist but more stimulating as an essayist, writes: "The adult seems to be able to live without love, though

ADDITIONAL TROOPS ARE DISPATCHED TO PEKING, TIENTSIN AND TSINGTAO

Japanese Government Gains Understanding of U.S., Great Britain

Special to the Japanese American News
TOKYO, May 30.—Japan will send additional troops of 2,000 men either today or tomorrow to Peking and Tientsin from Mukden, capital of Manchuria.

Another detachment of 2,000 men has already left Ryujun, near Dairen, and will arrive in Tsingtao on June 1, augmenting the Japanese forces there. The latter detachment was sent after consultation and with understanding of both the American and the British Governments.

Big Fire in Hiroaki City Destroys 400 Houses

Hiroaki Is Home of Tagaru, Famous Samurai of Japan

Special to the Japanese American News
TOKYO, May 30.—The city of Hiroaki in Aomori was severely ravaged by a great fire which destroyed four hundred houses.

Hiroaki city has a population of 39,000 people and it is chiefly known for being the home Tagaru, a famous samurai.

The Eighth Division of the Imperial Army is also quartered in the city and the soldiers are now engaged in heavy patrol work.

without it his life lacks color and vitality. The adolescent, apparently, cannot live without love." Therefore, he reasons, youth is apt to commit suicide when his love, whether romantic or parental—the two are closely associated in the adolescent mind—is frustrated or chilled by infidelity.

Mr. O'Higgins goes very near to the core of adolescent suicide—at least, of a one and most common phase of it. To youth the world is too bleak without love. When his dreams of love, clothed in idealism and ardor of youth, is shattered by sudden realization of infidelity of others, especially in his parents, the disillusionment becomes too overpowering. With the passionate temper of youth, unguided by experience, he throws himself into a cynical state of mind and decides to shuffle off his mortal coil from a world that is unlivable without love.

S.F. Japanese Boy Makes Good in Swimming Test

Tsune Baba Is One of Best Japanese-American Swimmers

Tsune Baba, age 18, member of the San Francisco Japanese Y. M. C. A. and one of the best swimmers among the Japanese, received 100 per cent grade on his essay and actual practice on the Shafer method of resuscitation in a test given by the local Red Cross examiner.

Baba is familiar with Howard method, Marshall-Hall method, and the Laborde method of artificial respirations, besides being an expert in Prone pressure method, which is now used by the Red Cross, Boy Scouts and other organizations.

His carries are particularly good, and the feat of carrying a drowning person with his hands tied is nothing to him. He will be the first American-born Japanese to become the Senior Red Cross savior when he passes the final test on June 18.

Baba is said to be familiar with more styles of swimming strokes other Japanese swimmer in the and life-saving methods than any United States with the exception of Captain George Kashimura of Onset, Massachusetts.

Hiroshi Shibata, another member of the Y. M. C. A., has also made remarkable progress, and he was allowed to join the Junior Life Saving class. He will receive instructions from Baba and David Yamakawa.
