Hound's Last Hunt

(By Bud Norman Uyeda) Well, you old battle-scarred hound— Are you still good for another hunt? I see you weakening pound by pound, But are you still good for another hunt? 'Twas through you I bagged my game. You with that scented nose Have run and made many a deer lame. And we killed most of those. From bottom of a hill to the very top Thru brush and stream, chasing the game Because of your fleetness and your nose— You're known to sportsmen as a dog of fame. My eyes are filled with brotherly tears, To think you'll soon pass away— So let's make our last, last hunt, a successful hunt, Then may come your ever-resting day.

N. Y. K. Inaugurates New Service Line to Japan Due to the rapid increase in the passenger business of the N. Y. K. line between Los Angeles and Japan, the company will inaugurate a new line of transportation directly from the port of San Pedro to Honolulu and Yokohama without taking the usual course of stopping in San Francisco port. All of the N. Y. K. liners of the South American line, including Ginyo, Rakuyo Anyo, and Bokuyo Marus, will follow this new route, while the Siberia and Korea Marus will follow the old route via S. F.

It is expected that there will be a great demand for passage on this new service, as the price of the second class passage will be $33.50 lower than that of the present second class service of the Korea and Siberia Marus, which cost $150.

While dictating a letter, a new clerk was in doubt as to the use of a certain financial phrase, so he said to the stenographer: "Do you 'retire' a loan?" "No," replied the wistful-eyed steno, "I sleep with mamma."
