RANDOM THOUGHTS By Yamadori

Heroes of the Air

The Atlantic is being crossed and recrossed, with a heavy toll of casualties. Air travel will continue to be a source of danger...

The progress of mankind in the conquest of nature has always been fraught with human sacrifices. But they gave us our travel across the deserts, the mountains, and the unruly seas...

It used to be the common argument of military swaggerers that war is useful and even necessary for the progress of mankind. It is elevating because it gives opportunity for play of noble impulses...

But most of us have outgrown this stage of thinking and those who have not are beginning to wonder if peace has not also its heroes. If there was ever a hero, Lindbergh was—and is—one.

Scrub Years

(By I. E.)

And then digging his thumbs into his armpits, added: "That's me all over, Tak."

With that parting shot, he vanished around the corner and Chikao whistling: "Barney Google," reached the road that led to his home. He lived behind a small Japanese mission in front of which had once bloomed a green lawn, but was now plain dirt with stubborn tufts of yellowing grass, trampled down to its present state by ruthless, joyous feet of careless children.

The ladder was a clumsy and preponderous affair, but he managed to balance it on a shoulder and carry it to the rear where he left it leaning against a tumble-down fence that separated his home from a newly-built garage next door.

"Oh, Chikao—thank you for bringing the ladder back. The girls used it to get an indoor ball stuck up there in the tree."

"Fool dames," he muttered to himself, and then said aloud: "That's all right, Tsuki—let's see the 'peela'."

"My goodness, what a lucky shot!" "Luck nothin'—it's skill."

UNION LAUNDRY NINE TO ENGAGE IN TWO GAMES ON HOLIDAYS

Americans on Sunday and Merritt Babes on Monday

OAKLAND—Flushed with its recent victory over the Alameda Taiiku seconds, the Union Laundry nine of this city will celebrate the holidays by tackling teams on Sunday and Monday, September 4 and 5.

The first game, on Sunday, will be with the Golden Gate All-Stars at the Golden Gate Grammar School playgrounds by San Pablo avenue and Sixty-second street.

The game will start from 3:30 in the afternoon, and it will be a stiff struggle for the Japanese aggregation as the Americans have a reputed collection of horseshoe sluggers.

The second clash is with the Merritt Athletic Club "babes" at Bushrod Park on Monday afternoon from 2:30 p.m. This ought to be a "humdinger" as both teams have beaten the Alameda seconds, but lost to the Protos who in turn have been defeated by the Alamedans.

In conjunction with the regular meeting and all mothers are cordially welcomed.
