CHIANG BOUND FOR SHANGHAI

Noted Nationalist Will Not Make World Tour

TOKYO.—November 8.—General Chiang Kai-shek, noted Chinese Nationalist leader who has been in this country for the past few weeks, left Kobe today quietly for Shanghai aboard the N. Y. K. line's Nagasaki Maru.

While the purpose of the general's departure is not known, it is believed in well-informed circles here that he has either succeeded in receiving financial aid in this country, or has been assured of support from Nationalist supporters in the Chinese port city.

Chiang, it will be understood, escaped from China recently following the Nationalist debacle. He intended to spend a few weeks in Japan before proceeding on a tour of the world. During his stay in Japan he has called on a number of prominent Japanese statesmen and business executives.

Showa Club Note

The Showa Athletic Club of this city will hold its regular meeting on Friday evening, November 11, from 8 o'clock at the Japanese Association Hall.

Mandarin Grid Eleven Swamps "M-Street" Gang

CHINESE OUT-WEIGHS STUDENT CLUB STARS

SACRAMENTO.—Nov. 8.—Outweighed, out-played, and out-scored, the local Japanese Student Club's gridmen fought valiantly but with no compensation, last Saturday afternoon at the Yolo grounds. Their tough opponents were no other than the friendly enemies, the progenies from Canton.

Before a crowd of over 200 spectators, the "I street" gangsters with their tongmen outfit bucked and hammered the "M street" line to constant gains. The first half of the game ended with no favors on either eleven. Symptoms of weakening spells overtook the Nipponese as the Cathayans crossed the line for a touchdown in the third frame.

Had George Miyakawa hung to the pigskin in the fourth canto instead of fumbling it and again had someone at the back-field wrapped his arms around the Chinaman's neck and thrown him down, the "M street" cowboys would have had a different story to tell. It so happened that the elusive Cantonese picked up the fumble and ran 50 yards for an other touchdown, collecting 12 points.

Captain "coffee" Oshima is now lecturing on the subject of "I told you so," before his underweighted samurais.

Nishikubo assumed the mayoralship of this city about a year ago, succeeding former Governor General Izawa of Formosa who had occupied that post since the ousting of Zeko Nakamura.

SCOUTS IN ARMISTICE PROGRAM

Local Troop 12 To Take Part In Parade

Under the shadow of our wings a new generation arises. Their slogan from the west to the east they carry, "Be Prepared." The friendly ties of the east and western youths, God advises. For peaceful toil, for true cooperation, "Be prepared."

Troops 12 of the San Francisco District of the Boy Scouts of America (our own Japanese troop) has always been active, and their next activity will be the participation on November 11 in the celebration commemorating the signing of armistice.

The following notice comes to our attention:

"Armistice Day is going to be celebrated with a big parade. Keep your eyes open for familiar faces. If you see some Japanese faces in that parade, don't be surprised, for they are members of troop 12. They will have an opportunity of showing how well they understand water agrees with their appetite, or how well the assistant scoutmaster's bugling can maintain discipline. Cheer them as they come marching along. Cheer them, they are the victors of peace. Cheer them, they're the future ambassadors of hope, marching in their earliest propaganda of good will."

The Jesse W. Lillenthal Memorial Fund Campaign is now well under way, and Troop 12 is assisting and is raising its quota. The campaign is to provide a fund to re-establish a week-end camp right near San Francisco so that all members of the Boy Scouts of this city can, with minimum of expense, enjoy their Saturday in the glorious out-of-door activities. Let's hope that there will be plenty of open-space and trees and a swimming hole; let's hope.

On November 12, 1:30 p.m., at Kezar Stadium, under the joint auspices of the San Francisco County Council, American Legion, and The Foreign Trade Club, there will be a Boy Scout Field Day. Prizes and medals will be awarded the winners of the various events which will be: track events, archery, aviation, bugling, fire-building, camping, seamanship, staff drills, fancy drills, first aid, wall scaling, signaling, and judging.

The program will open with an opening review in which all of the troops will participate. They will be headed by a band and a drum and bugle corps. Parents and friends are urged to see their boys participate.

JAPANESE SPONSORS EXHIBIT

IMPRESSIONISTIC ARTIST DISPLAYS WORK AT LEGION PALACE

Noboru Fujioka, noted impressionistic Japanese artist, will open an exhibition at the Legion of Honor Hall at Lincoln Park beginning today. The exhibition, which will continue for three weeks, bids fair to be one of the principal art attractions in this city.

Fujioka recently arrived in this city from Paris and New York where he displayed a number of his works. Soon after his arrival in California, Stanford University officials privately placed a large number of his pictures on exhibition, and due to the favorable comment on his works he has been requested by local art enthusiasts to afford San Franciscans an opportunity to see his masterly impressionistic works.

Forbes Watson of the New York World, in commenting on Fujioka's art in the World, writes: "It gives to those artists a quite adequate vehicle for what they have of originality, delicacy, cleverness and wit. Noboru Fujioka finds American life extremely funny. His Charleston and American Spirit belong to the realm of pictorial satire. Other art critics in the East also favorably commented on Fujioka's work. Among these are E. Arens of the New Masses, M. Breunling of the New York Evening Post, and E. Cary in the New York Times."

Sacramento Issues Fellowship Paper

SACRAMENTO.—The October number of the Better Fellowship Circle paper is of unusual interest to Christian young people as it devotes most of its space to the recent conference at Berkeley. Interesting articles are contributed by Martha Kitagawa, Clarence Tsukano, Howard Imazeki and Ryuso Maeyama.

The editorial of the paper attracts us. The following is an extract from the October number: "An imaginative poet avers that woman is the link connecting Heaven and Earth. Physically and mentally, woman is man modified, perfected,—the last and crowning handiwork of God. True it is, we see in her the embodiment of purity and heavenly graces, the most perfect combination of modesty, devotion, patience, affection, gentleness and loveliness, and the perfection of physical beauty. Is it any wonder, then, that the girls of the Better Fellowship should choose The Blooming Rose as the title for their pamphlet?"

of Agriculture Yamamoto today requested Premier Tanaka to approve the budget for the land tax and self-cultivation farm problems.

ALAMEDA A. C. DROPS 6-5 TILT

Ninth Frame Spells Defeat For Japanese

ALAMEDA.—Only a handful of "dyed-in-wool" ball fans were on hand Sunday, to see the local Tai-ku boys fight valiantly in an attempt to stave off defeat, which had been following them ever since the opening of the winter league. For eight full innings the Japanese battled evenly with the strong Barron Tires aggregation of Oakland, but in the final frame with the score deadlocked the Americans put across the winning tally on couple of long hits. The final score read 6-5 in favor of the invaders, but the Japanese were contented in outitting them 8-7.

"Nabby" Ide, who started on the hill for the locals, was ineffective, for his "tantalizing curves and 'invisible' drops failed to function, and as a result before the game was half over, he was yanked out in favor of "Yutch" Domino, who held the Americans scoreless until the disastrous round.

"Nabby" Ide, after yielding his pitching burden, went to right-field, where he pulled off one of the prettiest one-hand catches of a hard hit liner to feature the game. "Shir" Kawamura, patrolling the hot corner, and "Mike" Nakano, who holds the initial sack played good defensive game.

"Gey" Towata, "Yutch" Domino, and Frank Nishi upheld the batting honors for the islanders by socking two safeties apiece.

Personal

Miss Misao Oshima SACRAMENTO.—Miss Misao Oshima, who has long been a popular member of Sacramento's younger set, left for Los Angeles on November 7. She has succeeded in obtaining a position there, and intends to remain in that city, at her uncle's home, for some time.

Misao, "Coffee" Oshima's sister, is a graduate of the Sacramento High School and also of the Heald's Business College. She gave a farewell party to several friends on last Sunday evening, at her home on Franklin Boulevard. The younger set of this city regrets to see her go, but wish her every success in her new position.

Proto Club Notes

Regular meeting of the San Francisco Y. M. B. A. Proto Club will be held tomorrow evening from 8 p.m. Financial settlement and sport calendars will feature meeting.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

In the papers you frequently no doubt read of the Premier and his Cabinet having discussed some important state matter at one or another tea house. You may have wondered what sort of a place this tea house was. You need wonder no longer. It is, to put it bluntly, nothing more than a disreputable restaurant where geisha girls are called to entertain the guests. The wonder is that these men are able to seriously discuss politics or business in such an atmosphere.

And what is really to be regretted is that almost no effort is being made to put an end to this sad state of affairs.

Let us say that an upright young man reared in this country goes to Japan to enter business. Unless he buries his pride and embarks into a life that seethes with corruption and unbusiness-like methods, he can be fairly certain that he will never become really successful. It is the same thing with the Chinese. Only in their case it is not in business but in politics that they find a corrupted life. An American born Chinese goes to the land of his ancestors and enters politics. In a very short time he either becomes an opium addict, or a gambler or he does not remain in politics, for just as Japanese businessmen discuss their important affairs at tea houses, so do Chinese politicians decide their weighty state issues over mah-jong sets,—and then the soothing spell of a stupefying vapor.
