CHINA'S NEW WOMEN

In Peking, Nanking, Shanghai, Canton, and in fact in every large city of what is known as the Celestial Kingdom, one today meets the new woman of China.

Mme. Sun Yat-sen, Mrs. Hsu Chien, Colonel Nadine Yuan, these are names one hears everywhere in China.

In Canton women enjoy absolute equality with men in educational and political privileges, and they are not slow to make use of this right. In Chekiang, a delegation of the fair sex has sent a petition to the Elder Statesmen's Council to ask that the Constitution be drawn to give women equal rights with men. In other cities similar movements are being launched.

Everywhere in the larger cities one sees boddied hair girls and women, many of them shop girls working for their livelihood.

This may not seem satisfactory to people in America, who perhaps are not acquainted with the fact that until very recently the women of China were kept strictly within their homes. Even the servants in the republic are men.

Some of the new freedom of the women of China is, naturally, strident as in the West, but on the whole the new Chinese women are a sheer delight. Their faces, like an English schoolgirl's, are full of sparkle and health. There was little animation in the old days, for their interest used then to be the interest of puer and defensive reserve, and it seems but yesterday that Chinese women, once having entered matrimony, positively refused to see any other men but their husbands. Today things are entirely changed.

At the present time in any large city in the republic there are a large number of girls who take out from their handbags a lipstick and powder puff and proceed to perform the same ritual before the mirror in their bags which one may see in New York or London any day of the week.

And these modern girls of new China—the China of the great cities, where Chinese play tennis exceedingly well, skate in the rink and dance at the hotels—these girls, are helping to build up a better republic.

There is at present a steady development among the modern women as well as girls working for their living, of a sincere consciousness regarding their personal dignity. It is their common slogan to declare marriage a union Republic.

PEACE SEEN IN BATTLE OVER TAXES

Compromise With Government Is Latest Plan

special to the Japanese American News
TOKYO, November 10—Premier Tanaka this morning conferred with members of a special committee chosen by the Seiyukai Party to discuss the land tax question with the head of the government.

Following the meeting it was said that the Seiyukai showed an inclination to give in on its demand to have the land tax transferred from the national to the prefectural treasury in 1929, instead of 1930.

This is the first sign of peace in this extended battle in which the Premier and the Minister of Finance have faced the opposition of their party leaders.

Goto Will Leave For World Tour

TOKYO, November 9—Viscount Shimpei Goto, who has been ill during the past few weeks and was therefore unable to depart for Moscow to attend the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Russian revolution, has recovered sufficiently to leave on his proposed world tour, it was announced by his physician today.

Goto will leave for Moscow November 20, it was tentatively decided, and will spend a few weeks in Russia before proceeding to Germany.

of two independent persons according to their free will, and that they will not adhere to the old idea that marriage subordinates a woman to a man. They advocate absolute freedom from and independence of the husband for his wife in respect to business, social position and love.

To an extent the modern Chinese women will go to exert their rights and break down the social barrier which prevents them from mixing with men, may be indicated by the fact that a group of leaders among them not long ago, in an endeavor to cure the more conservative women of shyness, ordered a procession of naked females.

While this did not actually take place due to protests from various quarters, it is a fact that public lectures by nude women were indulged in, in connection with the movement to have the foot-binding custom abolished.

Let us hope that in time to come the new women of China will attain sufficient power to exert themselves in all fields and to assist their husbands and brothers to bring about a true Chinese motion pictures.

SANTA MARIA JAPANESE IN CELEBRATION

TAKE PART IN BIG ARMISTICE DAY PARADE HERE

SANTA MARIA—The residents of this district will witness one of the biggest celebration ever staged in the city of Santa Maria today in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

The Japanese of this district will be represented in the celebration, as the local Japanese Association will have a peace tower in the great parade, which will start from 10 a.m.

Some ten towns of this region will participate in the parade, and some thirty floats are scheduled to make the grand spectacle along the Main street. A prize of $100 for first, $50 for second, and $50 for third place will be awarded by the sponsoring officials.

Fresnans To Play All-Stars Sunday

FRESNO—Having satisfactorily vanquished the Yamato's for the northern state championship, the local Taikyu boys are now out to take revenge of the previous defeat suffered at the hands of the All-stars of the Raisin Belt. They will play the All-stars next Sunday (November 13) at the Firemen's ground. The game will start at 2 p.m.

Efrem Zimbalist Will Visit Japan

TOKYO, November 10—Efrem Zimbalist, noted American violinist, is scheduled to arrive here November 22. He will give a number of concerts in this country and will appear in the Capital at the Imperial Theater. This is Zimbalist's second visit to Japan.

Koba To Head Boys' Program

TOKYO, November 10—Baron Disinheritor Heir Who Elope

At the meeting of the Boys' Work Directors and Secretaries last Monday, Fred Koba, Boys' Work Director of the Japanese Y. M. C. A. was put in charge of the Hi-Comrade program for the northern section.

Many important items were discussed relating to boy behavior, boy welfare, the need of men leadership, responsibilities of a leader, and duties of committee men.

While this did not actually take place due to protests from various quarters, it is a fact that public lectures by nude women were indulged in, in connection with the movement to have the foot-binding custom abolished.

Let us hope that in time to come Tomatsu has disillusioned his son and heir who recently eloped with Miss Yoshiko Okada, noted screen star and caused a sensation in social circles. Tomatsu is one of the few titled persons in Japanese motion pictures.

BUDDHIST TO FETE 1ST YEAR

Templars Plan For First Annual Fete

STOCKTON, Nov. 11—Seems like a few days ago that the Japanese community here was planning and negotiating a drive for the erection of the present Buddhist Church on Washington street. Now the same people are to celebrate their first anniversary of the gorgeous edifice.

This building is the pride of the neighborhood, looming and peeping thru the green foliage of the tall trees, adding a serene atmosphere to the somewhat drab environments. One can merely gaze upon the peerless structure and waste the lazy hours in quietude. Such are the unbiased descriptions of the church that these Japanese will tender warm reception this Sunday afternoon, November 13.

Starting from 1 p.m. the formal shiki will be observed terminating with the evening supper and concluding with the second shiki later in the night.

Comprising the forenoon program, the ecclesiastics of major cities have been engaged to deliver congratulatory addresses. From seven o'clock the program is continued with speeches of the representing delegates. The local Busy Bee girls have, in the meanwhile, planned for entertainments.

The general public, especially the young men, has however shown its whole hearted approval of the project and has given proof of its support by sending in contributions, many of them small sums not exceeding ten yen, but which, very probably, mean great sacrifices to the donors, who presumably take them from their meager salaries.

A touching example of the interest of the younger generation has in the attempt was made public by Association authorities. A letter came from headmaster Ando of the Nakagawa-mura (Kanagawa Prefecture) Primary School, and contained a postal order for seventeen yen and twenty sen. The letter said that this money had been collected by the 650 pupils of the school who had captured insects in the rice fields and sold them to the Agricultural Association at the rate of ten for one sen.

The unlimited team of the Japanese "Y" will enter the Y.M.C.A. Branch Tournament which will start next month.

JAPAN PLANS TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT, 1928

PLANE, K. 12, TO WEIGH FIVE TONS WHEN LOADED

TOKYO—Designed to carry three and a half tons of gasoline, which would enable it to span 830 kilometers, the distance between Tokyo and Seattle, without refueling, and weighing five tons when fully loaded, the K. 12, the newly designed plane, has been decided upon to attempt the trans-Pacific flight in early part of next year, according to a recent announcement by the officials of the Imperial Aviation Association, who are sponsoring this flight.

In complete contrast with foreign millionaires, who have taken the lead in the promotion of aviation, as proved in recent months by the accomplishments of Edward F. Schlee and Charles Levine, both wealthy Americans, wealthy Japanese have been indifferent regarding the enterprise of the Association to the great surprise and disgust of the officials, who do not conceal their opinion of such an attitude.
