BURGLARS ACTIVE IN UPTOWN

3 Cases Reported In Japanese Section Of This City

The number of petty thefts in this city is becoming alarming, with three cases developing in the uptown Japanese community in the last two days.

The case of Sing Ling, who was caught stealing out of the bed chamber in the home of Koshiro Nakabayashi Wednesday morning, was brought before Police Judge Golden for trial yesterday morning.

Ling, a Hawaiian born Chinese who came to this country about five years ago, was identified as the same culprit who stole $45 recently from the home of Toyoji Kaneko, member of the staff of the local Japanese Consulate General.

Because of lack of direct evidence Sing was not convicted previously in connection with the robbery of Kaneko home, but Nakabayashi, who was responsible for the capture of Ling the second time after a brisk chase up Pine street Wednesday, declared that he intends to prosecute the burglar to the limit and thus discourage the series of lawlessness going on in the Japanese community.

At the time of his capture Ling had in his possession one dollar worth of five cent pieces which he had evidently taken from the bed chamber of Nakabayashi, and as a bit of convincing evidence it was noted that a Japanese copper cent was included in the bunch of nickels in his possession. Ling had only $1.42 in his pockets. He will face another trial in the Superior court.

The second case of theft was one occurring at the Doi Ice Cream Shop, 2174 Buchanan street, Friday afternoon about one o'clock. Two burglars, Ginzales and Phillip Arreco, invaded the store and made off with four large boxes of cigarettes. They were caught by the Bash street station, where after a trial they were sent to the county jail. Ginzales' sentence was thirty days, while Phillip Arreco, a frequent offender, was given ninety days.

The third case was the attempted invasion of the home of Shigeo Morishita, 537 Olive street, by a suspicious looking negro burglar, who tried breaking into the kitchen through the back door Thursday afternoon about half-past one. Mrs. Morishita, who was upstairs at the time of the incident, hurried downstairs and called for help. The negro fled.

NICHI-BEI TO ISSUE BIG NEW YEAR EDITION

PROMINENT WRITERS TO CONTRIBUTE TO OUR SECTION

The English section of the Japanese American News has been growing year by year, and we are planning upon further extension some time early next year. As to our New Year edition, the English section will consist of three full pages of reading matter devoted to topics of vital interest to the second-generation young people of the Coast.

Some of the features of that edition are articles by Dr. Ng Poon Chew, editor of the Chung Sai Yat Po, a Chinese daily paper in this city; Herbert Kiyoshi Terakawa, post graduate student at Stanford and head of the Y.M.B.A. League of North America; Dr. Frank Heron Smith, superintendent of the Pacific Coast Japanese Mission of the Methodist Church; Kimpel Sheba, journalist from Japan; Henry Takahashi, local second-generation business man; and Saburo Kido, young Japanese lawyer of this city. We are also planning upon other articles by prominent university professors and young second-generation members.

Besides these articles, the New Year number will contain the announcement of the prize winners of our English essay contest, together with the winning essays. These are some of the attractive features of the forthcoming special edition to appear on January 1, 1928. Watch for it!

BIG STRIDE IN JAPAN'S PROGRESS

Japanese Described By Friendship Booklet

"Welcome to the American Doll Messengers" is the title of an interesting booklet brought to this country by Ryukichi Sekiya, former head of the general education bureau of the Japanese government, who brought over "Miss Nippon" and fifty seven other Japanese doll-messengers returning courtesies to America. These dolls are now in Los Angeles on a tour of America to extend Japan's greetings to the children of America.

The "Friendship Booklet" contains many interesting world pictures of Japan for the benefit of the American children. As understanding is the basis of international peace, these booklets aim to inform the young Americans the situation in Japan. We quote the following:

"In new Japan you will find almost everything that you have in your country—trains, steam-trains, automobiles, air-planes, air-ships, carriages, steam-boats, war-ships, submarines, telephones, telegraph lines, and the radio, etc.

Every necessary convenience, and even many things unnecessary for life in the modern civilized world may be found in Japan. Japan has, indeed, all the national and social provisions of America and Europe, and with a well-organized government may be ranked among the first-class powers of the western world.

"The railroad reaches every nook and corner of the empire in a complete network of lines. The equipment is steadily improving and the employees on the train are kind. And, there is little inconvenience in travelling in any part of the country.

"There are very good tram-car systems operated by the municipalities of all the large cities in this country. The streets are

ORATORICAL CONTEST IS POSTPONED

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA MEET POSTPONED TO NEXT SPRING

FRESNO—Because of lack of sufficient contestants, the Central California Japanese oratorical contest scheduled for December 10 at Fresno will be postponed to early next spring.

The contest was being sponsored by the four Japanese Associations of Central California. As no one from Tulare and Kings counties applied for participation, Shotoro Takigawa of Kern County who was scheduled to take part in the contest will be unable to do so, the officials decided that the contest should be postponed until next year.

Proto Election Planned For Sat.

The semi-annual officers' election of the local Y.M.B.A. Proto Club will be held tonight (Saturday) at the Buddhist Church starting from 8 p.m.

This meeting is the most important event of the year where capable officers must be appointed to carry on a heavier duty than ever before, and therefore all members are requested to show up without fail.

Crowded with automobiles playing their part in the noisy symphony peculiar to the streets of a large city. High speed car lines radiate out into the suburbs of large cities like Tokyo and Osaka, reaching the surrounding towns and villages. The connection between Tokyo and Yokohama is made by steam-trains and public and private high speed electric car lines.

"The same conveniences of rather better ones are provided in Osaka, Kyoto, and Kobe, the three largest cities in western Japan. In the course of a few years, our trains will be run by electricity thus getting rid of the uncomfortable soot and dust. Already a part of the main line along the Pacific coast has been electrified.

"This story about the transportation system is only one example of the ever changing Japan, and can be duplicated in about every phase of life. In connection with politics and education the Japanese spirit which we have cherished since the foundation of our Empire has within the past fifty years adopted the so-called scientific civilization from the West and has made the best possible use of it by applying it to our own life. In short, what we want to make clear to you is that modern Japan is a member of the family of the civilized nations, along with Europe and America; the romantic Japan of the far eastern seas that was found some sixty years ago is gone forever, having been changed into a new country of the radio and the air-plane."

CONSUL GENERAL ARRIVES

Ida Arrived Here On Korea Maru Yesterday

"While marriage is an individual problem and is happily consummated by personal contact and friendship, I am seriously studying the possibilities of marriages between Japanese young men of the continent with second-generation girls of Hawaii, and I may have plans in the future for encouraging such unions," declared Morizo Ida, newly appointed Consul General of San Francisco, who arrived on the N.Y.K. liner Korea Maru yesterday morning about ten o'clock at pier No. 34.

Mr. Ida is a robust and vigorous man of cheerful disposition, with a very pleasant manner. Until his appointment to the San Francisco post, he was Consul General at Batavia in the Dutch East Indies, where he served for three years. He arrived here alone, leaving his wife and children in Japan.

"I wish to greet the second-generation Japanese of the Coast," Ida declared in the Japanese American interview. "I am not personally in favor of the old style diplomats' good will propaganda conducted by utterances alone. While I am here I shall work toward furthering Japanese-American friendship not only in words but also in deeds."

On the subject of hobbies, Ida declared that he believes in keeping physically fit. He is an ardent devotee of the Judo, and he expects to take up golf as soon as possible. As he will be alone in the big building of the consulate residence of the Consul General at the corner of Laguna and Washington streets, he expects to have plenty of room for his physical culture work.

"Seventeen years ago," declared Mr. Ida, "I was here in San Francisco in the capacity of Vice-Consul. I was then living in Berkeley. After returning to Japan for my wife, I was transferred to Portland as a consul there. Altogether I stayed on this Coast five years before I was transferred to Europe.

"During the war I represented Japan in diplomatic capacity in both France and Switzerland, and I was a member of the Japanese delegation to the Versailles Conference after the war. Since then, I have been to Berlin, Vienna, Stockholm, and Warsaw as first secretary to the various Japanese legations and embassies in these cities. While in Warsaw I became acquainted with Hugh Gibson, America's chief delegate to the recent naval conference, who was at that time American Minister to Poland. Altogether I was in Europe eight years before my appointment to the post in Batavia.
