Mis-Education Is Problem Of Orient

THE DIET DISSOLUTION.

The Imperial Diet of Japan has been dissolved by His Imperial Majesty the Emperor...

It is too early yet to discuss the outcome of the general election...

The public has commenced to grow weary of the Seiyukai and would probably have swung in large numbers to the Minseitō had the Diet continued in session...

The only thing to be regretted is that the dissolution came before the presentation of the Seiyukai's land tax transfer proposals...

House. This naturally has not given the opposition an opportunity to express its stand on the question...

Immigration Act Still Stirs Japan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Touching on relations with the United States in a speech before the Diet, Baron Tanaka, Foreign Minister of Japan, declared that "it is to be regretted that the question of discriminatory legislation against immigration pending for the past several years still remains unsolved."

An abstract of the speech, as made public tonight by the Japanese Embassy, showed that he added: "I should state, however, that mutual understanding and sympathy of the American and Japanese peoples, which are essential to the solution of such questions, are gradually growing."

Reviews Vain Efforts Reviewing the unsuccessful efforts of the United States, Great Britain and Japan to reach a naval agreement at Geneva, Baron Tanaka said he believed "Japan's fair and just stand toward the question of armament limitation and her sincere efforts for the promotion of universal peace at that memorable international gathering were fully recognized by the world at large."

L. A. Hoop Team To Invade Bay District In Feb.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15—Immediately after the last of the finals on February 4, the eleven members composing the Japanese basketball team of this city will drop their books, pencils and all the implements of study and leave for Oakland where they will schedule games with the stellar aggregations of the Bay region hoopster.

As far as tentative dopes go, they will make ready for their Northern invasion on Saturday night and reach their destination on the following day, February 5. The team is under the vigilant guidance of Coach Tep Ishimaru, formerly of University of California, and at present a prominent businessman of this city. He will not accompany the team due to his business engagements.

Games and other affairs in the Bay region will be arranged by Ken Iino, president of the U. C. Student Club of Berkeley. As yet no definite schedule has been made, but it is probable that games will be played against the U. C. Japanese team, Showa Athletic Club, Japanese Y. M. C. A. and other fast Bay district teams. The local boys will remain up North for one week.

Selich Nobe, president of the Bruin Club, will act as manager, assisted by Jimmy Kobata and Saburo Fujise.

Players who will make the trip is as follows:

Forwards Kay Sugahara, Charles Hisatomi, Masao Satow, and Henry Tsurutani.

Centers Taizo Saito and Haruo Okazaki.

Guards Tom Abe (captain) Ben Nakano, Yoshi Tamura, Jack Hirose, and Fred Fujikawa.

Japanese Boxer Defeats Filipino

Kaneo Nakamura, 20 year old Japanese professional feather-weight boxer, scored a technical knockout over George Williams, a Filipino, last Friday night at the Golden Gate Arena, in the second stanza of a four round bout.

Nakamura, using his specialty a left upper-cut to the jaw, out-classed Williams to such an extent that the referee stopped the contest and declared the Japanese the winner.

stale, they have come to the point where nothing matters." Instances are cited of a young man trained in teaching, made a department clerk; of an engineer likewise made a clerk, in a non-engineering department; of another engineer forced to teach French and English. "Don't send students abroad," urges the Mail. "Save the Government's money and put an end to this spirit-breaking de-educationalizing system."

SESSHU'S NEW PLAY IS BIG HIT

Star May Present Play At Place Theatre, N.Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—The trial showing of Sesshu Hayakawa's production, "The Man Who Loved His Home," which was shown last night at the Tilyous Theatre, Coney Island, met with great success before a packed house.

Hayakawa, noted Japanese legitimate actor and former movie star, who is taking the leading role in the play, is now negotiating with the Keith Circuit for a contract. If the present negotiations are successfully terminated, he will begin his performance at the Place Theatre of this city from the week of January 29.

Hayakawa recently appeared in the leading role in a one-act drama "The Bandit Prince," which he wrote himself. The production met with great popularity in the leading cities of this country where it was given through the Orpheum circuit. Its appearance in San Francisco was greeted by many of his countrymen who witnessed the play.

WASEDA SCORES VICTORY OVER HONGANJI FIVE

OVERWHELMS BUDDHISTS BY SCORE OF 44-21

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22—Waseda University scored its seventh victory in California last Friday night by defeating the Southern California champions, the Nishi Honganji team of Los Angeles, by the one-sided count of 44-21.

By winning this contest Waseda has defeated practically all the strong Japanese teams in California.

"Bobbed Hair Is Here To Stay" — That's Good News!

"Bobbed hair is here to stay."

That is, if the statement issued by Eugene, famous coiffure style creator of London, Paris, and New York bears any weight.

"This unbobbed multitude," said Eugene, who has made the permanent wave a thing of beauty, "includes feminine backnumbers who are resigned to knitting needles and flaxseed tea, the aged and indigent and women in crossroad districts.

But even these survivors, it is safe to predict, will soon be inundated by the mighty tide of bobbing and permanent waving that is sweeping the country."

According to latest survey, more than 6,000,000 feminine heads were sheared of their crowning tresses in 1926 alone.

The bob has opened up opportunities for charming chic effects in feminine headgear that were impossible under the tyrannous regime of long hair. The permanent wave is one of the most feminine fashions which the bob permits. Eight out of every ten women with bobbed hair indulge in this coiffure beautifier every year.

With beauty, freedom of movement, and efficiency combined, the bobbed hair is no longer a mere craze, but here to stay for good. Not only brevity style is popular in United States, but is rapidly spreading to other countries. Japan is said to have gone completely under its spell. This is good news and insures healthy feminine population.

JAPANESE DIVA WINS PRAISES

Mme. Nambu Scores In "Madame Butterfly"

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22—"A rare find" is the comment given on Mme. Takane Nambu, long heralded prima donna of the Tokyo Imperial Theatre, who appeared in the title role of Puccini's famous opera "Madame Butterfly," which is being presented at the Academy of Music by the Philadelphia Opera Company.

"U di Vidremo" (one Fine Day) was most caressingly and effectively sung by Madame Nambu, and her admirable acting was commented on by the leading dailies of this city which congratulated Signora Guerrieri, wife of the conductor, for coaching the prima donna in the expression of the full sentiment and meaning for which the Japanese artist earned tremendous applause.

Before Nambu's debut here the only Nipponese ever to fill the role was Mme. Tamaki Miura, who was last heard here four years ago with the San Carlo Opera Company, which before the advent of our own home town's three companies, gave Philadelphians a short two weeks of opera each year for several years.

"Here's hoping we see Mme. Nambu often in the same role," remarks one of the leading newspaper here, and it further comments that Signor Guerrieri showed some virile conducting. The cast of the opera is as follows: Clo-Clo-San — Takane Nambu Suzuki — Mignor Sutorius Kate Pinkerton — Bertha McGrath B. F. Pinkerton Giuseppe Agostini Sharpless — Rudolph Hoyos Prince Yamadori Ivan Steschenko Bonze — Ivan Steschenko Goro — Alessandro Angelucci Imperial Commissioner E. TANKA

We are reprinting a group of tankas by the late Takuboku Ishikawa, who is regarded one of Japan's greatest modern poets. The translation was rendered by Tadokari of the Japan Times staff.

Weeping all day on the white sand Of a little tale by The Eastern Sea, I played with a lone crab.

I wrote the letter "dal" (great) A hundred times on the sand, And then gave up the desire To kill myself.

I listened to the boasting Of a conceited person— As an act of charity.

It seems all my ideas Are due to my poverty— The autumn wind is blowing.

WASEDA TO MAP NEW STRATEGY

New Style of Play Needed, Says Miyake

When the Waseda University basketball team, which has returned from Southern trip, makes its season trip to the United States next year it will be a much faster and heavier quintet, more fitted than the present five to cope with the tall American teams, according to Manager Miyake, an assistant professor at Waseda, who brought the Japanese boys to this country.

The present visit of the team has convinced Miyake of the necessity of developing a new type of game in so far as Japanese are concerned, for in his opinion it will be a physical impossibility to successfully compete with American teams, which average from six inches to a foot more in height than any Japanese organization, if the same tactics are to be employed by both teams.

Miyake will, therefore, select his team from among sprinters of the university, and while choosing the tallest men possible, he will develop a game in which the short stature of the Nipponese, which is at present their greatest handicap, will be employed to better advantage. A faster and headier team with more players able to negotiate "long shots" is Miyake's aim.

While the Waseda boys have lost every game in this section of the country against American teams thus far (except the one in San Jose), the Japanese cage mentor is not in the least pessimistic. Members of his team, he declares, have gained much in experience already and have improved with each game. And that, after all, was what the Waseda men came here for. They came knowing they would be outclassed, but determined to improve their game by being matched with more powerful aggregations than are to be found in the Far East.

Miyake is convinced that within the next two or three years a team will be developed in Japan which will be able to defeat any American team that may visit Nippon. In traveling, he claims, a team loses 25 per cent of its actual strength.

Basketball was not classed among the major sports in Japan up to the time of the departure of the Waseda quintet for this country. The visit to this country of the present team, without much ado or previous announcement, and its showing to date, have caused a sensation in Japanese sport circles.

Basketball was introduced into Japan about 20 years ago, but it was not until about six years ago that the game was taken up by the universities.
