TOKYO SET TO STAMP OUT REDS IN NIPPON MORE ARRESTS SEEN

Police Watching Suspects Very Closely

TOKYO, April 12—(Special)—Continuing their drive against communism, the authorities today arrested more suspects, including several students. Further arrests are expected.

With more than a thousand alleged reds already arrested in Japan during the last month, the government is believed to have the situation well in hand. No difficulties are expected at present, although the police are watching all suspects closely.

By Miles W. Vaughn
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, April 11—(UP)—Rumors that a severe strain might be placed on Russo-Japanese relations were widespread here today following publication in Tokyo of the news that a nationwide police raid on alleged radicals had resulted in the arrest of between 700 and 1,000 persons.

Foreign observers saw in the raids March 19 and in the news release at this time a political maneuver designed largely to influence the domestic and political situation and enable the government to obtain a stronger position in the special session of the Diet April 20.

Second Zinovieff Letter
In some quarters the raids were regarded as having the effect of a "second Zinovieff letter." (It will be recalled that publication of the famous Zinovieff letter urging British communists to foment unrest in the army turned the 1924 British general elections and enabled the Conservative Party to sweep the Labor Government out of power.)

Premier Baron Gichi Tanaka said he expected the Cabinet situation to be improved as a result of the raids.

SACRAMENTO TO HEAR ITS NIGHTINGALE

SACRAMENTO, April 12—On the eve of her Southern California concert tour, Miss Agnes Miyakawa, "Sacramento's nightingale," will appear in a concert Friday night at the local Japanese Church of Christ, Fifth and M Streets, at 8 o'clock, at the special request of a group of music lovers who recently organized a "koen-kai" to encourage and promote Miss Miyakawa's musical career.

Fowler Japanese To Spend Sunday Near Centerville

FOWLER, April 12—Japanese residents here will enjoy an all-day picnic at the foot of a hill about three miles north of Oak-park near Centerville Sunday, under the joint auspices of the Koyu Gakuen and the Fujin Kai of this city.

A great variety of prizes for the field events are being provided for by chairman of the committee, Sadahiko Oda.

HUNT TELLS TOUR PLANS

"Y" Boys Will See Much Of Japan In 21 Days

Edward Hunt, secretary of the Mission branch of the Y. M. C. A. who will head a group of 20 young men on a tour of the Far East in June, called at the offices of The Japanese American News yesterday and discussed plans for the proposed trip.

Hunt is receiving the co-operation of K. Tomizawa, executive secretary of the Japanese "Y" in having the party accorded the warmest of welcomes while in Nippon.

During the twenty-one days of their stay in the land of cherry blossoms, Hunt said the twenty boys would see practically all of the country, meet many of the prominent men and travel as guests of the Empire.

It is Hunt's hope to have one or two Japanese boys in the party. He urges members of the second generation here who plan trips to Japan in the near future, to consider the benefits that are being offered by the "Y" tour.

Miss Miyakawa is scheduled to sing in Fresno on April 20 and in Los Angeles on April 27 at the Union Church. She is planning upon a study trip to Europe in order to cultivate her voice some time late this fall or early next spring. Young Sacramentans are quite elated over having a talented singer appearing from among them.

MUSICIANS TO APPEAR AT Y. P. C. C.

Christian Parley To Be Featured By Concert

A treat to music lovers of the Bay region will be given Sunday evening from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock at the local Reformed Church as one of the features of the big two-day conference of young Japanese Christians of bay district cities.

The program will be exclusively classical according to Miss Sada Onoye, music chairman. Some of the most accomplished musicians of the Bay district will render their favorite selections.

A feature of the program will be the singing of Negro spirituals by the Alameda Japanese choir. Miss Saku Baba of San Francisco will give several piano renditions, while George Furuta, second generation baritone of Oakland, will sing classical songs.

Contributions by Miss Vera Tanaka on the piano and Milton Kitano on the violin will be the other features of the program.

The two-day Christian Conference will start Saturday morning with registration at 10:30 o'clock, and practically every Christian young people's organization of San Francisco, Berkeley, Alameda, San Mateo, and Petaluma are expected to send delegates.

Saturday's program follows:

English Section Growth Acclaimed; Paper Enters L. A. Public Library As One Of Selected Newspapers

The recent enlargement of the English Section of The Japanese American News is being greeted with cheering commendation and praise from readers not alone in Bay District cities, but in Southern California as well.

Reports received here from the Los Angeles bureau of this paper yesterday state that by virtue of its enlarged English section, The Japanese American News has been accepted as one of a group of selected newspapers now on file in the Public Library that city.

Numbers of second generation members in the southern city have also expressed their appreciation of the new English Section.

BABY LOSES CITIZENSHIP

Birth On U. S. Ship Does Not Alter Nationality

Holding that a child born on an American ship at sea is not a birth in the United States within the meaning of the federal constitution, the circuit court of appeal for the ninth circuit recently denied a Chinese child the right of citizenship. The child was born on a Dollar liner, of alien parentage, while the ship was on its way from China to San Francisco.

The appellant based his case on the fourteenth amendment to the constitution, contending that a merchant ship is to be considered a part of the territory of the country under whose flag she sails.

BUDDHISM DEFENDED BY WRITER

More Believe In Gotama Than In Jesus Christ

(The following defense of Buddhism and its comparison with Christianity, written by J. Takakusu and is published in The Japanese American News wholly because of its news interest. This paper does not necessarily support Mr. Takakusu's views.—Editor.)

Statistical returns, though rather old, as they were prepared some thirty years ago, show that Christianity, including Protestantism and Catholicism, possessed 327 million followers.

Against these figures, Buddhists numbered roughly 500 millions. Now the total population of the world being 1,250 millions, 40 per cent. of them are believers in the religion founded by Gautama, while 26 are adherents of one originated by Jesus Christ. Formerly, however, numbers were not considered as much important by the Christians of the West. "What is the use of comparing numbers?" they used to say, "for they tell nothing."

Mixture Of Doctrines
Civilized religion is pure, monochromatic, while uncivilized religion is a mixture of various doctrines. It is impure in faith, because it sometimes is Buddhism and Confucianism combined, sometimes Buddhism joined together with Shintoism, and so forth.

Now, when belief in monochromatic Christianity has begun to wane, when one looks at it as appears as though polychromatic religion is deeper in faith and might survive after the former is long dead. No intelligent man now thinks of calling one religion civilized and another uncivilized.

OUR JUNIOR SECTION

Thank you, everyone. We've got a whole flock of letters today and are publishing three of the best. The first is from Motoe Ariomi, age 12, of E. I. Box 109A, Campbell, Calif. Here is one of Motoe's riddles:

Why are traffic cops so fat?
Answer: Because they eat so many traffic jams.

And here is a poem, a really good one, by Motoe. It entitled "My Little Puppy Dog."

I'm just a little puppy as good as good can be.

And why they call me naughty I'm sure I cannot see.

I've only carried off one shoe And torn the baby's hat

And chased the ducks and spilled the milk there's nothing bad in that!

Your poem, Motoe, is well written except for the last two lines which are a little awkward. But thank you just the same.

Here is a letter from Kumi Torashii, of 627, 8th Street, Modesto, California:

Dear Junior Editor,

I have been reading The Japanese American News on the side that is printed in English. I have read the Junior Section and I want to join. I am thirteen years old. Although I am a girl I shall write, "A Boy's Essay on Girls."

"A Boy's Essay on Girls"

Girls are very stuck up and dignified in their manner and behavior. They think more of dresses than anything and like to play with dolls and rags. They cry if they see a cow and are afraid of guns. They stay at home all the time and go to church every Sunday. They are always sick. They are always funny and make fun of boys hands and they say, "how dirty." They can't play marbles. I pity them, poor things. They make fun of boys and turn around and love them. I don't believe they ever killed a cat or anything. There is one thing I have not told and that is they always know their lessons better'n boys.

Naughty! Naughty! Kumi. But anyway we liked your essay, and we hope a boy will write us a Girl's Essay on Boys.

Our last letter is from Kazu Moriyama, 12 years of age, of 1797 Sutter Street. Kazu's birthday was on March 5.

As we have no space today, we'll publish some of Kazu's jokes tomorrow.

Now all junior readers, don't forget, when writing, to give your names, addresses, ages and birthdays. And those who haven't written us yet, don't be afraid to do so. You're all welcome to join us. Address your letters to: Junior Editor, The Japanese American News, 650 Ellis Street, San Francisco.

BILL TO LIFT BAN ON BRIDES FROM JAPAN OF U. S. CITIZENS BLOCKED

Action Of Congress Doubtful As Opposition Develops In Washington; Fear "Picture Bride" Practice Would Be Renewed

WASHINGTON, April 11—The proposal to amend the immigration law so that the Asiatic wife of an American citizen of Oriental extraction would be permitted to enter this country for residence purposes, does not meet with approval of the House Immigration committee, and it now appears unlikely that any action will be taken at this session of Congress.

Blazing Arrow Clubs Entered In Track Meet

The Blazing Arrow Clubs of the local Japanese "Y" Boys' Division are again entered in the Y. M. C. A. track and field meet to be held April 21, and are expected to carry off high honors again this year.

This year the competition will be keener with four strong teams contending for the championship.

Weighing in for this track meet will be held at the Central "Y" Friday and Saturday, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

All B. A. members are asked by the secretary to weigh in for this track meet.

NAKAMURA IS VICTOR AGAIN IN FIST FIGHT

YOUNG UNDEFEATED INVADER MAKES IT ELEVEN STRAIGHT

OAKLAND, April 12—Kaneo Nakamura, undefeated Japanese boxer last night won his eleventh straight victory here by a technical knockout in the second round of a scheduled four round preliminary bout against Al Remy, in the Civic Auditorium.

Nakamura scored a knockdown in the first and second rounds. Referee White stopped the bout.

In the main event Jimmy Duffy of Oakland won on a foul from Young Jack Thompson in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

Nakamura's next fight will probably be in San Jose April 16, followed by his appearance in a preliminary in the Armand Emanuel-Mike McTeague fight to be held in the state armory, San Francisco, April 16.

WELL PLANNED FROCK LOSES NO SMARTNESS

A well designed frock should lose no smartness when its back is turned. The planning of the back details is just as important as the planning of those in front. This fact is not neglected in the model above. The circular cape-back, which will be very smart this spring and summer, falls to the sash at the hips. A tunic starting from either side in the back hangs below the hem in a circular flare at the left side which immediately puts the frock in the class for formal afternoon wear. Crepe satin is the smartest material for this type of dress. Printed silks transform it into a less formal and more summery frock.

Historical Standpoint
Seen from the standpoint of the history of religions, it looks as if religion should advance from polytheism toward monotheism, from monotheism towards pantheism, from pantheism towards rationalism. In such matters, however, there is no fixed rule or order, students of religion being entirely at liberty to set forth whatever theory they consider as right and correct. Especially is it so with religious faith of people at large.

Students Club Meet Postponed

SACRAMENTO, April 12—The regular meeting of the Japanese Club, which was to be held Friday, will be postponed a day, because the former date conflicts with Miss Agnes Miyakawa's concert. The meeting will be held at the M. E. Church, Fourth and O Streets, at 7:30 o'clock.

Kojima Collection Shown In Tokyo

TOKYO, April 7—Rare color prints in the collection owned by Usui Kojima, former San Francisco manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank, an authority on Japanese art are being exhibited by the Tokyo Asahi, one of Japan's leading newspapers.

The collection is made up of about 400 valuable prints collected abroad.
