JAPAN

And Things Japanese Japan and Things Japanese, a section devoted to present-day news and views, and ancient facts, regarding the Japanese people and their country, is a regular feature of the English Section.

WHY PERRY CAME TO JAPAN

By SOHO TOKUTOMI (Continued from yesterday)

Townsend Harris. Judged from results, Commodore Perry's act of forcing Japan to open her doors does not differ in nature from the act of I Kamon who signed the Ansei treaty because of the threat of Townsend Harris. Result is one thing but motive quite another. We must show gratitude when it is properly claimed. Offering thanks in hypocrisy is to be detested.

I must be more specific about the part, Commodore Perry played in fanning the anti-foreign sentiment during the last years of the Tokugawa Shogunate. It was his haughty attitude which was mainly responsible for his untoward influence upon the minds of the Japanese. Nagasaki was the only port where the government allowed foreign vessels to enter. But Commodore Perry disregarded the law and sovereign rights of Japan.

Russian Envoy Comes. During the Bunka Era (1804-1817) Lezanoff, a Russian envoy came to Nagasaki to negotiate the question of trade ports. It was on June 3, the 6th year of the Kaiji Era (1853), that Commodore Perry arrived at Uraga, and it was on July 17 in the same year that Puchan, another Russian envoy, arrived at Nagasaki. He could have gone to Uraga or steered his warships into the interior of Edo Bay. But he remained in Nagasaki in strict obedience to our law till the end of the same year.

Commodore Perry, on the other hand, came to Japan with a determination to disregard our laws if necessary. True, he did not come to conquer or invade our land. His object was peace, but he used means which was opposed to peace. He felt that no headway could be made with Japan if pacific methods were employed. He thought also that in dealing with the Japanese who, in his own words, were "smart" and "crafty" the display of force was necessary. With this realization, he left the United States for a little island nation in the Orient. He had no intention to occupy the interior of Japan, but he was ready for the occupation of the Loo-choo islands. He was also in favor of making the Bonin island American colonies and made a recommendation to that effect to the American government. His strong attitude indicated that he might

EMPEROR'S KIN TARGET OF FANATIC KNIFE CAST BY KOREAN AT PRINCE KUNI

TOKYO, June 14.—(Special)—Prince Kunyoshi Kuni, father of Her Imperial Majesty the Empress, was the target of an assassin during his visit to Formosa on May 16, it was learned today when the press ban on news of the attempt was lifted.

A Korean rushed at Prince Kuni's automobile and hurled a dagger as the Imperial visitor was enroute from the official residence of the Governor of Taiichu to the railway station at 9:55 o'clock on the morning of May 16. The prince was not injured.

Mitsunoshin Kamiyama, governor-general of Formosa resigned as a result of the affair.

T. Kawamura, former president of the South Manchuria Railway Company has been appointed Kamiyama's successor and will receive his official appointment from the Emperor tomorrow morning.

DINUBA M. E. CHURCH FETES 8 GRADUATES

DINUBA, June 13.—(Special)—Four Japanese high school and four grammar school graduates of this city were feted at a graduation party held in their honor at the local Japanese M. E. Church during the week end.

The honor guests were: high school graduates—Takeshi Yamaguchi, Tom Morishima, Miss Kimiko Okasaki, and Miss Fujiye Okasaki; grammar school graduates—Dick Koga, Miss Edith Yokoyama, Miss Lily Tashiro and Miss Shigeko Yonemura.

Congratulatory speeches were delivered by Henry Y. Furubayashi, D. Uyeno, S. Hanada, and Rev. S. Oishi. Takeshi Yamaguchi responded in behalf of the graduates, while K. Okasaki spoke in behalf of the parents of the graduates.

Junior Epworth League has just been organized by young people of the Japanese M. E. Church South. The following are the members: Eddie Nagata, Satochi Yokoyama, Masami Okasaki, Tsuyako Nagata, Kasuyo Uyeno, Shizuko Uyeno, Chiko Yokoyama, Keiko Hanafusa, and Honey Toda. The officers are president, Eddie Nagata; vice-president, Satochi Yokoyama; secretary, Tsuyako Nagata; and treasurer, Keiko Hanafusa.

Have fired upon the city of Edo if necessary. Not only did he indicate such a warlike determination, but he also made a declaration to that effect.

Blazing Arrow Bear Cubs Take Baseball Title

Winning two games in the final round the Blazing Arrow Bear Cubs took the city "Y" indoor baseball title for the Friendly Indian group for the second consecutive time. JOURNALIST VISITS CITY

Vice-President of Hochi Talks On Newspapers

"Japanese newspapers are keeping astride with the rest of the world. Their tendency today is to grow more and more impartial on matters of politics," declared Masataka Ota, vice-president of the Hochi Shinbun, Tokyo, yesterday in an interview with the Japanese American News.

"Metropolitan newspapers are trying to concentrate upon the first page story which is of national importance. It is not a bit uncommon for one paper to send fifty reporters on automobiles, who often sleep in the car when hotel accommodations are unavailable."

Ota intends to study economy problems as applied to journalism. He stated that the Japanese as a whole are not well informed on this question, and what has been printed makes use of technical phrases and academic Japanese. "The paper of tomorrow must make this paper understandable to the average reader," he added.

"The labor classes and their problems are beginning to be quite important."

"Oh, yes, about the sensational story," he exclaimed, "but of course you know that this style of writing has been imported. All the city editors of large papers," he continued, "are trying to be conservative."

Ota has been in this country before. He was in Germany before the war working for the Treasury department of the Japanese Government.

He is planning to go to New York, France, Germany, and return to Japan early next year going by way of Russia, after a short stay in Russia.

RELIGIOUS PARLEY IS DENOUNCED

Christians, Buddhists, Shintoists, Hold Confab

TOKYO, June 8.—The General Conference of Japanese Faiths, in which Buddhists, Shintoists and Christians participated in an effort to achieve closer union in social, moral and educational work, ended today in scenes of disorder caused by gangs of bullies brought in by the Kengo-kukai, an ultra-patriotic association which earned much notoriety in the recent election.

The final meeting was a joint session at which reports on religious and moral education were presented and resolutions passed on international peace and similar subjects. When the peace resolutions were reached the bullies stormed the platform and strewed the delegates as "hired clowns of foreign nations." They demanded that all the resolutions be canceled except the one deploring racial discrimination.

After considerable uproar all resolutions were carried by acclamation and the proceedings ended by singing the national anthem, in which the bullies joined in.

An odd episode was the appointment of a committee to investigate a charge that the Mayor of Tokyo did not join in singing the national anthem on the opening day. The Mayor gravely replied that he was unaccustomed to singing aloud, but had been singing in his heart.

Despite the organized interruption by a small number of professional patriots, the conference, which was the first of its kind held in Japan, was an interesting example of how different creeds can combine for moral and social reforms. No foreign missionaries participated, although many were interested listeners.

JAPAN BOY IS PRAISED BY OFFICIAL

I. Misumi Is Awarded Scholarship Diploma

Before two thousand assembled San Franciscans Ichiro Misumi, local boy, will appear in a piano recital given by pupils of Mrs. Hugo Mansfeldt Friday evening at 8:15 p. m. at the Mansfeldt Piano school, 238 Cole Street.

She will play "Arabesque," a very popular French number by Debussy, and "The Blue Flame" and "Japanese Ballad" by Kosak Yamada, one of the outstanding modern composers of Nippon. Miss Baba was one of the finalists in the city-wide piano contest conducted by the Call last year.

Standing at the top of a class of 228 students, Misumi achieved the highest scholastic record in the history of Polytechnic High.

McGlade reminded his audience that the youth, Ichiro Misumi, made that record while completing his four year course in three and one-half years.

"This achievement," McGlade continued, "is illustrative of the quality of mind which pushed Japan on with such marvelous rapidity to the foremost rank among the nations of the world. Japan, with an educational system second to none, is destined to be a great nation."

L. A. SCHOOL HONORS GIRL

Misao Yasaki To Deliver Graduation Speech

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—(Special)—Her exceptionally high scholarship and her brilliant essay on "Education and World Peace Movement," won for Miss Misao Yasaki, 14, the honor of delivering the graduation speech at the commencement exercises at John Forsyth high school to be held in the school auditorium on the evening of June 28.

Miss Yasaki's selection was made out of 415 graduating students of the school. She is one of the two Japanese in the honor roll of students. The final choice was made when six other speakers, selected through a series of eliminations, presented their essays for the honor of delivering the graduation speech. Miss Yasaki won first preference from the judges. She is the second in her family to be accorded this honor, her elder brother Norio, having been the graduation speaker previously.

Besides Miss Yasaki another girl was given mention in the scholarship honor roll. Her name is Miss Ida Takeuchi. The Japanese graduates this term are: Suyo Saito, Henry Hasegawa, Noboru Tamura, Ruth Kojima, Dorothy Kojima, Alice Iseri, and Ikuko Mansho.

OUR JUNIOR SECTION

Why is a wig like a lie? asks Yoshiye Takata. Answer: because it's a false hood.

Teruye Yemoto writes in to tell us that she has joined two clubs this year, our Junior Section and the C. F. G. She also says she has written some signs, including this one:

FOR SALE: a second hand brass bed, mattresses, spring and other musical instruments.

You certainly seem to have a good sense of humor, Teruye.

Funiye Hasegawa sends in this riddle: A man was locked in an iron house that had no doors or windows or chimneys. All he had was a baseball bat and a ball. How did he manage to get out? Answer: 1-2-3 strikes, and he was out.

Altko Yamamoto, thanks for your letter. We're glad to hear you're trying to get a camera, and that you want black and white red (read) all over for our club colors.

We are keeping our new letters on the votes until we finish up with letters we've had on hand since last week.

Shirine Flora Betty Kawahara, won't you write in again? We have your name but have misplaced your letter.

Tomi Yatabe wants to know how long members can stay in this club. She says most clubs usually have a certain age limit.

The age limits of the Junior Club

Planes Used, However, Are Old Models

"Japanese aviators are all experts. They perform almost any sort of aerial feat, and their planes are kept in the best of condition," Art Goebel, winner of the Dola flight to Hawaii last year, who returned from a trip to Japan Wednesday on the Dollar liner President Grant, said yesterday in an interview with The Japanese American News.

"The planes I saw were all training ships and were of the old model, the motors were especially so," Goebel declared. "But," he continued, "some of the planes that have been repaired were equipped with the latest model motors and improved new parts, so apparently they must have new planes too. For training purposes their planes are sufficient," he added.

"The fields are just like inner grounds of a hotel—smooth, you know—and every plane was well taken care of."

Conditions Excellent. The intrepid aviator said that as far as he could find out, flying conditions were very good in Japan.

"I certainly was honored," he went on. "Three generals went up with me on one occasion, and I was invited to the garden party of the Emperor."

"I was given a Japanese helmet, what you call 'Kabuto,' and believe me, I treasure it more than any silver cups I have been presented with."

"I was greatly surprised," he said "when I arrived in your country. It was a royal welcome. Students and citizens thronged to see us, and soldiers were on guard as we went to the fields on special trains and cars."

Children Interested. "What impressed me most was the interest in aviation of the school children. I never will be able to see as many children assemble in an aerodrome again. I think it is a wonderful thing that they take such a liking to aviation."

"Few people know," he confided, "but I was raised in Colorado and have known many Japanese. They are all kind and cordial. But I never dreamed I would be accorded such a warm welcome in Japan."

THE ROMANCE OF JAPAN

Through the Ages

By JAMES A. B. SCHERER

An Interpretive Outline of the Story of Japan from the Introduction of Buddhism in 552 A. D. to the Passage of the Manhood Suffrage Act in 1925.

Love of poetry was part of the chivalrous code of all ancient Japanese warriors. This code, although unwritten fairly sparkled with maxims, one of which taught: "Though they come stealing to your bedside in the silent watches of the night, drive not away, but rather cherish these: the fragrance of flowers, the sound of distant bells, the insects humming of a frosty night!"

Yoshiye, the first full-grown exemplar of Bushido, converted his wandering camps in the mountains and moors of northern Japan into a high type of military school, where his young knights were trained not only in music and poetry, archery and wrestling, fencing and jujitsu, horsemanship and the use of the spear, but in Frugality, Self-control, Magnanimity, and Modesty.

Most beautiful of all the bushi poems that have come down to us is one found in the helmet of a soldier beheaded in one of Yoshiyuki's battles. He had evidently composed it during a lonely march through the forest. It is as dainty and fresh as a spray of wild cherry blossoms.
