KUBOTA PEACE PLANE TO WELCOME JAPAN ENVOY AS LINER STEAMS INTO PORT

Notables Will Attend Brilliant Fete at Fairmont

With the peace plane of Irving and Kubota circling beyond Golden Gate to extend the welcome of America, N. Y. K. liner's stately ship Shinjo Maru will steam into San Francisco port Friday morning bearing Ambassador Debuchi, Mrs. Debuchi and their children.

Upon their arrival at the pier they will immediately proceed to Fairmont Hotel.

At noon Ambassador Debuchi will be the guest at a luncheon to be sponsored by the Japanese Relations Committee of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

At four o'clock the Ambassador will be honored at a brilliant reception in which one thousand leading Japanese and Americans will pay respect to the distinguished visitor. The affair is being sponsored by Consul General Morikazu Ida.

In the evening he will be feted as a banquet given in his honor by Alfred Holman, director of the Carnegie International Peace Foundation, at Fairmont Hotel. The affair will be attended by about 250 prominent Japanese and American residents here.

The ambassadorial party will leave for Washington Saturday afternoon by way of Chicago.

U. S. COURT HEARS CASE

Webb Presents Argument for State At Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(Special)—In presenting arguments for the State of California in the case involving the right of alien Japanese to form a corporation in Los Angeles to run a hospital, Attorney General U. S. Webb contended before the Supreme Court that the Japanese American Treaty of Commerce and Navigation never granted Japanese right to do corporate business.

Following the presentation of the arguments of the state, the Supreme Court refused to hear the arguments of the defense, which is taken as a virtual victory for the Japanese, and the court will presumably dismiss the appeal formally next week.

LOCAL BOYS AT Y CONFAB

Three Japanese Will Attend Officer's Training Camp

Japanese Y. M. C. A. will be represented by three delegates at the fourth annual Y. M. C. A. Boys' Club Officers Training Camp which started its three-day session Friday evening at Angel Island.

The Japanese delegates from this city included Dave Tatsuno, president of the Pioneers, and William Enomoto and Masao Yamazaki, members of the Pioneer Council.

Although the Comrades are also required to attend this conference, they will be unable to do so due to the fact that they will participate in the Fourth Annual Japanese Young People's Christian Conference convening in Berkeley October 12, 13, 14.

Wilbur Takiguchi, member of the Comrade Club, won the first prize in the world series baseball contest sponsored by the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. Takiguchi won by placing 37 points. Kiyoshi Fujita, who took the second place, gained 28 points, while Masaji Honda with 25 points placed third.

Fifty two boys participated in this annual contest.

UCHIDA SETS SAIL ABOARD KOREA MARU

Huge Crowd Bid Farewell to Japanese Peace Envoy

With what is said to be the largest crowd ever gathered at the N. Y. K. pier bidding them farewell, Count Yasuya Uchida and his staff, Kaju Nakamura, former member of Parliament, and 37 members of the kengakudan, led by M. Saito, left this port for Nippon Wednesday aboard the Korea Maru.

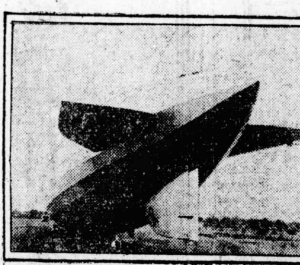

Count Uchida, who signed the Kellogg-Briand pact for the renunciation of war in behalf of the Japanese government, said that he enjoyed his visit to San Francisco Chamberlain at the Crocker residence in Burlingame, where the distinguished English diplomat was a guest. The count also told the Japanese American News that Sir Austen is rapidly regaining his health and that he will probably leave for England by way of Vancouver within a week or so.

Another prominent passenger aboard the ship was Kaju Nakamura, who is returning home after having led a student tour party to this country. Remaining here after he had sent his party home some time ago, he made a thorough investigation of the social and economic conditions of the Japanese in the United States as well as problems dealing with the second generation Japanese. He told the press that there are over 20,000 Americans of Japanese extraction in Japan, and he expressed his opinion that they should leave that crowded country for their native soil in America, where they would unquestionably find more openings in the economic world.

Nakamura also pledged himself to the task of opening a field for the second generation as English instructors in the secondary and higher institutions of learning of Nippon. He strongly urged these young people to go on a first-hand study tour of the land of their parents, but this should be undertaken after having at least finished high school education, he declared.

Another group of passengers was the kengaku party of thirty seven members, including seven second generation young people, who are being led by Mitsushige Saito, prominent San Franciscan. The party will witness the Imperial Enthronement ceremonies at Kyoto in November. They will also tour the country and take in the famous sights of Nippon.

Somewhere Over Atlantic

This photograph of the Graf Zeppelin, largest dirigible in the world, now speeding from Germany toward Lakehurst, N. J., was taken as it landed after the first successful test flight. The lower right shows the exterior view of the car of the airship. Note the sand sacks carried as dead weight.

ZEPPELIN SPEEDS OVER ATLANTIC FOR AMERICA

BARCELONA, Spain, Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, en route to the United States, passed over this city at 6:50 p. m.

The Graf Zeppelin, dodging adverse areas but continuing determinedly toward the sea, traversed southern France today on her way from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to the United States.

The 700-foot dirigible, with a crew of 40 and about 20 passengers and guests, including one woman, left Friedrichshafen at 7:52 a. m. (1:52 a. m. eastern standard time) on the maiden voyage of any commercial air liner across the ocean.

After leaving Friedrichshafen, on the shores of Lake Constance, between Germany and Switzerland, the zeppelin turned westward along the valley of the Rhone, bordering Switzerland, toward France. At 2:15 p. m. e. s. t. she passed Constance. At 3:30 a. m. she passed Basle, Switzerland, and at 3:45 a. m. crossed the French border into Alsace.

The course was southwest. She passed Belfort, France, near the border, at 4:30 a. m. Then she passed Montbéliard and Beaune les Dames and, at 7:30 a. m. Lyons. The weather, while not stormy, was cloudy with occasional rain.

OUR JUNIOR SECTION

Kikuyu Marie Tanaka of Julesburg, Colorado, writes us a very delightful letter. Here's a part of it: Dear Junior Editor: Thanks ever so much for your wonderful camera, which I received about July. When I received the camera I was going to write to the Junior Club. I have taken several pictures with the camera already. When I write again I am going to try to send you a picture of myself to the club.

Kikuyu also tells us that she has been to the summer Japanese school all summer, and now she is going to the American school, which began Sept. 4. She wants for our Club flower morning glory because that's the only flower she recalls. She likes the morning glory because it makes shade for windows. We'll consider your pretty suggestion, Kikuyu. Here are her riddles:

Why is an elevator man like a servant? Ans. Because his life is all ups and downs.

I am round as a ball and you carry me on a string. When I am flat as a rag you put me in your pocket. When I break, you hold your ears shut.

That was a very long letter you sent us, Kikuyu. Thanks. Hope you'll write us some more jokes and riddles next time.

Chiyeko Araki, our old Junior member, writes us some clever jokes. Here they are: Teacher: Johnny, give me a sentence with the word "vermillion" in it. Johnny: I go with a girl whose father is sick. I am going to marry her so I can have vermillion.

That was clever! We're sorry Chiyeko, that your last story, which we promised to print, did not appear in our Junior Club section. We lost it that night when the janitor swept everything away from the Junior Editor's desk. If you'll write a short one next time, Chiyeko, we'll see what we can do about it.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR HERBERT HOOVER

An Appreciation and Biographical Sketch of the Noted Californian

By ANNIE G. LYLE (By Special Arrangements With Author)

(Continued from yesterday.) Herbert Hoover's next great step was to accept this mission. It was his WILLINGNESS TO SERVE SAN FRANCISCO AND CALIFORNIA that took him to London. He was in London when the war broke out. Immediately he organized the American Relief Commission to get the Americans abroad safely home. David Starr Jordan worked for Herbert Hoover on this Commission. Dr. Hoover told me so.

Belgium faced starvation. A man was needed for the job of feeding the Belgians. Ambassador Page agreed that Herbert Hoover was the man, so did Belgium's leading men. A NEUTRAL—AN AMERICAN was needed. The biggest man for the job, by all odds, was HOOVER. He accepted. "My fortune can go to H—," said Hoover—so ended "HOOPERIZED."

Under President Harding, he became Secretary of Commerce—a department loosely knit whose character is best described in the words of a Washington wit: "Lighting the lamps along the coast and putting the fishes to bed." He has made it the most important department in the cabinet.

In seven years, Herbert Hoover made the Department of Commerce an outstanding success, unique among National Boards of Trade and Ministries of Commerce. From all over the world, officials come in ever increasing numbers to study the methods of this Department which has done away with unnecessary waste of billions of dollars in our industries and "speeded up" the prosperity of the nation. Later a British statesman said with evident irritation, "We have to fight not only American Foreign Trade but also the American Department of Commerce."

8:00 P. M.—OPEN FORUM. Chairman—Mr. Howard Imazeki. Leader—Rev. Mr. R. E. Watson. Selection—Oakland Independence Church Choir. 9:00 P. M.—BUSINESS SESSION. Miss Sumie Morishita, presiding. 9:30 P. M.—CONFERENCE SINGING. Leader—Mr. Ben Furuta.
