CROWD SEES CANTATA AT S. F. CHURCH

'The Meaning of Xmas' Written By Miss Stella Sato

With the eyes of children popping out with wonder as they saw the dear old Santa Claus and with the elder people equally enchanted by the beautiful scenes, the "Meaning of Christmas," a Christmas carol program presented by the Reformed Church on the evening of December 25, as a feature of the entertainment was acclaimed the most successful cantata ever presented in the local community.

So crowded was the chapel that many of the spectators were forced to stand at the doorway and the aisles. The cantata was written and directed by Miss Stella Sato. The costumes, lighting, and general stage preparations, which played an important part in the production, were well handled by the various committees. These committees were: Miss Shizu Sakai, costume; Francis Hayashi, lighting; Lee Watanabe, stage direction; Mukoyama, scenery; Misses Saku Baba, Mitsu Bepp and Kaoru Miura, music.

PRIZES AWARDED

Shigeru Saito, superintendent of the Sunday School, presided. The main speakers were Francis Hayashi, young people's religious director, and Rev. Kovta, pastor of the church, who also gave prizes to the twenty-three Sunday School teachers and to Yuki Isobe, Misao Matsuzaki, and Kazuko Matsuzaki, who have not been absent from the Sunday School in three years. Prizes were also awarded George and Frank Matsumoto, who have been absent only once since they entered the school a year ago.

Other entertainments included the violin solo by S. Ito, accompanied by Miss Emily Sano on the piano, and recitations by the Sunday School pupils, who numbered more than 230.

Those who have taken important roles in the cantata were: Hiroshi Fujita, Sachiko Yasukichi, Goro Maeda and Toshimi Ogawa.

Noted Japanese Dramatist and Producer Passes Away; Was Head of Tsukiji Little Theatre and a Theatrical Revolutionist

TOKYO, Dec. 26.—(Special)—The dramatic world of Nippon mourns today the loss of Kaoru Otsu, one of Japan's leading playwrights and producers, who died last night at midnight following an attack of the hardening of the arteries.

Due to his brilliant work with the Tsukiji Little Theatre of Tokyo and his introduction into this country of the avant-garde dramas of Europe, his fame has become international. Noted as a revolutionist in the theatrical circles, he produced ultramodern plays of Europe and directed them with such artistry and thought that he was hailed as the leader of the intellectual group of literati in Japan's capital.

Besides being a producer, he is a playwright of no mean ability. He modernized "Kokuseiya Kasen," a play written by the great Chikamasa who lived during the Elizabethan period of Japanese history. While Ichikawa Sadanji, the noted Kabuki actor, toured Europe recently, Otsu acted as his manager. His latest project just before his untimely death was the plan to invite Eugene O'Neil, America's foremost playwright, for a tour of Japan. He was 49 years old.

WEISSMULLER BECOMES PRO

Will Join the Ranks of Professionals After Jan. 3

Johnny Weissmuller, one of the greatest swimmers of all time and holder of most of the world records for free style performances will turn professional after January 3, the Illinois Athletic Club, whose color the aquatic star has been upholding for years, announced today.

Weissmuller will compete as an amateur for the last time in the twenty-second annual Cook County interscholastic swimming championship at the I. A. C. pool on that date.

Although the readers of the Japanese American News have been told of his intentions of turning professional, following his competition in Japan in the international meet this year, through an interview, the announcement came as a surprise to the Americans and to the rest of the world, and is causing wide comment among the swimmers' circle.

Fanatic Attempts To Effect Direct Appeal To Ruler

TOKYO, Dec. 26.—(Special)—Masakichi Mori, a political fanatic, was arrested by the police today for attempting to make a direct appeal to the Emperor as the latter was on his way to the Imperial Diet to deliver in person the Imperial Message.

Investigations disclosed the fact that Mori was attempting to bring the matter of water problem in Satama prefecture before the attention of the Japanese ruler.

LODI ELEVEN LOSES GAME

Bows To Stockton Boys 6 to 18 at High School Field

STOCKTON, Dec. 26.—(Special)—The newly organized Japanese football team of Lodi was defeated by the Stockton Japanese Students' eleven, 18-6, Sunday afternoon at Stockton High School field.

The Lodi boys, however, clad in bright new uniforms and with fast signal works and clever plays staged a wonderful showing for the spectators. The invaders also showed creditable team work and possessed a few individual stars, but they lacked in experience, which proved to be the deciding factor in this game.

Increase of 7181 Filipinos in 1928 In Hawaii Revealed

TOKYO, Dec. 26.—An increase during the last seven years of 26,445 in the Filipino population of the Territory of Hawaii through immigration channels alone, is indicated by figures for that period, obtained at the United States immigration station here.

In the seven year period the increase shown during the last 12 months, from July 1, 1927, to June 30, 1928, was the largest of any other one year, totaling 7181. During the seven years, 56,541 Filipinos came into the territory from the Philippine Islands, Oriental ports and mainland ports and only 30,098 departed. Of this total, 56,071 came from the Philippines and Oriental ports and 470 came from the mainland.

B. C. NEEDS FRIENDSHIP OF NIPPON

So Says Canada Business Man Speaking On Japan Trade

VANCOUVER, Canada, Dec. 10.—(By Mail)—Future trade prospects in the Orient are so important to this province that British Columbia can not afford to jeopardize the goodwill of China and Japan by ill-treatment of Japanese and Chinese within her boundaries, declared Lawrence Killam, manager B. C. Pulp & Paper Bureau Board of Trade.

Speaking of export possibilities in the Orient, Killam explained that the present government in China now was friendly toward the British Government, and should therefore welcome Canadian goods. There were also better relations with Japan. It would therefore be unwise to antagonize these prospective customers by unfavorable treatment of their nationals resident here.

SOLVE, GIVING NO OFFENSE

"British Columbia could afford to set up, in another line, any man forced out of business by Oriental competition, rather than jeopardize the friendship of these nations," he declared. "The Orientals are already here; they are our good friends and prospective customers. We must solve our immigration problem within ourselves and without giving offense."

Describing the processes by which pulp is manufactured, Killam explained that it was not a raw product. He pointed out that if all the finished paper products which were used in this province were required to be manufactured here, it would only keep the pulp and paper mills of British Columbia running four days of the year. Therefore he believed large export of pulp was necessary to the industry here.

NOT PAYING PROPOSITION

Speaking of reforestation and its relation to the pulp and paper industry, he said that wood was not yet valuable enough in British Columbia to make reforestation a good investment. His company had planned an experiment over a number of acres, but it found that by the time taxes and other charges were paid on the land in the thirty years necessary to produce a merchantable growth, the wood would be too expensive to cut.

THE WEATHER

The Official Forecast: Thursday Unsettled. Cloudy.

Japan Pianist To Appear In Recital In S. F. on Jan. 6

Miss Yolanda Kusakabe, a Japanese-Italian pianist, who recently arrived here from Japan, where she had scored a tremendous success, will give a recital in San Francisco on Sunday evening January 6, at the Kinnon Gakuen auditorium. The young artist will give one or two Japanese pieces, besides several masterpieces, including Liszt's 11th Hungarian Phantasy, in which she is particularly good.

Miss Kusakabe is born of a Japanese father, Kusabura Kusakabe, formerly Minister of Japan to Italy, and of an Italian mother of noble lineage. She is now on her way back to Italy, where she intends to further pursue her study.

10,000 Women of Nippon Take Part In R. R. Suffrage

TOKYO, Dec. 26.—At a meeting held recently, it was decided that the right to vote for the election of workers' committees on the Japanese State Railways should be extended to all employees, both men and women, who are eighteen years of age or more, and have served for more than one year. The system of workers' committees was instituted by the State Railways in 1920, for the purpose of bringing about mutual understanding between the management and the workers. The committees are composed of delegates elected from among railway foremen and workers.

Heretofore the right to vote was limited to male employees aged twenty years or more who had served for more than one year. The number of voters is now increased by 25,000, of whom nearly 10,000 are women. There are at present 165,000 persons eligible for voting, out of 230,000 workers engaged on the Government Railways.

BIG TRACTS ACQUIRED BY U. S. CITIZENS

$75,000 Worth of Land Is Purchased at Newcastle

NEWCASTLE, Dec. 26.—(Special)—Farm lands estimated at a value of $75,000 have been purchased by several second generation Japanese in this district, it was reported recently.

They are K. Enkoji, Yamashiro, Nodohara, M. Miyata, Hamaseki and Roy Yoshida. Miyata, Hamaseki, and Roy Yoshida have purchased the Lyles Estate on the Lincoln road. The estate has a total of one hundred acres and is good producer of early Beauty plums. They paid $30,000 for the estate.

Nodohara, former president of the Newcastle Young Men's Endeavor Society, has purchased valuable orchard in the Ophir District valued at $20,000.

Yamashiro has acquired the Carl Ranch between Newcastle and Perrin at $10,000.00, while Enkoji bought Pete Armilly Ranch in the Long Valley district. The estate is a 45-acre property and was sold at an estimated price of $15,000.00.

GIRLS' CLUB PLANS DRIVE

Hoshi-no-Hana Will Conduct Membership Campaign

BERKELEY, Dec. 26.—(Special)—In order to launch out on a year of greater activity and usefulness, members of the Hoshi-no-Hana club of Berkeley will conduct a membership drive among the girls of the East Bay district. It was announced today by the officers of the society.

With the purchase of new uniforms for the basketball team, these girls are expected to make their appearance in the court as soon as the school opens next year. Due to the fact that they have had no home court for their practices, they have as yet not scheduled any game with rival organizations this season, but it is believed they will play some interesting tilts early next year. Miss Hifumi Miura, a good player, recently joined the organization.

Iriye's Swimming Record Published By Japan League

TOKYO, Dec. 23.—(Special)—The All-Japan Swimming League, a governing body of aquatic events in Japan, corresponding to the Swimming Department of the A. A. U., officially recognized and published in the almanac the world records, the 2 minutes 37 seconds 6-10 record for the 200 meter backstroke and 5 minutes and 42 seconds record for 400 meters, made by Naruo Iriye, former Ibarai Middle School swimmer.

The new records were established this fall during the international meet when Iriye defeated Walter Lauffer and Paul Wyatt of the United States in both events.

These records may be recognized by the international committee next year as records made in a long course tank.

TRAFFIC IN ARMS STOPPED

Nation-Wide System Crushed By Japan Authorities

TOKYO, Dec. 10.—(By Mail)—Unearthing a nation wide arms trafficking ring, with ramifications in every big city and trading port in Japan, the police arrested 45 men regarded as the organizers of the system.

According to a report made public, over ten thousand pistols and revolvers and approximately one million bullets have been smuggled into Japan over a period of four years. A part of this was later secretly exported to China, Manchuria and Korea.

Kobe figures as the main importing and exporting harbor, as it is located nearest to China.

The arms were imported either from Belgium or Germany, and were escorted in bundles of old newspapers or in lead casings for telephone cables. The unusual and irregular weight of these materials, helped the smugglers to conduct their illicit trade under the very eyes of the customs.

Enormous profits are believed to have been reaped by the traffickers, whom it is said sold the arms at a price 100 to 200 percent in excess of the original value.

The wholesale arrest was started when officer Abe, of the Public Peace Bureau of the Metropolitan Police discovered that a large number of weapons were wrongly entered in the counter-book of Kawaguchiya and other dealers in fire arms in Tokyo.

The weapons secretly exported were said to be in the hands of coolies under powerful families and prominent landlords of China, Manchuria, and Korea.

CLOSE SAYS JAPAN WILL HELP CHINA

Nippon Will Not Lend Hand In Oppression Declares Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 11.—(By Mail)—That Japan never again will be ranged on the side of a western power for the oppression of China, a statement he made some time ago, was reiterated by Upton Close, author of "The Revolt of Asia," in an interview with the press recently. Japanese students are positively sentimental on the subject of Chinese nationalism, said Close. When he was leaving Japan for China last summer, with a tourist party, many declared that their most cherished wish was to visit the country, he continued.

On the other hand, the business man of Japan wants amicable relations, for their chief interests in trade he said.

TALKS ON TANAKA

Turning to the Tanaka policies, he declared that he could not believe that either the Premier or Minister of Education Shoda could be so stupid as to believe that by throwing thousands of students into jail as radicals, by employing corps of spies to honeycomb the schools, could they check "dangerous thoughts."

Instead, he continued, they wish to be able to say, in case of any untoward happenings in connection with the Coronation, that they have taken all possible precautions.

INVOLVED IN CASE

While in Nanking a new member of the Close tourist party figured in what the newspapers at the time attempted to call a second "Nanking affair," though the irritating incident in no way resembled the first tragic occurrence, according to Close.

"Through the newspapers did not emphasize this point, the fact that only a few minutes after our party had been attacked by the ruffians an automobile load of policemen appeared and immediately put a stop to the thing shows the progress that has been made in China.

"At the time of the Nanking affair no attempt was made by the authorities to end the trouble. Here, a few toughs thought they could get away with the same sort of thing and were disappointed. As a matter of fact, the whole thing was intended to humiliate us, rather than to do any actual harm, for blows were struck with fans, with walking sticks."

Mr. and Mrs. Close are sailing for the United States, and will go directly to New York, where Mr. Close, (Professor Josef Washington Hall), will go on a lecture tour immediately.

TO WRITE A BOOK

Close is working on a book to follow his "Eminent Asians," just off the press, which is to deal with present day figures in the Far East.

"The only Christians I ever have met who take the sermon on the Mount literally are Toyohiko Kagawa and Mahatma Gandhi," he said. "My new book will center around Kagawa, as perhaps the most outstanding man today in the Orient."

Close considers the Japanese social worker the Socialized Christian; who believes that industrial civilization can be spiritualized, that he combines the gifts of economist, evangelist with the zeal of a labor and peasant organizer, settlement worker and religious ascetic.

LACK A LEADER

"I want to include one Japanese woman but as yet have not been able to find one who is sufficiently outstanding nationally. There is no woman in Japan today, who, for example, is as outstanding as Mrs. Sun Yat Sen among the women of China.

"Japanese women are the sweetest in the world but they have followed the precepts for the treatment of women too closely. Ironically enough, these were formulated by a Chinese woman and when Japan took over the teachings of Confucius they were included.

"But China never took them seriously, while Japan has, in a characteristically literal-minded fashion."

We're glad to hear that you worked hard during the vacation. Kano. Send us a nice joke and riddle next time.

A TRIP TO ENOSHIMA

Delightful Experiences at One of Japan's Most Beautiful Scenic Spots

Last Sunday being an irresistibly fine autumn day—an ideal day for short trips and walking—I paid a visit to Enoshima, an enchanting though highly commercialized pleasure resort, accompanied by my four-year-old daughter June. Physically, I took my daughter to that island. Mentally, she took me out to see the island. Economically, she was nobody, as she went everywhere free of charge. But when it comes to the problem of deciding on the family's Sunday program, she has a strong "say" in the family council. Hence, my fourth visit to Enoshima since we moved from Omori to the present house in Hase.

Enoshima is a typical Japanese island. It is truly a picturesque island when viewed from a distance say from Shichirigahama. But for a man whose age is nearing forty that long bridge connecting the island with Katase is too tiresome and tedious to cross. No adult would enjoy walking on that bridge for a second time. The tourists for hotels, tea houses and curio shops along Chaya Machi leading to the Dragon's Cave in the furthest corner of the island are nothing but annoying. Their stereotyped solicitations spoken in a peculiar accent pester the traveler as he tries to enjoy some fine view across the nearby bay. But the only path to the Dragon's Cave is through that Chaya Machi which zigzags up over the summit of the island, so that one must travel the same road on his return trip.

ROAD STEEP
So steep were some of the concrete stairs on the road that I had to carry my daughter under my arm. When we reached the Dragon's Cave, I discovered that the shrine at the entrance of the cave had been newly built. I was told that the big storm of a week before had washed away the old structure. It was explained that the shrine is washed away about twice each year by waves, and this is one of the several reasons why an adult visitor is charged the ten sen entrance fee.

Just before I made my way into the cave I saw the vault of written oracles in the shrine and wanted to have my future told by a written oracle. So I took the vault and shook it vigorously. The small stick that came out of the opening of the vault was marked "11". Then I took it to a side shrine to get a written oracle corresponding with that number. There were several attendants at the side shrine who were in charge of the written oracles, but they failed to find any written oracle for number 11. One of them asked me to shake the vault again. Not being in my usual argumentative mood, I followed his advice and shook the vault. This time I got a stick which was marked "24", and for which I received a written oracle.

OUR JUNIOR SECTION

TODAY'S NEW MEMBER
Yaye Nakamoto, 734 E. Main st. Santa Maria, California, age 14 birthday November 26.

Yaye says she would like some of our Juniors to write to her. Her brother, Tom, is already a member of the J. A. J. C. We hope Yaye will write in some nice jokes next time.

—Junior—
Kyoko Nitsuka, who lives in Hanford, California, says that Junior Club should vote for a club bird. She says she would like to vote for cardinal. Here is her joke:

"I saw recently where they found a man who had no appendix."
"How did they know he hadn't one?"
"Oh, the doctors were operating for appendicitis."

Dear Junior Editor:
I am an old member of this Junior Section. I never wrote a letter for a long time; so of course you will excuse me, won't you? I worked so hard this summer, and of course the school started, but now it stopped for Christmas vacation. That's why I have a little time.
