SINO-NIPPON PACT WILL BE SIGNED 15TH

Diet Member Attacks Apology Clause of Treaty

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—(Special)—The Sino-Japanese treaty, now under negotiation by Minister Yoshizawa and Foreign Minister Wang at Shanghai, will be signed on February 15 at Nanking.

Ketjro Nakamura, an influential member of the Minseito opposition party and an expert on diplomatic affairs, lashed the administration for negotiating a treaty which is purported to require an apology from the Japanese government for having bombarded Tsinan during the disturbance in Shantung province. He demanded an explanation of Premier Tanaka, who got up before the Diet and replied that he was under no obligation to make any explanation until the pact was signed.

STOCK'N YMBA DOWNS STARS

GOOD FLOORWORK FEATURES GAME FOR TEMPLARS

STOCKTON, Feb. 8.—(Special)—Displaying fine floor work and accurate shooting, the Stockton Y. M. B. A. Reserves swamped the All-Stars last Wednesday evening at the Hongwanji gymnasium by a score of 42-32.

This was the deciding game of the three game series between the two teams, both of which had been credited with one win over the other. The All-Stars started very strong as though they were in their old form, and they piled up 8 points in the first quarter. But they could not keep up the fast pace of the fighting Templars, who noted them out for an easy victory. Lack of practice was the chief factor in the All-Star's defeat.

Utsi, Ezuki, and Ouye played a fine game for the losers, while Utsugi and Fukushima were the outstanding players for the Reserves.

Y WILL MEET PENRYN FIVE

Wakaba To Clash With Y Reserves In 2nd Tilt Saturday

PENRYN, Feb. 8.—(Special)—The long waited for game between the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and the Placer Y. M. A., one of the most important games in Northern California this season, will be played Saturday night at the Union high school gymnasium. The strength of the highly touted Y. M. C. A. is unquestioned, while local Y. M. A. is also considered equally as strong.

The Sacramento Wakaba team, fresh from its victory over the Stockton Templars, will meet the San Francisco "Y" reserves in the second game of the day.

There will also be a game between Sacramento Reljo-Kwai and the Newcastle Girls team on the same night if the arrangements can be completed.

FREE RIDE ON TRAIN LANDS PAIR IN JAIL

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—(By Mail)—"Giving a girl friend a buggy ride in a Ford out in the countryside is a common thing, but a train conductor gave a free ride to his girl out to Shimomoseki all the way from Tokyo in his train, and the lovers were arrested at the end of a perfect journey."

This was the case of Ryujiro Fujiwara, 28, conductor of the Combined express trains of the 2nd and 3rd class cars between Tokyo and Shimomoseki, and Yoshiko Sato 20-year-old girl of Kumamoto. The girl is a victim of the lure of the city. She ran away from her Kyushu home with her father's money, and was hiding in Osaka since the fifth of this month.

GOT ACQUAINTED IN OSAKA

The man and the girl got acquainted with each other in Osaka. He considered that his employer, the Railway Office would not incur a great loss if he took his girl in his train and gave her a joy ride free of charge.

So he and she boarded the train from Osaka for Tokyo.

They put up at the Asahiya Hotel at Omori for the night, and the following day the pair went round the city for sightseeing at Oetia.

The success of their first adventure induced them to attempt another "honey-moon" trip. Arriving at Shimomoseki, they tried to pass the exit in the same way as they did in Tokyo, but a police officer detected them. So the last act of this farcical love comedy was brought to an abrupt end in the Chief of Police's bureau.

To Cabinet Post?

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of Stanford University, who according to California reports, has accepted the offer of a post as Secretary of the Interior in Hoover's cabinet.

SHOGUNS TO MEET S. F. HI

Goofs Play San Mateo Squad Tonight In Local Court

Determined that history shall not repeat itself, the Showa A Varsity squad is waiting for the starting whistle to revenge its defeat suffered early this season at the hands of the Honolulu High cagers, one of the strong P. A. A. teams.

The game will be played at the Community House on Post street on Saturday night as the final game of the double header of the evening.

The first game of the evening will be between the San Mateo Junior College five and the undefeated Showa goofs, who are strongly favored to win. To do justice to the San Mateo Collegians and all other clubs that will play the Goofs in the future, it should be stated here that Goof team is not the weakest team in the club by any means.

Showa has two varsities and a second team followed by the Goofs. Then comes the Super Goofs and Down town and Out town, combinations now being organized.

LAFADIO HEARN

By YONEO NOGUCHI

The recent completion of Japanese translation of Lafadio Hearn's whole works leads me into a reflective mood and makes me dwell on this unique literary man, short in physique and blind in one eye, who found the island-valley of an Avilion in Japan 30 or 40 years ago.

If I can say that his dwarfish constitution, nearer the ground than his tall bodied brethren in the west, helped him, as I once wrote, to scrutinize a thing's loins or feet, his one eye, like that of an artist always made him strike a right focus whenever he studied any subject.

I was going to say at the beginning that the publication of Hearn's complete works in Japan was certainly a tribute we can pay to his memory, and by it, glad to say, we proved ourselves not ungrateful for his service which, in truth, often placed us in an uncomfortable situation. The best part of it was that the whole translation was done by his former students whom he inspired through a literary magic in which emotion and intellect commingled.

Not dwelling on the merit of his translation, I was pleased, I can say to see that those students, now quite old with gray hair or aged eyesight tried their best with love or reverence, intending to build an eternal monument of their teacher who as a human waif from the west found a peaceful haven here where wind was calm and air soft.

YAIZU

One more thing that makes me think of Hearn vividly I have here; they are the two photographs which my friend sent me of late, one of them being the photograph of the old Japanese garden at Matsue by which Hearn lived in 1890 soon after his arrival in Japan, a ghostly thing "all soft, dreaming, quiet, pale, faint, gentle, lazy, vapory, visionary," that charmed and repelled him, while the other the photograph of the stone monument standing at Yaiizu in his memory, where Hearn spent a few summer vacations before his death.

One who read "At Yaiizu" or "Otokichi's Daruma" in "A Japanese Miscellany" will know how Hearn loved this Yaiizu a fishing village by the Tokaido Highway famous through Hiroshige's colour-prints, to use Hearn's words, a lizard-town curving along a little bay; here he was so glad to enjoy the life of many centuries ago, and associate with the "people of old Japan, frank and kindly as children—good children—honest to a fault, innocent of the further world, loyal

Japan Party To Launch Attack On Ministers

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—(Special)—Bills of non-confidence will be launched against Finance Minister Kihara, Army Minister Shira-kawa, and Speaker Motoda of the Lower House by the Minseito party, it became known here today.

Having ascertained that the Diet will not pass the non-confidence bill against the entire Cabinet, the opposition is now marshalling its forces for attack upon these individual members of the government party.

Motoda will be charged with partiality in conducting the business of the Diet, Shira-kawa with blundering tactics in Manchuria at the time of the death of Chang Tso-lin, and Kihara with indiscreetness in enrolling himself in a huge post-earthquake finance with semi-governmental banks.

JAPAN RACES FOR RUBBER

Fights Competition With Ford Group In Brazil

PARA, Brazil.—There is a rivalry between the Ford rubber enterprise and the Japanese enterprise on the banks of the Tapajoz River in getting the land under cultivation.

The old timers in the Amazon valley think that the Japanese will win the competition. The Ford and the Japanese concessions are nearly opposite each other on the banks of the Tapajoz, 120 miles above from its junction of the Amazon River.

The Ford concessions are based at Santarem, the mouth of the Tapajoz River, where the vessels, which were loaded at Detroit, arrived too late to navigate the Tapajoz River and their cargoes are being lightered and towed up the river.

The veterans on the River praise the Ford hospital ship and its equipment, but it is believed that the task of fighting against malaria in the Ford area will be stupendous. There were 350 deaths from malaria in two months.

It is also reported that the special cranes brought by the Ford vessels to discharge their cargoes were stowed beneath all other freight on the ships. The discharge, therefore, has been delayed under the necessity of using lighter equipment. The work of clearing the land is now progressing and 1,000 houses for laborers will be constructed there.

FAITH, LOVE IS THEME OF SAC'TO MEET

Christian Youths May Secure Dr. Guy As Confab Speaker

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8 (Special)—Faith, Love, and Service will be the subtopics under the theme "More like the Master," which will be discussed at the discussion hour and at the open forum when the Christian young people of Sacramento valley will meet here on Feb. 23 and 24 for a sectional conference, it was decided at the program committee meeting of the conference last Tuesday night at the Methodist Church parsonage.

The Rev. S. Watanabe of Sacramento M. E. Church and the Rev. S. Niwa of Florin M. E. Church were present at the meeting.

The questions for the subtopics are:

1. How did Jesus show his faith in his daily life?
2. How can we put love into practice in our daily life?
3. What would be the practical services we can render as the Christian second generation?

The discussion groups six in all will be led by the Rev. Niwa, Miss Dorothy Funabiki of the College of Pacific, the Reverends Watanabe, Hijikata, Ashina, and Woods.

The program committee is trying to secure Dr. H. H. Guy of Berkeley as the main speaker for the mass meeting on Sunday afternoon, and the Rev. Howe of Woodland, former Shakespearian actor, for the devotional and banquet on Saturday.

The Reception and Registration committees met last Sunday and planned the ways to perform their duties as neatly as possible and to make the 1929 conference a success, it was reported.

The local Christian young people are planning to hold a combined devotional service on 17th, Sunday, from 7:30 p. m. at the Baptist Church to create the spirit of "better conference."

Non-Confidence Bill May Fail In Japan Diet

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—(Special)—The non-confidence bill, launched against the Tanaka Cabinet by the Minseito party, will be discussed by the Imperial Diet tomorrow, but indications are that it will fail to pass by a shortage of 60 votes.

The 8 labor votes in the House and 7 votes of the Little Parties' League, headed by Yusuke Tsurumi, will vote with the Minseito for non-confidence, while the Shinio Club (the Kensei Ishihara (Marquis Okuma's party) will support the government.

Ban on Legation Quarters Is Urged By Peking Mayor

PEKING, Jan. 18.—Declaring the presence of the Legation Quarters in this city as illegal and contrary to the spirit of national independence, the Mayor of this city yesterday sent identical notes to the National Government and the Peking Political Committee, to the following effect:

For 30 years since the Boxer Uprising, China, under the pressure of foreign force, has been compelled to leave the administrative authority in the Legation Quarters to the pleasure of the Powers. In addition the Chinese Government has been paying an annual subsidy of 3,000 yuan to the repair of roads in that quarter.

DIFFERENT SITUATION

The political conditions have now changed, the Capital has been moved to Nanking and not only Peking is unfit as the location for the Powers' representatives, but at this time when China is trying to get herself rid of unilateral treaties, the permission for such a special district to exist will run counter to unified city administration and seriously infringe upon the sovereignty of the State.

The armed forces of the powers are freely parading the streets of Peking, creating undesirable incidents. Motorcars and other vehicles owned by these people in the Legation Quarters are often the cause of accidents and embarrass the city authorities in their proper administration.

The National Government is requested to open speedy negotiations with the Powers to restore the Legation Quarters to the hand of the Chinese and place it under the direct control of the city authorities.

Tigers Bow To Alameda Cagers In Fast Tussle

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—(Special)—In a game featured by pass attacks on both sides throughout the entire game, and by several tricky plays from center by the invading squad, the Oakland M. E. Church went down to defeat at the hands of the Alameda Mudhens.

Both teams had improved their playing since the beginning of the season, and this fact was especially noticeable on part of the Alameda team, which has been coached by Earl Nino.

Captain Henry Yamamoto, stellar forward of the Mudhens, was the high point man, while Domoto and Hirano played a good defensive game for the M. E. Church.
