TRAINING THE CHILD TO APPRECIATE MUSIC
I KNOW almost nothing about music, but I don't want my children to grow up without at least understanding it.

THE KEY TO THE BACK PANTRY
Now it seemed to me that a key to a Black Pantry was much more desirable than a key to the city.

NEW BOXER TO BE OUR NEXT CHAMP

James J. Braddock Is On Right Track For Title

THERE has never been a more satisfactory short-ender than young James J. Braddock, the New Jersey youngster, who has kept his list of pugilistic achievements by belting over Jimmy Slattery, the "Peck's Bad Boy" of Buffalo, N. Y.

Those who have bet on Braddock since he first came up have profited no little. He was short-ender against Scranton Pete Latzo and wound up by breaking Pete's jaw.

And sure enough there were a number of things to remind one of Jack.

First, there was a partial crouch, to which Braddock had not been addicted formerly.

But most important of all, there was a persistent forward march, a constant, two-listed attack.

Slam-bang went the Jersey boy with both hands, and he never stopped punching until Slattery yielded to the canvas.

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE
