FRESNO AND LIVINGSTON ENJOY FETE

Joint Devotional and Social Fellowship Held Sunday

Special to The Japanese American News LIVINGSTON, May 8.—Livingston Young People's Christian Fellowship acted as host to the Fresno Christian Endeavor Society of the Japanese Congregational Church and Epworth League of the Japanese Methodist Church last Sunday afternoon and evening at an informal party.

Most of the Fresno young people left Fresno early shortly after the church service and arrived in Livingston about three o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Lenora Smith was the speaker at an outdoor service held on the bank of the Merced River at three o'clock. Kazuo Masuda was the chairman.

RECREATION

Following this devotional, recreation was enjoyed under the chairmanship of Taro Satow. Swimming, games, and tennis matches were some of the important plays on the program.

In the evening there was a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. building. Norman M. Kishi was the toastmaster. The evening devotional followed in the church. Miss Tomoyo Masuda acted as the chairman. The speaker was Carol Powers of Modesto Jr. College, who was an Educational Director of the Y. M. C. A. "Hands Across the Pacific" tour party to the Orient last year. Refreshments were served at nine o'clock.

Much of the success of the party and devotional was due to the work of Roy M. Kishi, a student of the College of the Pacific.

HONORED GUEST

The banquet was enjoyed by the honored guests from Fresno, members of the Cortez Christian Endeavor Society, representatives of the different organizations of Livingston, honored speakers, and members of the fellowship. The supper was prepared by the mothers. There were over fifty people at the banquet table. The words of welcome were delivered by Kazuo Masuda, and it was responded by Miss Misao Matsuyama of Fresno. The following people were guests from Fresno: George Aki, George Denoto, Rev. Fukushima, John Fukushima, Ruth Fukushima, Sadie Hori, Shio Ino, Miss Itanaga, Jeanette Kawai, Mae Kawai, Rev. Machida, Misao Matsuyama, Shige Matsuyama, Susumu Morota, Leo Saito, and Mr. Ueyeda.

Mexico Friendly To Japanese Says Commerce Attache

Special to The Japanese American News LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Mexico's great and sympathetic interest in the welfare of the Japanese in Mexico was told by H. Sashida, commercial attache of Japan in Mexico City, who is now on a visit in this city.

According to the Japanese diplomat, the recent Mexican revolution in no way destroyed the Japanese property or endangered the lives of Japanese residents in Mexico. In speaking of the trade relations between Japan and Mexico, Mr. Sashida said that the amount of Japanese imports in Mexico exceeded the export. While Mexico exports but little over $2,000,000 worth of goods to Japan, her imports from that country amount to over $600,000 annually.

The Japanese consular representative further declared that the Japanese goods are regarded very highly by the Mexican people and are in great demand there. The respect shown by the Mexican people towards Japanese is regarded as the foundation on which to establish a closer relationship, he further declared. The Mexican people gladly welcome Japanese settlers in Mexico with the hope of developing the material wealth of that country as well as aiding in the establishment of a more stable government there, he concluded.

THE WEATHER THURSDAY—Generally fair.

Christian Endeavors Honor Yamakawa For His Efforts

"Service, a way to Leadership." This was the interesting subject of discussion at the regular devotional meeting of the local Christian Endeavor Society held at the Reformed Church Sunday evening. Goro Maeda was the group leader of the meeting.

Following this informal discussion, the members presented their views and sympathies in particular lines of missionary work in which they are interested. Rev. Kovta, pastor of the church, spoke to the young Christians during the balance of the meeting. He gave a careful and analytical talk on the psychology of leadership.

The devotional ended at nine o'clock. A pleasant social party was enjoyed by the members at the community house afterwards. The affair was held in honor of David Yamakawa, dramatic student, who had helped to produce the recent Christian Endeavor plays, "The Suppressed Desire," a modern American comedy play, and "The Green Lamp," a mystery play, given recently at the church. Mr. Yamakawa directed both of these plays, which were given much praise among the theater lovers of the local community.

To show appreciation of Mr. Yamakawa's efforts, the C. E. Society presented him with a beautiful desk set. After a thoroughly enjoyable time in playing games and partaking of refreshments prepared by the girls of the society, the party disbanded for their homes.

Plans of U. S. To Link Hawaii With Coast by Air Told

NEW YORK, May 7.—The New York World tomorrow will say that an all-American project to link Hawaii and the Pacific Coast with regular dirigible air mail and passenger service is under consideration by Government officials in Washington.

Eventually the plan is to extend operations across the Pacific to Tokyo and other important centers in the Far East, and also establish service to South America and Europe.

It involves two New York banking houses, both already deeply interested in aviation, and the Goodfry-Zepplin Company of Akron, O.

The Wall Street bankers concerned are Grayson M. P. Murphy, representing the aviation interests dominated by C. M. Keyes, president of the Transcontinental Air Transport, and Lehman Brothers, representing the Aviation Corporation, $200,000,000 holding company. Negotiations at present are only in the "conversation" stage, a spokesman for the New York interest said, and the plan hinges upon the action of Government officials.

Smoking Draws Broadside in Watsonville Buddhist Debate

Special to The Japanese American News WATSONVILLE, May 8.—Establishment of a special section for the local second generation Japanese people by the Evening Pajaronian, an evening paper which has held a sympathetic attitude toward the Japanese for the last 20 years, is being received with much enthusiasm by its many readers.

The Evening Pajaronian reports that in the last two months it has doubled its Japanese readers, and many appreciative young Japanese have sent letters of appreciation to the office. Being satisfied with this successful beginning, the paper intends to enlarge the section in the near future. The following report of the Buddhist Church debate appeared yesterday:

One of the most lively meetings of the Y. M. W. B. A. was held last Saturday night at the Buddhist Church. After the usual business meeting and study on "Buddhism" the meeting was turned over to Frank Kawai to hold an oratorical meet.

ANTI-SMOKE

The feature of this meeting was the debate on the subject, "Resolved: That Smoking is Destructive to Young People's Body and Soul." The affirmative side was taken by Grace Fukumoto and M. Hashimoto, while "Cow" Wada and Frank Kawai took the negative side.

It was one of the most hotly and evenly contested debates the local club ever held. Both sides, not yielding an inch, attacked their opponents with fiery words. Though the affirmative side was favored by the good-sized audience, the best speaker was "Cow" Wada on the negative side. In spite of his disadvantages of being on the negative side, his systematic method of refutation and his eloquence enabled him to stand out a head above the others.

British Royalty Seeks Friendship To Tokyo People

TOKYO, May 8.—Declaring that he shall be proud indeed if he had contributed even in a slightest degree to the traditional friendship between Japan and Great Britain, His Royal Highness Prince Henry today tendered his thanks to Premier Tanaka and the Japanese people for the welcome given him while on his trip to this country. The speech was delivered at a banquet given in his honor by the Premier.

The Prince declared that he is looking forward to the journey through Japan which he is to undertake shortly. He will visit the beauty spots and historic scenes and take home with him a most pleasant memory of his trip, he said in conclusion.

LAND'S END IS SCENE OF YMBA PARTY

Buddhist Five Hosts To Young People At Victory Fete

A huge bon fire, kindled at Land's End Saturday afternoon, marked the pow wow grounds for the huge weenie roast party held by the members of the local Young Men's Buddhist Association and their friends to celebrate the termination of their basketball season.

As the bright crimson sky of the sunset darkened into twilight and the cheers and yells of the merry-makers echoed beside the Pacific waves, the young athletes and their girl friends began to bake the hot dogs over the glowing embers. Pickles and hot buns were plentifully provided, and the coffee soon started to give forth its enticing odor from the big tin can.

SPEECHES

In the meantime, James Isomura, athletic manager of the Y. M. B. A., and Masaji Matsui, coach of the basketball team, made short speeches. George Hagihara, president of the society, delivered congratulations to the athletes.

Following this brief ceremony, certificates were given members of the team to enable them to obtain a large picture of the team. Toshi Shimizu and Eichi Sato, members of the Y. M. B. A. Juniors, who played on the varsity five in several games, were awarded block letters.

Games and weenie feed were enjoyed by everyone. With the setting just right for an outdoor fest and the mood of gaiety prevailing over the party, the Buddhist feasters partook in the good time until 11:30 o'clock when they all disbanded for their homes. The guests of the party included members of the Y. W. B. A., L. B. C., and Y. B. A. Rev. Motoyama was the chaplain.

IDEAL HUSBAND DESCRIBED BY JAPANESE YOUNG WOMEN

By YAMAMOTO CHUYO

(Continued from yesterday) He must have a "wealth of perseverance, but be free from all secrets, and yet I should abominate a man who has no depth at all." He who things that all his successes are all of his own making, is a man who knows not what he owes to others. "I should consider him only a safe man who is thankful towards his parents and brothers, teachers and seniors, as being behind his achievements."

NOT FOR A MOBO Miss S. of Miwada Girls High School does not like the so called "modern boy," of whom she hears so much of late; nor does she care a man of manly sentimentality. "I like," she says, "an unformed, manly man, who is natty, and makes you feel bright. I certainly dislike a man of sickly obesity."

DESPISE DRUNKARDS "A man of high character, good in lineage, free from bad diseases, with a strong mind and a kind heart, and also possessed of musical taste," commands her heart, she says. She hates nothing so heartily as a jealous and narrow-minded man, while she worships one who is big-hearted, unofficious and does not drink. He must be four to six years older than she but not more or less, and be a possessor of college diploma, pacific in view, of middle social standing with an income for a middle class life, and strictly reliable in his occupation.

ENGAGEMENT

Miss S. is not at all particular about having an opportunity for a friendly intercourse before marriage as long as the go-between is a person of strong sense of responsibility; but she must have at least two to three months between engagement and marriage. She does not care for a love match. She would wear a Japanese dress for her wedding ceremony, and her marriage household articles may be of the ordinary kind. Only the most intimate friends, besides relatives shall be invited at her wedding dinner. She desires to live with her prospective parents-in-law and sisters-in-law.

ISLAND CITY WINS TRACK, FIELD MEET

Buddhist Team Downs Oakland Methodists In Dual Tourney

Special to The Japanese American News ALAMEDA, May 8.—The local Japanese Methodist Church athletes and the Templars of the local Buddhist Church clashed in a dual track and field tournament held at the Alameda High School Stadium Sunday afternoon.

The meet was held with the end in view of discovering material for the big Northern California tournament, which takes place in San Francisco on June 9.

The Buddhist boys won the meet in an easy style with "Toku" Maruyama scoring 25 points by himself. The high point man for the Methodist boys was Yoshina with 10 points.

The silver loving cup, donated jointly by Hitomi Bicycle Co. and Taketa Candy Shop, was awarded to the Templars. M. E. Church will have a chance to avenge its defeat sometime later this month when another dual meet will be held between the two organizations.

The time made in 50 yard dash of five seconds is nothing less than sensational, while 10:05 in century and 26 seconds in 220 is a good record when one considers that it was run by the same person.

The time in 440 relay is reported to be 2 minutes 23 seconds, through some mistake. It is in all probability, a time for a half mile relay.

Need of Study of Bible Stressed At Alameda Devotional

Special to The Japanese American News ALAMEDA, May 8.—The need of thoroughly understanding the Bible in order that we may glean therefrom some guiding principle of life was stressed by Francis Hayashi, young people's religious director of the San Francisco Reformed Church, in his inspiring talk before the local Japanese Junior Epworth League. The talk was given in the new auditorium of the M. E. Church, south, last Sunday evening.

The young speaker declared that the Bible was a source of inspiration in life, and that its sympathetic understanding will enable one to face life courageously and solve many of the puzzling everyday problems of our young people.

The meeting was opened with the singing of hymn entitled "I will Sing the Wondrous Story," under the leadership of Masaru Mizoguchi. Invocation was offered by Kenzo Yoshida, vice superintendent of the Sunday School. A scripture reading by John Fujii, president of the Jr. Epworth League, followed next.

Miss Yone Taniguchi, adviser of the Jr. organization, also delivered a short talk on the subject of "Our Goal and How to Attain It." OUR JUNIOR SECTION

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

Ruth Kurokawa, Arroyo Grande, California.

Dear Junior Members: We have a wonderful plan for our Junior Club. We think that a nice motto for our club would be most appropriate. For we think that our members, if they would keep the motto in mind, will find inspiration and help them in their work and play. So we want all of our Junior members to send in their suggestions for a good motto.

The motto must not be too long. We suggest that our Juniors look up a book of mottoes or ask their teachers to suggest some and then mail it to us. After we have gathered the different mottoes, then we are all going to vote on them to select just one. So, don't forget to write to the Junior Editor!
