ENJOY YOUR HOME LIFE BY STUDYING THESE USEFUL HINTS BY JUNE DUNHAM

HOW THEY DO IT
A surprise cake dessert is described below:
Make a round sponge cake, and when it is cold, remove the center, leaving an outer rim at least one and one-half inches thick.

And more than likely you will be amused and surprised to find out that it is less intricate than many of the things you are in the habit of making often. This last, however, does not apply to everything one might discover.
Today I have picked at random a few recipes on various desserts which are not ordinarily in use. By virtue of their taste, coloring and style, they are sure to arouse the interest of persons particular about their sweets. And they are more than certain to bring forth comment and query from the fastidious homemaker.

The flavors of almond and fresh strawberries blended, and the ever-tempting mask of whipped cream go toward making the following dessert truly delectable:

Take one pound of almonds and shell. Leave on the skins and grind through a meat-grinder. Beat until very light the yolks of six eggs. Add one scant cup of sugar and beat again. Then add one-half dozen stail lady fingers, toasted and rolled fine and the ground almonds. Mix thoroughly and add the grated rind of one lemon and the juice of one-half lemon. Then lastly fold in the whites of the eggs, stiffly beaten and two and one-half teaspoons of baking powder. Pour into two cake pans lined with waxed paper and bake in a moderate oven as for cake.

When the layers have cooled, put them altogether with a filling of whipped cream, and spread the cream over the top and the sides. Cut the strawberries in halves and decorate the top.

A surprise cake dessert is described below:
Make a round sponge cake, and when it is cold, remove the center, leaving an outer rim at least one and one-half inches thick. Fill with the following fruit and nut mixture, when it begins to set: To one package of raspberry-flavored gelatin dissolved in one cup of boiling water, add one cup of fruit juices and one cup of nuts, finely chopped. When it starts to thicken, beat until it is the consistency of whipped cream. Then fold in one cup of canned, grated pineapple, two bananas, thinly sliced, and one-half cup of walnuts, coarsely cut. Fill to the top of the cake, and set in the ice box until it is firmly set. Then spread the top and outside with whipped cream, and decorate with strawberries or cherries.
Mocha eclairs are not half as intricate as they look. Make the case as follows: Put one-third cup of butter, three-fourths cup of boiling water and one-fourth teaspoon of salt in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Remove from the stove, add three-fourths cup of flour all at once, and beat vigorously for several minutes. Then add three unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating each one in thoroughly before adding the next. Squeeze the batter through a pastry tube into the desired shape on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven for thirty or forty minutes. Then make a slit in the side of each and fill with mocha cream, made like custard with these ingredients: two eggs, one-third cup of flour, one-half-cup of sugar, one and three-fourths cups of strong coffee pinch of salt and one teaspoon of vanilla. Cover the tops of the eclairs with a thin spreading of uncooked confectioner's icing, coffee or chocolate as you wish.

Pinch-hitter Extraordinary

Jim-Wilson THE CARDINALS' CLOUTING CATCHER WHO HOLDS THE UNIQUE RECORD OF HAVING MADE THREE ERRORS ON ONE CONTINUOUS PLAY... AND IN A WORLDS SERIES... HE DROPPED A BALL - OVERTHREW THIRD BASE - AND THEN MISSED THE RETURN THROW IN...

Jimmy Wilson, catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, is making a reputation as a pinch hitter this season. With Earl Smith sharing the receiving, Wilson has had several opportunities to go in to bat for someone in a pinch, and has delivered in a way to delight St. Louis fans. One of Jimmy's recent efforts at a critical moment was a smashing homer.
Wilson was obtained by the Cardinals from the Phillies last year in a trade for Virgil Davis and Homer Peel. He was recognized at the time as one of the best backups in the National League, although his batting was falling off steadily.
Jimmy got his chance to show what he could do in the world series of 1928 when the Cardinals met the Yankees, and proved quite a flop. His batting average for the three games he worked was .091. Smith, who caught the other game of the series, made three hits for an average of .750.

ONE MILLION OFFER MADE TO DEMPSEY

Promoters Promise Fabulous Sums For Cheap Publicity

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor
VERY few days, some promoter bent upon obtaining a bit of cheap publicity offers Jack Dempsey a fabulous sum to return to the ring.

Sometimes the offers are dressed up with elaborate trimmings and regarded in some circles as front page news. Sometimes they are relegated to the comic section, where they are looked upon with no special favor by their neighbors among the time-worn jokes.

The fact that a promoter offers to guarantee the former heavyweight champion $1,000,000 or less to return to the ring doesn't mean that the promoter has that much money. Or could get it. Or that Dempsey would draw such a gate, although he certainly is the only heavyweight living who could do so.

When Jack went to Montreal recently, a local promoter telephoned to ask his price for a bout with Elzevir Rioux, a coming Canadian heavy-weight contender.

Dempsey knew there was no question of such a match being made, but just for a laugh he replied: "One million dollars."

The head-lines blazoned the yarn all over town within an hour. And before Jack reached New York the following day, he was reported to have agreed to fight in Chicago for $500,000 and in Tia Juana for $800,000.

Each time an offer is made, it is the signal for a flood of others, the promoters trying to outdo each other in the magnitude of their bids.

It does no real harm, if one doesn't take it seriously. They don't say what they propose to use for money; by what of it?

THE MONTREAL FIGHT
Dempsey's actual interest in Montreal, which the ex-champion regards as a good place to stage a heavyweight fight on July 4, is finding the most suitable opponents.

If he can decide upon a good match which will be popular with both Canadians and the American tourists who will be on the island of Montreal around July 4, Jack will go up in the role of promoter and matchmaker. He will be representing the firm of Pugazy and Cole, of course.

The chances are that the new alliance of Dempsey, Pugazy and Cole is not destined to be long lived. The ex-champion may be regretting his bargain already, although he would not say so.

Dempsey's tremendous personal popularity was demonstrated during the flying trip to Montreal with the writer. There was a crowd at the station, and everywhere Jack went he was surrounded by cheering throngs and autograph seekers. The Canadians, like their English cousins are great on autographs. Jack made a great hit at the Kiwanis luncheon where he appeared for a moment.

A speech was in order, so he obliged. "I feel like the Irishman at the party," he said. "Everyone entertained in turn, singing, dancing or playing some musical instrument. Finally it came the Irishman's turn. He got up and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I can't sing or dance nor play the piano, but just to be sociable I'll fight anybody in the room." This brought down the house.

THESE CHILDREN OF OURS

By GEORGIA JEWETT HALE

HONESTY AND DISHONESTY

THE present plight of some of our congressmen who voted for the Jones Bill and now find themselves threatened with trial under the provisions of that same bill, is the provision of the parent who pompously discourses upon the way his children should live their lives and then proceeds to live his own by an entirely different code.

The congressman profess to be aghast at the fact that the country should expect them to obey a law simply because they voted for it. They thought it would be a good thing for the country but never dreamed of applying it to themselves!

A similar turn of mind seems to motivate a good many parents. Father does not hesitate to indulge in sharp business practices. He even brags about them at the dinner table! And there his bragging does not cease. Didn't he fool that eagle-eyed motor-cycle cop and race agent at seventy-five miles an hour!

If father is not ashamed to conduct his business so cleverly, why is it he feels called upon to larrip

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE

Dear Miss Lane,
I overheard a man saying the other day that one of a woman's chief charms should be her grace of movement. Do you agree with him? And, if so, just how can this be achieved? I've never thought much about it but I do realize that I am rather jerky and awkward in moving around.

A. T.

The remark made by your friend evidences discernment and good judgement.
I certainly do agree with him that a graceful woman is more often an attractive one than her gawky sis-

Household Hints

By Pusey

A few drops of vinegar added to the water in which eggs are poached will help them to set well. Care must be taken not to put too much, or the eggs will be flavored.

Handkerchiefs and garments which have become yellow should be allowed to soak in cold water with cream of tartar - a teaspoonful of cream of tartar to a quart of water. This is a simple but effective method of whitening them.

A woman who carries herself well shows off her clothes to better advantage and retains her youthfulness much longer.
