NOTED JAPAN PUBLICIST IS VISITOR HERE

Fostering Of Japan Virtues Urged by K. Kiyosawa

By MISS RUTH M. DODGE
One of Japan's leading publicists is taking the time and trouble to come all the way from Japan to study the situation, the difficulties, the dangers, and the possibilities before our second generation young people. He is Mr. K. Kiyosawa of Tokyo.

Ten years ago, when Mr. Kiyosawa was last in this country, most of the young people of Japanese parentage and American birth were children. Now they are faced with complex opportunities and problems—complex to an extent that neither their parents nor their Caucasian friends can imagine.

Mr. Kiyosawa believes that the choices made by these young people will be of deep and far-reaching effect. He has given the different aspects of these choices careful and thoughtful study. Some of his conclusions are these:

CHOICE
If an employer is confronted with two aspirants for a given position, one being of Caucasian and one of Japanese heritage, he will naturally choose the member of his own race unless the other, the Oriental, is known by him to possess certain admirable characteristics not possessed, or possessed in lesser degree, by the Caucasian.

For this reason Kiyosawa urges that Japanese parents in this country speak only Japanese with their children at home; teach them Japanese customs and thought; and hand down to them the special virtues possessed by the Japanese people.

On the part of the young people themselves, he believes that their future happiness depends to a large extent upon their appreciation of their Japanese heritage and their glad and willing study of its special characteristics. There is much similarity, he thinks, between the positions of children dependent upon their parents for support and workers under an employer's pay. The worker carries out the orders and wishes of his employer and is paid for doing so.

"INDEPENDENCE"
The child or young person living under his parents' roof or supported by them is under the same obligation to carry out their wishes and to follow their guidance. The thoughtless copying of the so-called "independence" of the Caucasian young people of this generation is a destructive rather than a constructive policy to pursue, and one that promises unhappiness to all concerned.

The reason for the extreme "independence" of the Caucasian young people of this generation is that Furtivism, with its many unnecessary, as well as its few necessary prohibitions, is being now followed by an inevitable reaction.

With the young people of Japanese heritage there is no such reaction. In the cases in which their relations with their parents are unhappy the cause is chiefly the unreasonable imitation of Caucasian friends or schoolmates rather than any deep-seated and reasoned rebellion against unnecessary prohibitions.

FAMILY SOLIDARITY
The family solidarity of the original civilization is a heritage the preciousness and value of which can hardly be appreciated by anyone who has not given it close study. Loss of this family solidarity for a will-o'-the-wisp supposed individuality will cost too high a price both to the young and old if it is not checked in time.

Individual growth in the ways most worth while is favored by an adherence to the accumulated wisdom of the family's ways and standards. When full maturity and independence are reached, such adherence will be seen to have been the most valuable equipment for individual freedom and creative power.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—The U. C. Japanese Student Club debate on the subject of dancing, which had been scheduled for Nov. 16, was shifted to Friday, Nov. 15. It will be held at the Reformed Church in San Francisco.

EX-PREMIER TAKAHASHI'S HUMBLE STAY IN U. S. TOLD
By Dr. J. G. DUNLOP
Of the American Presb'n. Mission

Mrs. Brown gave the likeable little Japanese boy lessons in English and other subjects, as the missionary had done in Yokohama. He was such an apt pupil that after only a year or so of such life in California he was ready for a teacher's position in Tokyo under Dr. Verbeck very shortly after his return to Japan in 1868 or 1869. Following a short apprenticeship in a third position in San Francisco, it had just been arranged that he should be in still another, a home where he was to be taught by a private tutor, with the daughter of the family, and new clothing and bedding had been prepared for the boy by his new employers or guardians. Japanese, friends, however said to him, "They will try to keep you and you had better not get into it,"—so he slipped away and came back to Japan, having heard of the Restoration of 1868 and being filled with anxiety as to what was happening to his beloved country and clan and family. Arrived in Tokyo, he was so ashamed of his hasty return that instead of reporting to his people and clan, he and the young friend who accompanied him secretly made their way to a place in Ushigome where they lay hidden for weeks, coming out and getting to work only when necessity compelled them. The times too were dangerous.

VIVID RECITAL
That is the story of his "slavery" as Mr. Takahashi tells it. I have written from memory, but one could not easily forget the main lines of so interesting and vivid a recital.

N. Y. TO LEND BIG SUM TO JAPAN BANK

Specie Bank Conducts Parley For 200 Million Yen

Special to The Japanese American News
TOKYO, Nov. 8.—As a preliminary step of raising the ban on gold export, the Yokohama Specie Bank, a semi-Governmental institution, is negotiating for a 200,000,000 yen loan from the Morgan interests in New York. It was revealed here today.

The negotiations are being conducted by the Specie Bank through Mr. Tashima, the government's specially dispatched financial expert in New York, and Thomas Lamont. The consummation of this loan is expected temporarily to stop any wholesale shipment of gold bullions out of the country when the embargo is lifted.

Rumors are prevalent that the embargo will be lifted sometime either in January or February of 1930. The exact date is expected to be announced by the Department of Finance in a near future.

The Center here is headed by Jerome D. Greene, of Lee, Higginson and Co.

The motive behind the gift is to improve cultural relations between the United States and Japan and to provide material for American students conducting research in Oriental culture.

British, Americans Revive Old Chinese Contest at Pieping
PEIPING, Nov. 8.—(UP)—American and British officers and civilians are chiefly responsible for a great revival of interest in Peiping polo, a game which was played in China 1300 years ago.

More than 10 British, American and French teams from Peiping Shanghai and Tientsin brought the polo season to a glorious conclusion with a grand tournament here.

Polo is a rich man's game in the west, but in Peiping a pony is worth $50, and a Chinese groom gets $10 a month so that an ordinary salaried man can afford to play, with his own "string" of ponies. The tournament was held within sight of the Tartar walls, built by the Mongols who brought polo into China in 600 A. D.
