JAPAN HOLDS NO DESIGN IN PHILIPPINES

So Declares Filipino Leader in Campaign For Independence

That the Philippines, given independence by the United States, will not be a prey to Japanese ambition or commercial exploitation, is the burden of the argument proffered by Hilario Camino Moncada, president and founder of the Filipino Federation of America, in a one-page statement appearing in the San Francisco Examiner Saturday.

Noting fully Admiral Takahara's assurance that Japan will respect the sovereignty of an independent Philippines, the Filipino author, publisher and political leader urged Congressional action in the following words:

One of the arguments often advanced against the granting of independence is that an independent Philippines would become a prey to Japanese aggression and commercial exploitation. That Japan does not have any designs toward the Philippines is manifest not only from the utterances of her acknowledged statesmen, but also from her past and present conduct in relation to the islands. Through her authorized spokesmen, Japan has more than once disclaimed any intention to acquire the Philippines. Premier Hara said:

RESPECTS INDEPENDENCE
"When the United States decides to give the Philippines their freedom, the Japanese government will be the first to sign an agreement for their neutralization."

And only recently Admiral Takahara, Japanese Minister of Marine, issued a statement to the United Press showing why Japan will respect the independence of the Philippines. Admiral Takahara said:

"To picture Japan as waiting for the United States to grant independence to the Philippine Islands so that she can pounce upon the archipelago the moment it is left without American naval defenses amounts saying that the treaty of Versailles, the Conference of Armaments and Pacific Questions at Washington, and the Locarno pacts are dead letters and wasted labor."
"Remarks implying to Japan an ambition to control the Philippines would be carefully avoided by all persons honestly interested in maintaining peace in the world. Such remarks can only serve to irritate the international relations unnecessarily. People who entertain the thought that Japan is waiting an opportunity to seize the Philippines are not only misguided but show an absolute lack of conception for the new trends of political thought now governing the world."

JAPAN IS FOR PEACE

"To anyone well posted in world opinion today it is apparent that any nation indulging in the old game of land grabbing is merely inviting disaster. For the sake of undisturbed friendship between the United States and Japan and for the sake of permanent peace in the Pacific upon which the destiny of the Japanese Empire depends, let me assert most emphatically that Japan neither foresees nor meditates any aggression from or against any particular power."

"We share the ideals of peace which inspired the statesmen of the great nations who have gathered many times in recent years to discuss methods for avoiding war and settling disputes by peaceful means. Japan is not behind any nation in her enthusiasm to work for permanent peace."

KOREA AND FORMOSA

"The history of Korea and Formosa cannot be taken as precedent for present or future Japanese policy. Our control of these countries resulted from particular circumstances and conditions which do not exist today. Korea is a peninsula directed arrow-like at the heart of Japan. With this arrow in alien hands, Japan's very existence was menaced. Twice we were forced to make tremendous sacrifices to defend our existence because of this situation. Circumstances finally compelled us to take measures which were necessary for our self-defense. The history of our presence in Formosa I will not reiterate, because it is too well known."

P. I. IS SAFE
"Now, let us examine the circumstances of the background of history in the Philippines. Under American administration the archipelago has not constituted any kind of a menace to Japan. I believe the situation would be the same if the islands were independent."
"It is stupid to assume Japan would seize the Philippines if they were made independent. We would not intrude in something which is not our affair. Dependent or independent, I believe an attempt on the part of any power to control the Philippines would be a direct path to war with the United States."

As a matter of fact, the Japanese government has not encouraged emigration to the Philippines. Although Philippine doors have been open to Japanese immigration,

Age of Politics Is Giving Way To Rule of Other More Powerful Forces, Says American Publicist

By GLENN FRANK

Again and again I have ventured the guess that we are passing out of an age of politics.

"You cannot isolate government," said Viscount Morley, "and judge it apart from the other and deeper forces of the time."

Congress, Parliaments, and Reichstags still make front page and capture the headlines, but life, for the man in the street, is more and more determined by forces outside the field of politics.

We are living under a double government.

One government grows out of the way the state is administered. The other government grows out of the way the business of the world is administered, and so on.

And this second non-political government is the more powerful of the two.

American relations with Russia afford, perhaps, the most dramatic illustration of this fact.

The American government thinks one thing about Russia.

American business thinks another thing about Russia.

Russia is not permitted to have a political embassy in Washington.

But Russia is permitted to have an economic embassy in New York.

Despite a diplomatic boycott, Russia and America go serenely on doing business as if political arrangements were not important.

Russia maintains a cash balance of something around $50,000,000 in the bank of New York.

Russia has banking credits hovering around a billion dollars in New York.

Russia has extensive industrial credit with our great exporting firms.

American business sees Russian purchases helping to absorb what might be our over-production and to allow an otherwise more extensive unemployment.

All this does not mean that American business men have turned Bolshevik or that they are any less opposed, by and large, to the current Russian theories of government; it means only that the life of the world is largely beyond politics.

Berkeley Girls Vanquish YWCA By 19 to 8 Score

Threat that Hoshi-no-Hana girls will defeat the strongest of teams toward the end of the season was made good Friday night at Oakland Technical high school court, when the girls trounced the highly touted Y. W. C. A. by 19 to 8 score.

Mary Harano and Toshi Fujii were the outstanding players of the evening, thrilling the spectators with their accurate shots from the sides of the court.

The Y. W. C. A. sextet, which was in a triple tie for the league title only a short time ago, was completely baffled by the furious attack of the University City girls, who had heretofore lost all the games played this season.

The San Francisco girls, however, fought gallantly until the last minutes under great handicaps. The absence of Mary Tsujisaka, stellar forward, was directly responsible for this defeat, together with injury to the hand sustained by Shizu Goto.

Miss Kaoru Miura, Maki Ichiyasu, and Chizu Ichiyasu played an exceptionally good game, while among the others who starred for the Y were Michi Nishimoto, Nao Oka, Michi Yasukochi and Sophie Abe.

There are only about 12,000 Japanese in the islands as compared with about 120,000 in Hawaii, about 100,000 in the United States and Canada and about 37,000 in Brazil. And according to the Japanese Yearbook of 1926, in South America:

JAPANESE IN BRAZIL
"Brazil has now the largest number of Japanese laborers, about 37,000, who are living happy and peaceful mostly in San Paulo, where they own, roughly 165,000 acres of farm besides leasing a quarter more. Japanese laborers being welcome for exploiting the boundless wild in that vast country, it is considered by far the most desirable outlet for the congested population of Japan. A regular steamship service is run from Japan to Brazil."

Moreover, as stated by an American writer, Raymond Leslie Buell: "As long as Asia remained open to exploitation, the economic attraction of the Philippines would never have been great enough to lead to annexation which would probably have meant war with the United States. The only real reason why the Japanese military party has wished to annex the American possession in the Pacific is to use these possessions as bases to prevent the operation of an American fleet in the Orient. But since we have voluntarily agreed not to intervene, Japan's chief purpose in annexing the islands has been removed."

Japan's Davis Cup Team Given Praise By German Player

Special To The Japanese American News

BERLIN, March 8—In the opinion of Daniel Prenz, Germany's first ranking tennis player, Japan will survive at least until the inter-zone competition against the winner of the American zone finals.

The ace of German players declared: "I should think that Japan is lucky in that she is slated to meet Hungary in the first round. Without under-rating the Hungarian team in the least, I do not imagine they will be a match for the Japanese. The only player who is likely to bother Japan, is von Kelling, and I would not be surprised if Japan makes a clean sweep."

JAPANESE STARS RESPECTED
"Although I have never played against the rising Japanese pair, Ota and Abe, their ability is well known to me. I have a wholesome respect for Harada, who a few years ago, created a considerable sensation on the European courts. Summing it all up I do not see where Japan has anything to fear from

17-Year-Old Youth Invents Automatic Voice Typewriter

TOKYO, March 8—A machine which will typewrite automatically when dictation is given is said to have been invented here recently by a 17 year old boy.

The young inventor is Heizo Gondo who is attending the Kyotai middle school where he is in the fourth year. The invention took three years to complete and experts now inspecting the machine claim that its perfection will mean the elimination of typists.

"As far as Germany is concerned, she will be right off the reel up against a mighty tough proposition in Great Britain, with whom we battled neck and neck last year. Even if we can dispose of the German team has not been decided yet. I should like to invite the Japanese team for exhibition matches at the Red and White Tennis Club, of Berlin."

Prenz is but 25 years old and is as buoyant as he is good-looking.

FORD WANTS TO BUY NAVY

To Employ Metal For Scrap Iron To Build Cars

Special To The Japanese American News

TOKYO, March 8—The leading Tokyo papers, particularly the Japan Advertiser, gave much space to the announcement that Henry Ford can conceive of a situation whereby he would be willing to buy all the scrap metal of the world, if the London Conference would agree to sell them as junk.

The news, contained in a United Press dispatch from Fort Myers, Florida, intimates that Ford would then manufacture the metal of which these warships are built into automobiles. Ford, in an exclusive United Press interview, declared:

MAY BUY WHOLE NAVY
"I can conceive of conditions under which I would be willing to buy all the warships which the five-power conference in London might agree to scrap," Mr. Ford said. "My companies might even agree to buy all the navies of the world of the nations would agree to dismantle them. We would re-work the hulks of the ships into automobiles, tractors, airplanes, and other useful commercial implements. That would not end war, of course, but it might be of some help from the standpoint of economy."

"You cannot end war by just taking away the weapons of war. The only way to end war is to teach the fellows who profit from it that they will profit more from peace."

MORE SCIENTISTS SOUGHT
Mr. Ford pointed out that his steel plant at the River Rouge, Michigan, purchased and dismantled merchant ships and some war vessels scrapped and sold by the United States Shipping Board. "That was a profitable venture," he said, "and proves warships literally can be beaten into motor-cars."

The automobile manufacturer said he agrees with his neighbor here,

NIPPONESE NEAR GOAL IN CHEST DRIVE

Latest Report Shows $3171 Of Quota Of $3800 Attained

Sixteen per cent to go! On the verge of success, the local Japanese workers under M. Aoki in the Community Chest drive girded themselves Saturday for their last strong pull that will put the campaign over the top.

Friday's report given at the daily luncheon in St. Francis Hotel showed a total of $3,171.00, or 83.4 per cent of the $3,800.00 goal set for the Japanese division.

Considering the difficulties they have overcome in reaching this comparatively high mark in spite of eleven days of rain, the Japanese division workers are deserving of much praise, it was indicated by officials of the San Francisco Chest officials.

With Aoki's report of $580.85 at Friday's luncheon, it was intimated that the Japanese division will very probably achieve its quota by the time the drive comes to an end on Tuesday, March 11. The campaign period had been postponed two days in order to make good the time lost on account of bad weather. The next report will be made on Monday, and the final one will be delivered on Tuesday.

Four American divisions have already gone over the top, and the total for the entire city in the drive has mounted up to $2,157,022, which is 94.3 per cent of the $2,290,000 goal.

the right place, is a splendid thing to do, and is a mark of good citizenship.

Here are more jokes sent to us by "Speedy" Kitajima (in another letter). His address is P. O. Box 446, Walnut Grove, California.

"Why do they burn soft coal in a locomotive?"
"So it won't hurt the tender."

John: Do you know the best way to stop the water from coming in to the house?
Alfred: I can't imagine.
John: Just don't pay the water bill.

Kiyo S. Wish you had come down to the house last night. We had a swell time.
Takahashi: How's that?
Kiyo S. My sister had the mumps.

"Speedy" wishes that everybody would write to him.
