CABINET PASSES FOREIGN OFFICE'S TEXT ACCEPTING NAVAL PROPOSALS OF U. S.

Inouye Promises Yamanashi Part Of 600 Million Yen Savings To Be Used For Navy Air Force Building

Special To The Japanese American News
TOKYO, April 1.—The draft of Japanese instructions to London, as prepared by the Foreign Office after three weeks of debate with the high naval officers, was today approved by the Imperial Cabinet at the request of Premier Yuko Hamaguchi, and steps were taken to have the text dispatched to Chief Delegate Wakatsuki without delay.

Under these instructions, the Japanese delegates at London will be empowered to negotiate a treaty, accepting the United States proposals with no change in figures, but with the following three reservations:

1. The Japanese agreement will expire at the end of 1936.
2. In the category of the big cruisers carrying 8-inch guns, Japan does not give up in principle its contention for 70 per cent ratio, and she retains the right to forward this claim at the next naval conference.
3. Japan recognizes the submarine parity with U. S. at 52,700 tons, with reservations that Japan be permitted to construct some new ships in order to enable her to retain technical experts.

GREAT SAVINGS

By the acceptance of the United States proposals, Japan will save approximately 600,000,000 yen in naval construction up to the date of the treaty expiration, it is estimated here. Admiral Yamanashi, vice-minister of navy, obtained a promise from Finance Minister Inouye today to devote a part of this saving to the development of the naval air force.

At today's Cabinet Council all Ministers were present with the exception of Gen. Ogaki, Army Minister, who is at present stricken with illness, and Admiral Takarabe, Navy Minister, who is in London negotiating for a naval accord. Admiral Yamanashi vice-minister of navy, and Admiral Hiro were also present.

UNANIMOUS APPROVAL

Premier Hamaguchi opened the session at his official residence with explanation of the process by which the Foreign Office's text of reply to London was drafted. He then demanded the unanimous acceptance of the text in accordance with Cabinet's policy of supporting the new trend for international amity and good will.

Foreign Minister Shidehara gave further explanations of the text, which was finally approved after a four-hour session. The Foreign Office then immediately took steps to dispatch the instructions to London.

Prior to this Cabinet session Premier Hamaguchi summoned Admiral Okada, former naval minister; Admiral Kanji Kato, chief of naval staff; and Vice-Minister Yamanashi to his official residence to explain the Japanese stand in respect to international relations. He urged acceptance of the Japanese text, inasmuch as Japan reserves the right to re-submit its 70 per cent claims at the next naval parity.

NAVY'S STAND

Both Admiral Okada and Kato declared that the Navy's stand is unchanged in spite of the Premier's explanation, but they asserted that they have no choice but approve if Hamaguchi insists upon carrying out his government policy. But they expressed their regret over the Premier's decision.

Later the high naval officers held a conference at the official residence of the Navy Minister, Admiral Okada, representing the Navy, paid a visit to Fleet Admiral Togo and explained the Navy's stand and the decision of the Cabinet.

BRAZIL OPEN TO JAPANESE

Farm Worker, Artisan Urged by Journalist To Emigrate

TOKYO, April 1.—(UP)——Brazil offers an attractive field for a limited number of high class Japanese emigrants, preferably agricultural workers and artisans, Raul Bopp, Brazilian newspaper man and economic investigator, told members of the Japan-Brazil Society in Kobe.

A majority of Japanese who emigrate to Brazil are successful and add to the wealth of that country, the journalist said, emphasizing the sparse population of Brazil in contrast to its vast area of arable land.

The journalist will spend some time in the Far East investigating economic and trade conditions.

YMBA DOWNS NISSEI FIVE

The local YMBA cagers, champions of past season's JAAU basketball league of the Bay region, avenging their recent defeat from the same team, trounced the Nissei Varsity 27 to 26, in a return game staged Saturday night at the local Community House court.

The Berkeley boys, determined to repeat their victory over the same team a week ago by the score of 36 to 32, opened the game with a bang. The San Francisco boys, however, were equally determined, and at the end of the game saw them deadlocked at 23 to 23.

The extra five minutes gave the hard fighting Buddhists the required margin of one point.

For the Buddhists, Toshi Shimizu, Duke Itatani, and George Hagitwara played good game. Yusen Shimizu also lived up to his reputation by scoring nine points.

Shinji Yamamoto was outstanding for the Nissei five.

The preliminary game between the second teams of the two organizations was won by Berkeley Nissei, 18 to 12. Mihara led the Green and Red cagers to a comparatively easy victory. "Come Back" Matsui of the YMBA stole the whole show by starting with a long shot and invading the opponents' territory whenever given a chance.

Toshi Seki was the other star for the locals.

FIGHTING THE UNFAMILIAR

By GLENN FRANK
Yesterday I spoke of a brilliant Scotchman's interesting if somewhat crude and fantastic prophecy of radio universality with their elaborate structures and extensive grounds.

Without taking his prophecy too seriously or too literally, I tried to point out that the existence of the radio, the talking film, and television does suggest that the inventor is giving us the instruments and raw materials for a revolutionary departure in the means and methods of education.

If and when we really get around to utilizing these new instruments in education, we could gain several generations in progress if we could break our inveterate habit of fighting the unfamiliar and if we could break our even more wasteful habit of compelling the unfamiliar to fit into the ancient forms of the familiar.

JAPAN HOLDS BLOOM FETE

Vendors Kept Busy As Cherry Blossom Season Opens

By MILES W. VAUGHN
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, April 1.—(UP)—(Tuesday)—Millions of Japanese who jam themselves into railway trains to attend the Cherry Blossom festivals held throughout the Empire this month will get their rice and fish lunches cheaper than they have for years.

Food vendors who swarm in railway stations throughout the country lowered prices today. Ordinary "bentos" were from 10 to 25 per cent cheaper than yesterday. Dealers announced the reduction after their attention to its effort to bring down prices following stabilization of the yen and removal of the embargo on exports of gold last January.

The "bento" is an institution in Japan. It consists of two neat boxes of clean, thin white cedar, one filled with rice and the other with bits of fish, meat, vegetables and pickles — including pickled "daikon" — a favorite Japanese dainty which would make a basket of garlic faint with envy. Chopsticks are furnished with each bento. They are of plain white pine, made by hand by peasants in the mountains during the winter months and supplied the bento dealers at one yen, or 50 cents gold, per thousand.

To Occidentals, Japanese travelers appear the world's champion eaters. They purchase food at every railway station and wash it down with tea, sake, beer or an insipidly sweet brown beverage which the sellers call coffee. A sizable lunch—rice and all—costs only 15 cents gold. Beer can be had at 42 sen, or 21 cents gold a large bottle. Sake is comparatively cheap, the price depending on the quality. Milk, which the Japanese are coming to drink in increasing quantities despite their old prejudice against animal products, is more expensive. An eight-ounce bottle costs seven and one half cents gold, or 15 sen.

Every Japanese town has some dish for which it is famous and these foods usually are sold at its railway station, if in season. Eels and rice are a favorite delicacy. Sections of eel, neatly grilled, are served on a large bowl of hot rice for 25 cents gold. The buyer gets bowl and all and can carry the attractive earthen bowl home with him if he wishes.

"O soba," favorite dish of the lower classes, cannot be bought in railway stations, however. It is of many varieties but always with a backbone of spaghetti-like noodles made of barley flour and boiled in a soup flavored with soy. The elaborate varieties may have bits of seaweed, rich in iodine, mixed through the noodles and pieces of duck meat, beef, pork or small lobsters fried in batter on top.

In season the small Japanese tangerine oranges called "mikan" are on sale in every railway station and millions of them are consumed by travelers, adding to the duties of the train boys who are kept busy sweeping fruit skins from the floors of the cars.

With reports of the capture of Kefeng, provincial capital of Honan and other indications of northern hostilities a new complication was added to China's civic nomenclature today.

Rumors that the northerners intend to proclaim Peiping the capital of China once again and return its former name of Peking were received here.

It was also reported that they planned to rename Nanking, Nanking, or Southern Peace.

This habit means the loss of untold years in progress whenever hush-hush instrument.

LION CLUBS HONOR HIGH SPORT ACES

Several Japanese Are Praised at Stately Fete in Auburn

Special To The Japanese American News
AUBURN Calif., April 1.—Several Japanese were included among the forty star athletes of the Placer Union high school who were given a brilliant banquet last week-end by the Lions Clubs of Auburn, Newcastle, and Colfax.

More than 150 people gathered for this party, held to honor the three basketball teams, all champions in their respective class of the Central and Northern California C. I. F. League.

By far the most outstanding player of the entire season for the locals was "Bugs" Suzuki of Loomis. He originally played on the Class C team, but during the mid-season he was promoted to the B team.

Other flashy Japanese players are Toshio Kawachi in the unlimited team; Bugs Suzuki, George Ichikawa, and Dave Takagishi in the B team; Kim Takeda, Jack Suzuki, Nakadai Harry Fujita and Jonathan Takagishi on the C team.

In this C division Coach Earl Crabb can and did put five Japanese players on the floor at one time to represent their high school. And it is thought that this combination was as good as any Class C midgeet team in the state of California.

The prominent men present at this occasion were Coach Nibs Price of the University of California, Coach Earl Crabb of Placer Union High, District Attorney Orrin J. Lowell, and members of the faculty, basketball officials, as well as county and state officials.

The most colorful event of the evening was the long and warm applause that was given Bugs Suzuki, who is declared by some of his supporters to be as good as or better than any other high school basketball player in the state regardless of class.

1,000 Persons Take Part in Frog Raising

TOKYO, April 1.—(UP)——Exports of frog legs from the vicinity of Tsu, Miye prefecture, now amount to 1083 pounds per month and are increasing as rapidly as growers can raise frogs. Shipments are being made to both Europe and America, with exporters unable to meet the demand.

Upwards of 1,000 persons in the district now own 300,000 frogs which are being retained for breeding purposes in the hatching season from April to May. Each female frog is expected to lay some 20,000 eggs.

Salinas Buddhists Will Celebrate Buddha's Birthday With Production Of Two Famous Japan Class Plays

Hi School League Stages Party at Methodist Church

The girls of the High School League are still talking about the wonderful social held by the organization on Friday evening at the Japanese M. E. Church.

Many interesting games were played under the leadership of Miss Chizu Ichiyasu, social chairman, and many prizes were awarded.

Refreshments were served afterwards by a committee consisting of Misses Chizu Ichiyasu, Sophie Abe, Kiyo Enomoto, Kiyo Doi, Tomi Nambu and Toshihiko Kitano.

The guests were the Misses Yuki Kuwahara, Secll Davies, and Miss Elaine Okl.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLUB

This is the exquisite little poem that Rose Kubo of Morton Ranch, Douglas, Wyoming, chime and copied for us. She says, "It is by E. H. Zimmerman. I found it in The Target."

Rose has learned just the proper, well-versed, artistic thing to do. We are proud of her.

THE MOCKING BIRD

By E. H. Zimmerman (In The Target.)
Early in the dawn I heard
All alone, a mocking bird.

He sang in sliding notes and bars
That twinkled like a burst of stars.

With such a song, I thought that he
A gorgeous looking bird must be.

Of rose, and green, and parrot blue,
And every iridescent hue!

But, as I watched him through my curtain
(He was the singer, that was certain!)

I saw a bird in sober grey.
His song, alone, was rainbow gay!

Kan Uyeda, of R. D. 1, Box 95, Garland Utah, sends us these original jokes:

NOT THE SAME

Daddy at supper: "Eat bread and jam and meat and . . ."

Johnny: "Eat milk and cocoa and tea and coffee etc!"

JUST AWAKE

Henry: "Isn't March windy?"

GIRL ENVOYS WILL ARRIVE HERE TODAY

Local Societies Will Tender Luncheon at Ogawa Hotel

The five girls from Japan, dispatched from Tokyo and Yokohama to thank the American people for the relief given at the time of the great 1923 earthquake disasters, will arrive Tuesday morning aboard the Dollar liner President Pierce, which docks at Pier 44 at 9 a. m.

Leading Japanese and American residents are expected to extend them a warm welcome at the pier. After a short rest at the Fairmont Hotel, where they are due to arrive soon after leaving the boat, these girls will make a formal call at the office of the mayor at 11 a. m.

The party will then make calls at the San Francisco Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Chamber of Commerce, followed by a luncheon at the Ogawa Hotel. This affair is being sponsored jointly by the Japanese Association of San Francisco and the League of Local Japanese Women's Clubs.

RADIO BROADCAST

At 2 p. m. the party will leave for Fox movie studio, where the girls will have their pictures taken and voices recorded for distribution in the American movie theaters. Then they will broadcast messages of good will and gratitude over the National Broadcasting network.

After calling at the four American dailies, they will go to the office of the YMCA for a tea. The day will end up with a banquet at the Japanese Consul General's mansion at 6:30 o'clock and a theater party to Fox Theater at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Dollar line.

VISITS JAPANESE PAPERS

On Wednesday the girls will go to San Rafael for a luncheon given in their honor by Mrs. Newhall, wife of the president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Late in the afternoon they will make calls at the local Japanese newspapers and societies.

The party is composed of the Misses Kimi Ashino, Sumiko Tokuda, Yoshiko Sato, Yoshiko Matsudaira, and K. Nakamura.

ple have written about it. In a certain sense telling the story again is "original work." We think that Kan has partly hold it again and partly used words that he has read and heard.

Anyway he has done well with it. And we are glad to have it. If he had told us more about where he got the ideas for it we should print it. We are, instead, loaning it to anyone who will ask for it and send an addressed, stamped envelope.

STORY OF THE INTENDED PURCHASE

had been circulating for some time, but the actual purchase came as a surprise to many. Thos. M. Yego, the purchaser, is at present president of the Newcastle YMES, vice president of the Northern California YMBA and vice president of the Placer YMBA. He is now organizing a citizens' league in this county. In addition he is scoutmaster of Troop 23.
