YMBA PLANS 1931 PARLEY IN SALINAS

North American Confab Installs New Cabinet in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—Tokumatsu Takemori of Stockton heads the cabinet as chief director of the North American Federation of Young Men's Buddhist Federation, according to announcement made yesterday by the local Buddhist officials in charge of the last convention held here for three days, April 23, 24, 25.

The new cabinet consists of: Tokumatsu Takemori (Stockton), chief director; Frank Y. Sakamoto (Los Angeles), asst. chief director; Shigeru Konakura (Berkeley), 2nd asst. chief director; Kikuo Taira (San Francisco), corresponding secretary; Masao Araki (Dinuba), recording secretary.

Masao Yamate (Sac'to), treasurer; Noboru Tsunoda (Santa Barbara), asst. treasurer; Masao Kubose (Berkeley), Research chair; Katsuchi Inouye (Oakland), asst. research chair; Solchi Sawada (Florin), social chair; John Uchida (Sacramento), asst. social chair; George Hagiwara (San Francisco), athletic chair; "Duke" Hatani (San Francisco), asst. athletic chair; Rev. J. Terakawa (Stockton), advisor.

It was decided at the convention that the 1931 parley will be held in Salinas. The Federation will send at least ten or twelve delegates to the Pan Pacific Y. M. B. A. Convention to be held in Hawaii this summer.

The Los Angeles convention was sponsored chiefly through the initiative of the Southern Chapter of the Federation, whose organization was effected some two months ago and whose territory covers the regions of Imperial Valley, San Diego, San Luis Obispo and Los Angeles. More than 70 delegates from the different parts of the state attended.

The Santa Barbara and Berkeley Otani Y. M. B. A. groups applied for admission in the Federation, and their applications were unanimously accepted.

3 Popular Salinas Girls Return From Tour Through Japan

Special To The Japanese American News SALINAS, April 25.—Three popular members of the local Y. M. B. A. returned last week from a month's trip to Japan, reaching the San Francisco port aboard the new super motor-liner Chichibu Maru. They are the Misses Yoshiko, Chizuko, and Hisae Matsumune.

During their trip, they were accompanied by their parents, brothers, and a sister.

Probably on the first Sunday of May they will tell to the Sunday School pupils their "Nihon's Omiyage Banashi."

MAN INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Rosen Hurt When His Car Hits That of S. Morishita

Severe injuries were sustained by Jacob Rosen, 50, residing at 1546 Anza street, as a result of an automobile smash-up which occurred Thursday afternoon at the corner of Fulton and Webster streets. The automobile in which he was a passenger collided with the delivery car driven by Shigeo Morishita, 26, employee of the People's Laundry, 165 Tenth street.

Rosen was rushed to the Central Emergency Hospital by George Higgins. Rosen received contusion of the right hip. His car was driven by Frank Jones, 46, 1029 Mission St. Jones contended that he stopped his car when the arterial signal required him to do so. Morishita, on the other hand, told the police that Jones disregarded the signals.

NAVAL PACT PRAISED BY SHIDEHARA

Minseito Foes Attack Cabinet for Failure To Get 70 Pct.

Special To The Japanese American News TOKYO, April 25.—Baron Kijuro Shidehara, Minister of Foreign Affairs, today declared in his report to the Diet that the London Naval Treaty is in effect a signal success from the Japanese standpoint. He buttressed this contention with facts and figures.

Premier Hamaguchi, in his message to the Diet, outlined the general policies of the Ministry. His speech, contrary to expectations, only took 12 minutes to deliver.

In the Upper House, Kihachi Kokuo scored Hamaguchi for his report to the Diet in connection with the embolism of Ichita Kohashi, former Minister of Education, in the bribe scandal. Yosaburo Takekoshi augmented the attack by severely criticizing the financial depression and the widespread unemployment in the Empire.

In the Lower House, Tanyoshi Inagaki, president of the Seiyukai party, flayed the government for its inability to obtain in principle and in fact Japan's contention for a 70 per cent. Forty-seven other deputies, all Seiyukai members, deposited requests with the speaker for the privilege of speaking in the Lower House, all bent on criticizing the government.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLUB

BIRTHDAYS—Rose Watanabe

On a gay piece of writing paper came this letter:
Dear Obsasan:
I didn't send a letter for a long time. But do you remember the poem I sent? The name of it was "There Was a Monkey." You asked me where I got that. I got it from the Mother Goose Rhymes Book."

(Thank you ever so much for telling us. Next time you send us something, you will remember, I am sure, to tell us, when you send it, just where you got it. Then your name will go on our Honor List—Obsasan.)

I read that you were learning how to write kata kana I will write my name in four different ways.
(They are most interesting. I wish that I could do that! I'd ask to have them printed as you wrote them, but it would take too much of the printers' time I am afraid—

Yours truly,
Tsukino Mizuki

Journalist Writes Book on History of California Japanese

Special To The Japanese American News LOS ANGELES, April 25.—"Historical Review of the Japanese in America," is the title of the new book just issued by its author, Shikuma Washizu, a pioneer Japanese journalist. The book is nearly 400 pages in length and treats in detail such subjects as the earliest Japanese settlers on the Pacific Coast states, their enterprises on the soil, the anti-Japanese movements, the anti-Japanese land laws, and the Japanese language schools, and the second generation.

YW SET FOR 9TH BENEFIT

3 Plays on Schedule For Tonight At Kinmon Hall

With a large proportion of the tickets sold in advance, the ninth annual entertainment of the local Japanese Y. W. C. A. is expected to draw a large crowd when it is produced on Saturday night, April 26, at the Kinmon Gakuen auditorium on Bush street. The program opens at 8 p. m.

Judging from the rehearsals, each of the three plays on the program is expected to make a decided dramatic hit with the audience. The last and main number, "Terakoya," is more widely known to the Western audience as the "Pine Tree." It is a Kabuki play given in English.

The other attractions are the "Rumble-still-skin," a dance fantasy in four scenes, and the one-act comedy "Florist Shop."
Miss Maki Ichiyasu, president of the Inter-Echo Council, will be the chairman of the evening.

TOKYO OFFICIALS BREAK UP CITY TRAMWAY STRIKE

TOKYO, April 25.—The Tokyo municipal tramway workers' strike, which for a time threatened a general tram tie-up of the city's main line or rail traffic, was today disrupted completely by the initiative and force of the municipal authorities.

Monterey Christian Endeavors Observe Easter Celebration

Special To The Japanese American News MONTEREY, April 25.—An Easter Social was held at the Monterey Church of Christ, Saturday evening, April 19. This was sponsored by the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society.

The evening was opened by singing hymns, Miss Nobu Manaka at the piano. Many new and peppy games were enjoyed by all the members. Tasty refreshment was served at the close of the evening.

The members responsible for the delightful evening were:
Refreshments—Miss Nobu Manaka, chair.
Games—Robert Takiguchi, chair.

EAST AND WEST

By GLENN FRANK
Eastern civilization and Western civilization to be one of conflict or of cooperation?

On the answer to this question much of the future and fortune of our children and of our children's children will depend.

Both Eastern and Western civilization can be immeasurably enriched by mutual understanding. A thousand and one influences are at work creating suspicion and hatred between East and West.

Whether by drift or by design, the United States has become the symbol of Western civilization born of science and the machine. Because of this fact, the attitude and policy of the United States towards the East may, more than any other single thing, determine whether the vast potential power of Asia shall be developed in the interests of a common humanity or as another vast aggregation of power to be thrown into another suicidal world conflict.

It will be a calamity to posterity if, in the years ahead, America is not able to breed a heavier quota of world-minded citizens and leaders.

An old cry of art—that only

China Actor, Mei Fan-Lang, Stresses Art in Stage Talk

An old cry of art that only through a superb mastery of technique can an artist attain real freedom—was brought from far Peking to the San Francisco Center Thursday. Bringing the message, was the great Mei Lan-Fang and his co-workers in the cause of Chinese drama. Dr. P. C. Chang and Miss So Young, Mei declared he had come to this country to study the American theater and also to present to the American theatergoers his way of doing things. Art, he named, as the best vehicle for the bringing about of world understanding.

TELLS OF TRAINING

Chang, acting head of Nankai University, and himself a playwright and producer, said: "Seven years of training is required of a Chinese actor before he can go upon the stage. He learns all the traditions and patterns of the stage, but not the reason for them. He is usually too young to learn that. And when, with this training, he has the genius to grow out of the bonds of these patterns but with them all at his finger-tips, imagine how free he is. How many such perfect control of pattern and stylization."

Reality, but not actuality, was the characterization given by Chang of Chinese drama.

DRAMA PURIFIED EMOTION

"It's intellectual, purified emotion," he said. "It undertakes to do with it to do with it. It makes important, not the setting, but what the human beings do in that setting. It brings the audience to the appreciation of the 'howness' of things. Mr. Mei's appearance in America may help answer the question so pertinent since the talkies have come: "What can we do with real people on the stage?" The unique Chinese theater, combining as it does drama, music, dancing, pantomime and story telling, may give Occidental drama lovers one or two things to consider in the solving of that question."

Yamaoka Plays Bit In Talking Picture

Otto Yamaoka, former Seattleite and charter member of the Guedners, played the part of Sam, the houseboy, in William Powell's latest talking picture, "The Benson Murder Case," which showed to capacity crowds at the Seattle Paramount Theater last week.
