LABOR DEPT. GRANTS MAN STAY RIGHT

Japanese Auto Buyer Wins Staying Right in America

Special to The Japanese American News. LOS ANGELES, June 7.—A Los Angeles produce man, Katsumi Horikawa, has just been notified that he has won his appeal to the Labor Department. He is not only permitted to stay in the United States indefinitely, but can call his wife and children from Japan.

Mr. Horikawa came to San Francisco from the Fukushima Prefecture in October 1926. His passport visa stated that he was working for the Fujimoto Auto Company and had come to America to buy automobiles. Therefore, he was an international trader and there would be no limit to his stay in America.

Upon his arrival in San Francisco, he was asked by immigration officials as to when he expected to return to Japan. He gave his stay as approximately one year, and was allowed to land as a temporary visitor.

Shortly after that the Fujimoto Company went bankrupt and Mr. Horikawa was forced to change his calling. He became a commission merchant dealing in vegetables.

His one year time limit was soon up and he was arrested last February. Assisted by the legal advisors, Nakamura and Boen, he appealed to the Labor Department.

The Labor Department's reply in granting him the right to an indefinite stay in America, as well as the right to call his family from Japan, was based upon the ruling that the Labor Department has no right to change visas.

An establishment of this ruling is big news for many Japanese in America today and in the future for it will be a means of salvation for many a Japanese business man.

YMCA JAPAN TOUR.
The Southern California division of the Y. M. C. A. has chosen eleven American youths to go on a good will voyage to Japan on the Taty Maru June 9. Under the leadership of M. Waterman, the boys will visit not only Japan, but also China, Korea and Manchuria.

At San Francisco Governor C. C. Young will be a host at a special banquet when he will present each of the boys a certificate designating them ambassadors of good will.

The members of the party are upperclass high school men, high school graduates and junior college men. They will sail for home on the Chichibu Maru on August 25. While in Japan, they will be guests of the Japan Y. M. C. A.

LECTURES ON ORIENT.
Rev. Kojiro Unoura of the Christian Church is now making plans for a summer course in Oriental civilization for the Japanese young people of high school and college age.

Dr. Harvey H. Guy, scholar in Oriental civilization and a student of Oriental philosophy and religion, has consented to deliver a series of lectures in the course.

Japanese Fishermen in Plea for Change of Russo-Japan Pact

TOKYO, June 7.—(UP)—A petition demanding complete revision of the existing Russo-Japanese Fisheries Treaty, was submitted to the recent session of the Imperial Diet. The petition bore 1,158 signatures and was presented by Sakumi Sakamoto, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Hakodate.

The fishermen charge that recurrent troubles in the fishing grounds are the direct result of faulty clauses in the treaty and demand a new agreement which will prevent encroachments of Russians on territory hitherto fished by the Japanese, will recover grounds already lost by such encroachments and will allocate to Japan at minimum prices the lots which were not taken this year due to the increase made in the upset price by Soviet authorities.

Ball Games in San Jose and Alameda Carded for Sunday

The Bay district Japanese baseball team will enter its sixth week of lively contest for championship this Sunday when two games are reeled off respectively in Alameda and San Jose.

The Showa Club will cross bats with the Alameda Taiiku at the latter's home ground, while San Jose Asahi will encounter Oakland Merritts at the Garden City.

Both games are scheduled at 2 p. m. These four leading teams of the Bay region will invade Southern California in four weeks to meet the L. A. Nippons and other leading Southern California nines.

Seattle Airmen Seek Prizes From Japan and America

SEATTLE, June 7.—(UP)—Gerald Smith and John R. Allen are going to try to fly from Tokyo to Seattle, they said today. The statement followed previous flat denials by the pair that such a trip was proposed.

They will leave Seattle on the S. S. President Taft June 28 for Yokohama, they said.

The two will seek $25,000 offered in Seattle for the first non-stop flight from Japan to Seattle and also will seek $50,000 reported to have been offered in Japan.

Their plane will be of all metal, a 450 horsepower Thaden. Smith has had a flyer since 1915 and has had 6,000 hours of flying. Allen has been flying since 1921.

Smith is married and has a daughter in high school. He flew along the Aleutian Islands for the first patrol two years, and they will follow that route in coming down the coast on the circle.

Allen has been a resident of Seattle for about three years. His parents reside at La Grande, Ore. He served as a lieutenant in a flying instructor during the war.

We are beginning today a letter from Shime Onishi, R. F. D. 1, Paul Idaho. And it is the only waiting letter, except two or three that we cannot print until the question that we have asked have been answered.

Dearest Obasan,
Have you heard of the National Spelling Bee Contest? This was the first time Idaho had ever entered. I was the Paul School champion and runner-up of Minidoka County. I got a School Certificate and a silver medal for spelling. I hope some others of our members got to be champions and runners-up.

(Congratulations! We are very proud of you!—Obasan.)
(We know that some other members have done splendid school work. We have read of some on this page. Congratulations to all of you who have "FRIED HARD." That is the big thing." This letter continued next time.—Obasan.)

PRAISE GIVEN FISHER WHO SAVED 2 MEN

Japanese Deed Stirs Appreciative Story in 'Carmelite'

Special to The Japanese American News. MONTEREY, June 7.—In a story fraught with charm of style and beauty of sentiment, the Carmelite, a literary journal for the artist colony, lauds the heroic efforts of a Japanese who rescued two Americans off Point Lobos, near Carmel. Here is the story in full:

In a flimsy fishing shack in the lee of Point Lobos, a family of Japanese live from the sea.

The men dive for abalone and fish for rock cod; the mother and younger children help with common tasks. Life is a constant struggle against hardship. Every hand must do its share in the daily effort to survive. Last week a skiff overturned in And all do—calmly and bravely, heavy seas offshore. The tragedy of three deaths is relieved only by the heroism of these same Japanese, who manned a small boat and rescued two men of another race. They did their task calmly and quietly, risking a similar fate themselves.

And a few days ago Ben Wetzel, one of the rescued men, drove through the Lobos toll-gate to stop at the house of the Japanese fishermen. He walked up to the open door and asked for the men who had saved his life. Smilingly they appeared, and smiling they shook hands—but they became very serious and protesting when Wetzel tried to make them take a roll of ten dollar bills. Utter refusal. Their code of honor did not include taking money for saving a man's life. Perhaps Wetzel offered them a hundred dollars—perhaps a thousand—maybe more and maybe less. His every attempt to make them take the treasuries that he proffered met refusal.

He held them out to an old woman. She would not take them. He pushed them into the pockets of a young boy, out they came—and back to Wetzel. In desperation, he tossed the money into a corner of the room, and raced for his car—the old woman caught him before he reached it, and made him take the roll back again.

Wetzel walked back to the house. He was determined to do something to show his gratitude.

"I have five acres of land—good truck land," said Wetzel, "which I want you to use. I want to give you a free lease on it for twenty years."

"Maybe sometime, not now," was the answer. "Japanese not take gift for saving life."
The offer remains open.

The Carmelite commends the foregoing to the attention of the organizations which are visibly perturbed at the prospects of Japanese being placed on a basis of equality with other aliens in regards to admission to these United States.

'Long Last Measles! Long Last Vacation! But School Suffers'
Special to The Japanese American News. CLOVIS, June 7.—It looks like the school children of this district are having a longer vacation than those of other regions.

The Clovis school was announced closed until further notice due to an epidemic of measles, which recently flared up in this vicinity.

The Japanese language school is still having its sessions, but the attendance is reported low.

Placer to be Scene of Japanese Track Tournay on June 15
Special to The Japanese American News. PENNYN, June 6.—With a record number of scantily clad athletes entered in the events, the second annual Placer County Japanese track and field meet will take place on Sunday, June 15, at Placer Union High School from 1 p. m.

Three clubs, Newcastle Y. M. C. E. S., Loomis Y. M. C. E., and Placer Y. M. C. A., will fight it out in class A or unlimited division. The B division will be contested by the grammar school age, will be contested by Newcastle, Loomis, and Pennyryn youngsters, while girls of Auburn, Newcastle, Loomis and Pennyryn will vie in the girl's special events, which include 50 yard dash, 75 yard dash, 100 yard dash, broad jump, high jump, baseball throw and relay.

It is hoped by the committees in charge that the boys and girls will establish creditable records, in which event they will be sent to compete in the annual J. A. U. track and field meet next season.

Among the leaders who met at the Placer Y. M. C. A. to discuss details of the meet were M. Furutani, L. Oki, Herbert Tokutomi, Marcel Kawada and Thomas Tayama. The meet is being sponsored jointly by the young peoples organizations in Placer County.

Granddaughter of Emperor Meiji, Princess Kikuko Asaka, Is Trothed to Marquis Nabeshima's Successor

Engaged

Princess Kikuko

Special to The Japanese American News. TOKYO, June 7.—The Department of the Imperial Household has just announced the betrothal of Princess Kikuko Asaka, eldest son of Marquis Nabeshima.

On her mother's side Princess Kikuko is a granddaughter of the late Emperor Meiji, for her mother, Princess Nobuko, is the eighth daughter of Emperor Meiji. Princess Kikuko is now taking a post graduate course in the Peeres' School where she won attention by her ability to compose excellent "uta" like her memorable grandfather.

Princess Kikuko is nineteen years old and was born in September 1911. Marquis Nabeshima's son is twenty three.

'GOODYE S. F. HELLO TOKIO HERE WE IS!'

S. F.-Tokyo Air Line Costly, But Certain Time Saver

Special to The Japanese American News. TOKYO, June 7.—"Hooray! A two weeks' vacation! Let's take a trip to Japan!"

That's what people will be saying soon for a group of leading businessmen in Japan are planning to open an air line between San Francisco and Tokyo.

Yesterday evening the first meeting was held at the Kogyo Club at Marunouchi, Tokyo. According to their plan, the company will use three Zeppelin style airships carrying 40 passengers each. The company is starting with a capital of 120,000,000 yen.

It is planned to open the line about August or September of next year. If the results are good, another line to Paris will be started.

But alas and alack! The fare will be 1,800 yen or $800, and that isn't a round trip, either.

SHARK BITE KILLS UENO
Tetanus Germ Sets in Wound Inflicted by Seven-Foot Fish

Special to The Japanese American News. SAN DIEGO, June 7.—A Japanese fisherman, Sannosuke Ueno, 25, died yesterday from an affliction of tetanus, resulting from a shark bite suffered recently. While on his maiden voyage on the fishing vessel owned by Tokunoshige Abe, the young man found his net entangled by a seven-foot shark. He fought the shark with a gaff, when suddenly it leaped up and bit off Ueno's right hand.

Ruler's Guard Plans Vagabond Journey as Nippon Don Quixote
TOKYO, June 7.—(UP)—After 18 years of honorable, and on one occasion, heroic service with the Imperial Police, the force designated to guard the Emperor and his palaces, Yasushi Sano, 43, has decided to turn a vagabond—but a vagabond with a purpose.

Except for the fact that he will seek out friendly human opponents and not windmills to fight, Sano might win the title of a Japanese Don Quixote. Being an expert in the ancient art of Shinal (fencing with bamboo swords) he intends to wander throughout the country, stopping wherever he finds another expert at Shinal and matching his skill with the opponent for the general betterment of the manly art.

Having saved sufficient money to pay his way, the former policeman has placed no limit on the time of his wanderings nor has he mapped out his course, other than to visit the graves of his ancestors.

For the rest of the time he will wander from city to city and village to village, stopping wherever he finds a worthy opponent of the Shinal. The policeman gained high praise from his superiors back in 1923. A notorious criminal had scaled the gateway to the Imperial Palace compound and was creeping across the sacred territory toward the Emperor's quarters, when Sano captured him after a fight.

AS I RECALL
By AN OLD TIMER
Yesterday twenty years ago was Monday, and today as a logical sequence it happened to fall on Tuesday. But the days of the week have no significance in the following stories I am supposed to write from my brilliant memory. I said, it just to prove to you, my most patient readers, how things register well in my mind, and how logical my thinking is. Well, now, what was I saying, and what was I proving? Well, that, too, has no significance in my stories.

Many men give big hands to these so-called emancipated women; but most men don't give a rap about them. It is in such indifference of men that the value and worth of masculine sex is observed. No woman even if she were to wear a pantaloons, could assume such a manly attitude of transcendental indifference.

More women drink now than they did before the 18th Amendment which laid the 1st flagstone of a path that will eventually lead to the complete emancipation of the feminine sex.

Japan Great User of Electric Light, Tokyo Survey Shows

TOKYO, June 7.—(UP)—Lighting by electricity has taken a strong hold on Japan, a country where many economic conditions have been unchanged for hundreds of years.

A survey conducted by the government shows that there were 23,919,000 electric light bulbs in use at the end of 1929. Tokyo led the list of users, with 105 bulbs per 100 persons.

JAPAN SENDS POLICE BODY
Japanese Thousands in Tsinan Region Endangered

Special to The Japanese American News. TOKYO, June 7.—The Government has decided today to dispatch an army of civil police to the Shantung district instead of a regular army to protect many Japanese living in that war zone.

Government officials indicated today that they were apprehensive about the situation in Tsinan, China, where 2000 Japanese residents are endangered by an impending attack by Shansi insurgents, who are fighting the Nanking Nationalists.

It is recalled that Tsinan was the scene of outrages in May, 1928, when the victorious Southern forces captured the city and brutally murdered thirty Japanese. The Tanaka government's policy of dispatching Japanese troops to Tsinan then was criticized by the present government party.

Hence, political observers now point out that Premier Hamaguchi's problem is most difficult, for he must protect the Japanese in Tsinan without sending troops.
