T. MAYEDA IS SPEAKER ON JAPAN LABOR

Night Lecture Opens Institute Meet in Berkeley

[Special to The Japanese American News] BERKELEY, Aug. 9.—Wheeler auditorium was crowded to capacity last night with a brilliant gathering of scholars and students of international affairs of world note in attendance at the sixth annual meeting of the Institute of International Relations. The meeting was opened by Robert G. Sprout, president of the University of California and chancellor of the institute.

One of the three speakers of the evening was Tamon Mayeda of the Tokyo Asahi Shimbun. Mr. Mayeda spoke on the labor conditions of Japan. Beginning with a rapid review of the history of Japan from ancient times through the restoration and the awakening of Japan, Mr. Mayeda prepared the background for the discussion of the labor conditions now prevalent in Japan.

MAYEDA'S ADDRESS

Mr. Mayeda's address was the first half of a discussion of the subject which he will continue Sunday evening.

"If you take into consideration the fact that while the number of organized workers throughout the world has shown a tendency to decrease during the past few years, due to worldwide economic depression, the number of organized workers in Japan has increased by leaps and bounds, you will realize the importance and promising future of their position," the speaker declared.

FREE OF INFLUENCE

"The labor movement has shown a moderate tendency since the earthquake of 1923, and at that time radical anarcho-syndicalism was discarded. It would be misleading to imply that since then the number of organized workers has grown from 70,000 to 330,000. The increase is all the more remarkable since it has been achieved in spite of severe economic depression and in spite of the very hostile attitude of the employers and the reluctant or indifferent attitude of the government.

WAR IS RUINOUS

"War today is the most colossal and ruinous disease that afflicts mankind. Yet the possibilities of war are greater than they ever were, for no nation in the world of airships and radio can withdraw into itself in splendid isolation. On this little globe of today we are all neighbors, made so, whether we like it or not, by transportation and electricity.

BRITISH POLICY TOLD

"England," he said, "is entirely dependent upon the outside world for its sustenance and, therefore, is committed to internationalism." "Severe tariff does not stop but only deflect trade," was his comment on America's recent tariff bill.

'YOUNG MAN, GO EAST,' MAY BECOME SLOGAN IN FUTURE

Thus Sayeth a Writer from Way Down in Dixieland

Who was it that said, "Young man, go west?" Well, whoever he was, he will have to recant maybe, for here is an opportunity which might lead him to say "Young man, go east."

Word comes from Georgia, (down in Dixie, not in the Caucasus mountains of Russia, or wherever the other Georgia is) that thousands of acres of the most fertile river bottom land exists in Georgia waiting for some enterprising Japanese to come and develop it.

"Stockton delta? Why this place in old Georgia has Stockton peat land beat a mile," says our informant from the east. According to the writer all a farmer needs to do to water his land is to wait for the tide to rise and water his land, and that, too, without bringing in salt water. That, by the way, might make it a fine place to raise rice, celery, and other crops which need a great deal of water.

Socially speaking it must be a fine place which welcomes Japanese and has as yet no laws against them, as the writer claims.

"Therefore, young man, go east," may be an apt and new advice thinks the writer. Anyway, variety is the spice of life, they say.

School Principal Elopes With Young, Attractive Pupil

[Special to The Japanese American News] FLORIN, Aug. 9.—The story that a local grammar school principal has eloped with his 14-year old pupil, one Dorothy Bonucelli is creating quite a sensation even among the Japanese residents here, since the two-thirds of the enrollment of the school the principal is connected with is made up of Japanese children.

Dorothy disappeared from her home on July 24, her parents said. It was first thought the girl was kidnapped. However, after piecing together the information that the principal disappeared about the same date and what the girl told to her schoolmates about her secrets it is concluded by the sheriffs here that the two eloped.

The principal has two sons, one four and another eight years old, and one six-year old daughter.

'BIG MISTAKE' ASK CHIEFS

New War Threatens as Council Members Weigh Text

[Special to The Japanese American News] TOKYO, Aug. 9.—The pot is still boiling in the Privy Council discussions concerning the London treaty. However, the matter concerning the setting of the memorandum submitted to the Emperor by the Naval board has been given up temporarily.

Members of the Investigation committee will be chosen by August 11 and it is expected that the first meeting of the committee can be held about August 14.

More fuel was recently added to the heat of the situation by rumors to the effect that the treaty had not been correctly translated. The only remark that Kijuro Shidehara, Minister of Foreign Affairs, would make was the sarcastic statement that if the rumors were true, then Naokiichi Matsunaga, head of the Treaty Recording bureau, and he would both take the old fashioned method of argument by committing hara-ki.

Investigation concerning the so-called "mistakes" revealed that the Privy Council were only trifling with words. For instance, Senate had been translated the Upper House, and metal measurements had been designated as "sumpo."

The controversy, however, has subsided now and it has been decided that the translation will be accepted as it stands.

The collection of printed works will include interesting reprints from Sung dynasty books, under the special charge of M. J. Hagerty of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a member of the advisory committee in charge of arrangements.

CROPS DOING WELL IN AUG. IS REPORTED

Favorable Weather Is Great Boon for Truck Farms

Favorable weather in virtually all of the truck crop sections of California during the week ended August 6 has produced normal growth in most vegetable crops, according to the California Co-operative Crop Reporting Service.

The melon harvest in the San Joaquin valley is well along and tomatoes are now holding the interest of most sections. From present indications the quality and production of fall vegetables should be above normal.

Peak of the cantaloupe shipments has passed, but the movement should hold fairly steady for another ten days. Watermelons should remain steady for the next two weeks, while lettuce loadings at the present time are influenced by market conditions, but could maintain a 90 to 100 car average should the market justify.

Western blight has taken considerable toll of tomato plants in the southern counties and in the San Joaquin valley, but in other sections vines are making good growth. A heavy set of blossoms and fruit is reported on the canning acreage, which will start harvest this month.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLUB

"Hello, everybody! Come and sit in my office with me, everybody, and gaze out into the white fog and mist of San Francisco. Is it very hot where you are? Then so much the better! It's cool here. In fact, it's cold, to be frank."

Happy birthday, Ruth, Hime, and Tsuyuko! Members, August 11 is the birthday of Ruth Suzuko Yamashita, Rt. Box 701, San Jose, California, and Hime Sasaki, 2462 Hill avenue, Ogden, Utah, and Tsuyuko Koga, P. O. Box 217, Dinuba, California.

Auntie is sitting here and wondering what all her nieces and nephews are doing. Maybe if I shut my eyes, I could see what you are doing.—Oh, look! Way out in Oklahoma someone is thinking of Aunt Mia. I can hear her talking.

"Hello, Miss er—Oh, dear! I've forgotten the young lady's name. Anyway, she's the one that has the letterphone. Are you listening? Surely hope so for I'd like to borrow that instrument, if I may please. There, I've taken it for granted that I may. Thanks, heaps. "Long distance, please."

"San Francisco. Calling Aunt Mia at the Japanese American building. My name? Miye Maruyama, Route 2, P. O. 189, Sapulpa, Oklahoma and the phone is 9503FS. In half an hour? All right. Well, well! Wonder if Aunt Mia's dreaming. But I heard it all so distinctly! I wonder. There goes the telephone bell! Hello! Hello!"

"Hello, Auntie Mine? (This is Aunt Thine.) How are you today? (Fine, thank you. Who are you?) I'm Miye. That's saying lots. No? Well, I'm your Oklahoma niece, and I'm a veteran member of the club."

"I'm er—just about—almost—well—I'm sixteen. I hated to tell you, but you couldn't look it up easily enough and I thought I'd save you the trouble. I'm hot. Can you feel the heat coming through the receiver? (No, San Francisco is almost cold.) I'm glad to hear that someone on this munda's feeling cool. Can you hear me plainly, Tia Mia? (I can hear you perfectly, Sobrina Miye.)"

"I'd like to tell you something about my beloved Oklahoma if I may? Question Tia Mia, it's been delightful talking to you, only I've done all the talking. Well, never mind. I'll have a change of heart one of these days and ring you up. Then I'll tell you put in a hello. All right? (Certainly, Miye. Aunt Mia would rather have you talk, any way. Some of these days when Aunt Mia wants to talk she will start a column in the paper and just chat all by herself. How would that be? Just to get even, it might be nice.) There's one consolation, though. I can listen in everyday, (like our rural phone, only I'll have a right to listen in) and hear you talking to the other members, and in doing so, enjoy myself."

"Adios, Auntie Mine, and thanks for listening so patiently."

"Adios, Miye. Call up again, please. It's lucky that this is a letterphone. Otherwise, it would cost a fortune."

"Oh, yes! Everybody, how about more pictures? Or drawings? How are the contest articles coming along? Do I hear the pens scratching?"

"Auf Wiedersehen! Morgen werden wir wieder sprechen und lachen. Was that German right, everybody? Bye-bye."

Aunt Mia.

"I never can find the odd tigger!"

"What's the matter with your watch?"

"Here comes Wig, I'll ask him the time."

"What's the time, Wig?"

"Here comes Wig, I'll ask him the time."

"What's the time, Wig?"

"Here comes Wig, I'll ask him the time."
