JAPAN QUOTA IS CENSURED BY PUBLICIST

V. McClatchy Takes Issue With Views of Alexander

Inclusion of Japan in the immigration quota was strongly opposed by V. S. McClatchy, well known publicist and secretary of the California Joint Immigration Committee, in a report to that body made public Wednesday.

Taking issue with a recent statement of Wallace Alexander, former president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, that "our immigration law has so deeply offended the Japanese that it has resulted in a great loss of trade to this country," Mr. McClatchy declared that "the question is not whether such nations declare themselves aggrieved, but whether they have just cause for grievance; and further whether it is our national interest or their desire which should regulate our immigration policy."

Mr. McClatchy's report follows: "At the meeting of this committee, June 29th, Mr. Wallace M. Alexander, of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, read a statement taking issue with the points of the brief concerning quota for Japan prepared by your secretary and presented in your name, under instructions, to the Resolutions Committee of the National Foreign Trade Council, May 21, 1930. Mr. Alexander was a member of that Resolutions committee.

OPINIONS DIFFER WIDE

"There is such a wide divergence between Mr. Alexander and the committee as to certain pertinent facts and conclusions to be drawn therefrom that it is desirable, in the interest of mutual understanding, that the differences be adjusted if possible. It is particularly desirable because many others probably share the views of Mr. Alexander. Some study has been made of Mr. Alexander's data, and this memorandum of results was prepared for information of the committee.

"In the first place, the real issue is not 'quota', with entrance of a limited number of Japanese immigrants. That is but a half way station. Japan has frequently declared through her representatives at international meetings, at Paris and elsewhere, that she will insist on 'racial equality', the same privileges for her nationals, including naturalization, as are conceded Europeans.

"It has been declared with equal positiveness that quota will not satisfy her. We may assume fairly then that to grant quota would be simply an exhibition of weakness on our part which will strengthen the demand which she has frankly said must be conceded ultimately if we wish to satisfy her. The present immigration act with its bar against ineligible aliens would be unquestionable to Japan if our naturalization law were amended to include Japanese in the privileged class.

"The Japanese point of view on this issue finds expression, a little guarded it is true but none the less clear, in the issue, June 15, 1930, of Gaiko Jihō, the Revue Diplomatique of Tokyo, a semi-official publication supported by government subsidy, in an article by Dr. U. Oyama, former Consul General of Japan at San Francisco.

"The article discusses the present law and gives prominence therein to the activities of this committee and Mr. Alexander in connection therewith.

Grape Crop of 1930 Shows an Increase Over 1928 Figures

SACRAMENTO, August 13.—Although California's 1930 grape crop shows an increase over 1928, it is a shade below the crop of 1929, according to figures released recently by E. E. Kaufman, State-Federal crop statistician.

Wine grapes this year totaled 463,000 tons, compared with 416,000 tons in 1929. Table grapes totaled 422,000 tons in 1930, against 317,000 tons for 1929. Raisin grape figures showed 1,193,000 tons for 1930, against 1,098 tons for 1929.

NAVY CHIEF MAY RESIGN

T. Takarabe Disgusted With Wrangling Is Hinted

[Special to The Japanese American News] TOKYO, Aug. 13.—(UP)—Admiral Takeshi Takarabe, Minister of the Navy and one of the leaders of the Japanese delegation at the London conference, may resign his portfolio in the Hamaguchi cabinet upon Japan's ratification of the League of Nations treaty, it was reported unofficially today.

A spokesman for the government party, the Minseitō, said the Navy minister was supporting firmly the government's program and that when he approved the treaty text in London he did so without reservation.

It is possible, the spokesman said, that the admiral may resign as an expression of distaste for the wrangle over the naval limitation agreement precipitated in the government by high navy officials.

Alexander in connection therewith. The quotations below are taken from a translation of the article: "But we must not forget that along with the immigration question there are many other matters of Japanese exclusion unsettled. One of them is the matter of ineligibility of Orientals for citizenship. Another is the Japanese exclusion land laws of California and other western states of America."

"The decision of the United States Supreme court that Japanese being neither negro nor white, are ineligible, is final as an interpretation of the existing law. Nevertheless it has become an important question requiring further study whether the provisions of the existing law which does not give the right of naturalization to Japanese are appropriate or not.

"Particularly in the case of the Japanese question is not simply one of eligibility or ineligibility. In America the Japanese exclusion immigration law, Japanese exclusion land laws and all other laws excluding Japanese, are based on the ineligibility of Japanese for citizenship. The refusal of naturalization to Japanese is a grave matter in international intercourse and international life."

"There is no question as to the cultural assimilability of the Japanese, and none as to their physical, mental and moral qualifications. But the racial differences are so great, as demonstrated by the second generation Japanese in Hawaii and California, individually fine young men and women, that they are not absorbable and must remain apart as an unassimilated group in our population, therefore an obstacle to homogeneity of citizenry."

"Mr. Alexander uses the word 'assimilation' in a different sense from that given it by the committee, whose investigation of the facts in connection therewith has been so thorough that no further reference need be made thereon. That may be said also for other minor points made by him."

TAIYO MARU REACHES F. WEDNESDAY

Family of NYK Head Scholarship Girl on Board

The N.Y.K. liner Taiyo Maru from the Orient by way of Honolulu arrived in San Francisco harbor Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The Taiyo has a cargo of gold and silk valued at $1,500,000 and 350 passengers in all classes. The silk cargo includes 1504 bales consigned to East coast markets, valued at approximately $800 a bale. The gold influx from Japan changes from yen to gold bars on this voyage, the bullion being valued at approximately $200,000.

This is the twenty-second east-bound voyage of the Taiyo Maru and among the passengers of note aboard the liner was Mrs. Seichi Nakase, wife of the general manager of the N.Y.K. offices in San Francisco, with her two sons. Four older children, three boys and a girl, are remaining in Tokyo to continue their education. Nakase has leased a home for his family at 553 10th avenue.

On the same boat was Miss Pumi Ouye, who is on her way to Michigan university as a scholarship student. Miss Ouye is a graduate of Tsuda college, having taken a year's postgraduate course after her graduation last March. She is a niece of Mrs. K. Abiko, wife of the publisher of The Japanese American News.

After staying in San Francisco for a short while visiting her aunt, Miss Ouye will leave for Michigan where she will specialize in economics.

IF GREELEY COULD SPEAK

By GLENN FRANK

If the dead could listen in on the living and give to the living their reactions to developments since their death, I think Horace Greeley would want just now to write a letter to the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

And here are some of the things I think he would have in mind as he wrote:

"I think he would want to apologize for the sort of beligerent brickbatting journalism in which he wrapped his singularly fine mind and fervent spirit, and would counsel his successors in the priesthood of the press to retain his journalistic purpose but to revise his journalistic technique."

"After these long years of retrospective meditation, I think he would advise against an inflexibly partisan press. I suspect that, looked at from the perspective of the post-mortem world, inflexibility may seem as great a fault as venality in the press. I think he would still look with scorn upon the apiteneous editor. He could not be Horace Greeley and do otherwise. He would insist, I am sure, that the journalist should have an unwavering eye on a social goal."

Interests may become a social statesman. I think Greeley and the great editors of his time must feel the force of this as they review their careers.

"I think the great Greeley would agree that the unpardonable sin of low-brow journalism is that, in the main, it underestimates the intelligence of its readers, and that the unpardonable sin of high-brow journalism is that, in the main, it overestimates the information of its readers."

And so, I think, Greeley would say that the journalist's big job is to make intelligence intelligible, giving the great masses the strong meat of straight thinking, but talking in a language that even the unlettered can understand, producing a journalism that knows how to use the vulgar without vulgarity; that is, a speech that is common but not coarse.

And finally I think Greeley would suggest that, if journalism spent less time on the frightened defence of Americanism and more time on a fruitful development of Americanism, we might find that its development is its best defence.

Japanese Youth to Attempt Walkathon from L. A. to N. Y.

[Special to The Japanese American News] LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—21 year old Francis Kuramitsu, Hawaiian born Japanese youth, is planning to set out on a new kind of walkathon. He is going to walk to New York from this city. The youth will not ride on boat, automobile, plane nor train. ACTIVITIES TO BE STARTED

Young People's Clubs of Reformed Church Map Program

Three Christian Endeavor societies of the local First Reformed church mapped out their full program of activities for this term at their meetings held last Sunday.

Members of the three department will participate in the church's 20th anniversary celebration to be held sometime in October. They probably will present an elaborate play, which is being worked out under the chairmanship of Goro Maeda.

The young people's Christian Endeavor decided to join with the Alameda Epworth league in a joint meeting to be held on August 31. They will welcome back their fellow members at a reunion meeting on this Sunday. Toshimi Ogawa, president, took charge of the meeting last Sunday.

The intermediate Christian endeavor installed its newly elected officers. They are: Miss Mizue Kaseki, president; Motomu Ishii, vice-president; Haruo Hata, secretary; Miss Martha Yasukochi, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Inuno is councillor for the intermediate department. The cabinet met Wednesday evening and discuss plans for the semester.

The Junior Christian endeavor organized committees under the leadership of President Tsujimoto and has already begun to function. Edward Tsujimoto was chosen to conduct worship hour on this coming Sunday. Members will be on a hike sometime in September.

Reckless American Damages Auto of Local Japanese

Considerable damages were sustained by Taiyo Komoda, 1579 Buchanan street, when a reckless American driver said to be intoxicated struck his Hudson sedan Tuesday night at 9 o'clock on South Drive and Museum road in the Golden Gate park.

The American, one William Fuchs, 572 Hanover street, Daly city, is booked at the city prison for the violation of section 112 of the California vehicle act.

went down to this river often and would catch fish with nets and then they would put them in a large pool and let them grow. After these fishes, which were the sizes of trouts, had grown large, they would put them back in the river and let people catch them. I thought that was queer and interesting.

"Dearest Aunt Mia, I don't sound as if I had a very good time but really, auntie, I had the best time imaginable. You believe me, don't you? (Of course, Jessie. Words seem awfully futile sometimes when one is deeply happy or touched. Aunt Mia has habit of becoming silent with joy or appreciation so she can understand.)"

"After seeing Yosemite, we went to Fresno, Los Angeles, Oxnard, and here we are again in Santa Barbara. After all their's place like home, is there? (Going away sometimes makes you appreciate your home, doesn't it? And at the same time it makes you appreciate other places. You are a lucky girl, Jessie. Thank you for sharing your trip with us.)"

"Please tell my correspondents that I will write to them soon. Am sending some pictures of Yosemite. Will send many more when they are developed. (Please be sure to send them, Jessie. We need some for our picture section. This applies to everybody.) Look! here is a letter from Watsonville, and it has no signature! There are many members in Watsonville so that Aunt Mia cannot guess who it might be. She says, 'Shall I tell you something about Watsonville? We have a very pleasant climate here. You do not have to send me any of San Francisco's cold weather as you said you wanted to wrap some cold weather in the columns for some other cities. We have both cold weather and hot weather. I wish you could visit here some day. (Thank you, someone in Watsonville. Aunt Mia has often passed through Watsonville in trains and automobiles and looked longingly at the lovely apples there—just hundreds of acres of them— all over—everywhere. And it was always cold there when she passed through. Wouldn't it be grand if we could all visit each other? Perhaps some of us can do that some day. Meanwhile we can visit each other every day through our column.)"

Now let's open the next letter from Wheatland, California. It's from Betty Sadayo Yamamoto, R. F. D. 1, Box 74, Wheatland, California.

RAISIN BOARD TO FUNCTION FROM TUES.

Gov't to Advance Huge Sum to Finance Program

FRESNO, Aug. 13.—The California Grape Control Board set the machinery in motion Tuesday night to stabilize the state's $350,000,000 grape industry.

Fulfilling the terms of its agreement with California grape growers, the Federal-Farm Board will advance $20,791,500 to finance the stabilization program, it was announced by Frederick J. Koster of San Francisco, chairman of the control board.

Koster also announced that as soon as the money is available all of the grape growers who signed contracts with the control board, 85 per cent of the grade tonnage in the state, will receive a 2 cent per pound advance on their crops, regardless of whether the grapes are delivered or not.

POST DECLINED
President F. Ennis of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Fruit exchange, has declined the general management of the board to which he was unanimously elected. Koster said. Other candidates are being considered.

The program of the control board, based on plans of C. C. Teague, California members of the Federal Farm Board, contemplates limiting the shipment of fresh grapes to 60,000 tons and raisins to 160,000 tons.

2,100,000 TONS
The fresh grape output has been in excess of 70,000 tons and the raisin shipments over 200,000 tons in the last few years.

This will be accomplished by the purchase of 770,000 tons of grapes "on the vine." The greater portion of this tonnage will be sold to by-products companies, while the balance will be left on the vine.

It is estimated that this year's crop will be not less than 2,100,000 tons to which must be added a 40,000-ton raisin "carry over" from 1929, according to Koster.
