TRADE MEET FAVORED BY JAPAN C.O.F.C.

Baron S. Goh Writes Cordial Reply to Local C. of C.

1. OUTLAWRY OF WAR
2. LETTUCE, 40 SEN A HEAD
3. POETRY VS. SEASICKNESS
4. ELEPHANT POWER

AT SOME august meeting or other in Washington, D. C. it was decided that there is very little possibility of outlawing war—it seems that it took hundreds of learned experts to decide that question—The trouble about knowing too much is that we see too many nooks and new wrinkles to the situation, and that makes it hard to come to any conviction—but to people like us who do not know anything about laws nor wars, and who can only judge things from a human feeling standpoint, such a matter seems easy to answer. Is the outlawry of war possible today? Fundamentally no. Even if they passed laws outlawing war, those laws would be "scraps of paper" until the minds of men become more ready to believe in working for peace. Many of the alliances and so-called peace conferences seem more like preparations for another war than anything else to us—but not being experts, we don't know. There might be another wrinkle to the situation, for all we know.

In looking over the Japan Times, an English paper printed in Tokyo, we see advertisements as follows: "Lettuce, 40 sen per head, Special Sales," "Room and board 40 minutes ride from Tokyo, 150 yen per month including breakfast and dinner," "Nice 7 room house with flush toilet, 275 yen."—We wonder if the second generation farmers in Salinas and elsewhere had better not go to Japan to raise lettuce. On the other hand, if room and board with only breakfast and dinner cost 150 yen a month, and a house costs 275 yen a month, we wonder if it is going to be a paying venture—even with lettuce bringing 40 sen a head at a special sale.

(3)

A CERTAIN chief steward claims that an appropriate verse of poetry printed on the menu for each dinner course will whet jaded appetites.—Wonder if the particular steward was ever seasick.—Poetry hath its charms in the right time and in the right place but—we wonder—How can one commune with the gods on the heights of Olympus when one has an urge to go and commune with the depths of the sea?—It is physically impossible.

(4)

According to a mining engineer who returned from Burma on board the Taiyo Maru recently, a Burmese in measuring power does not say horsepower. He says elephant power. When one goes to buy an automobile one asks, "How much development?"—Well, why not? It all depends upon where we live, doesn't it? To the Burmese it must sound just as strange to hear the word "horsepower."

JUNIOR AND SENIOR SECTION

Hello, everybody! Come and gather, nieces and nephews mine, and let's chat for a few minutes today. All here?—Right. Let's start.

A nephew from Oakland came to visit auntie the other day. He was a thoughtful person and asked, "Auntie do you have more members in the country than in the city?" After some thought auntie replied that perhaps more members lived in the country and in small towns than in large cities. "Why?" he asked. "Because city children have more things to see, more places to go, and more amusements of every kind, and more people to play with, perhaps," was auntie's reply. Is that true, members? Anyway, auntie hopes that this club will give lonely country members hundreds of friends and all sorts of new things to think about, don't you?

"Who reads this section the most?" was the next question. Auntie could not reply, because she really does not know. You may be surprised to hear it but it seems that a great many grown up people are reading our section, too. And why not? We would love to have them wouldn't we? Of course!

And now, dears, let's all sit quietly while we hear from Helene Yamamoto of P. O. Box 108, Hollister, Calif. Remember, members, that it gives us all great relief to tell some close and loving friend of our griefs and sufferings. Auntie is so glad that Helene has come to us to unload her burden.

—Junior—

"It was indeed a pleasure to hear that poor, dear Teruko Maruyama will soon be able to use her legs. Am sending just a few lines in dedication. Maybe things like this are not fit for our section, auntie, and you seem jollier than ever. I surely enjoy the section. (Thank you, Helene. It was auntie's New Year resolution that she will be happy and jolly throughout the year, for her own comfort, if not for the joy of others.)—And how have you been, Helene?

"Something has happened, auntie, and I'm writing to you and Obasan as it gives my great comfort to do so. Death stalked into our home recently and went out with my only big sister, Dorothy. I know that she had quite a few dear pen-pals, and I am sure they will want to know. As I don't know of any way to notify them, I am depending on our section. (Thank you for telling us, Helene. Auntie, Obasan and all the club members are so sorry to hear of the death of Dorothy. Big sisters are nice, comfortable people to have, aren't they, Helene, and we are very, very sorry. The club, too, has suffered a loss. Auntie has lost a niece and all the members have lost a loving cousin.—When you are sad and lonely, Helene, you will write to us, won't you? Auntie and the members will be so glad to hear from you. And, members, let's write happy, comforting letters to Helene shall we?)

That is a comfort, isn't it, to know that those we love will never feel misery and hurt any more when they leave us. Auntie is glad that Helene has thought of that so soon after her bereavement.

And now, nieces and nephews mine, shall we say 'bye'? Somehow, silence seems more welcome than lively chatter just now, doesn't it? —Bye, everybody.

Auntie.

It was indeed a pleasure to hear that poor, dear Teruko Maruyama will soon be able to use her legs. Am sending just a few lines in dedication. Maybe things like this

Movement Started to Impeach Minister by Minority

[Special to Japanese American News]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—With the opening of the Imperial Diet yesterday after the New Year adjournment, political strife and dissension opened again with renewed vigor.

Besides the question raised by the Selyukai members concerning the constitutionality of retaining Foreign Minister Kijuro Shidehara as Acting Premier during the incapacity of Premier Yuko Hamaguchi, on account of the Minister's non-patson standing, the Selyukai has now another grievance on hand concerning a different cabinet member.

The other Japanese grievance pertains to Home Minister Kenzo Adachi. At a meeting of the political committee held recently, it was decided to launch an impeachment bill against Adachi for his conduct at the time of the shooting of the premier. At that time it is said that the Home Minister was in Okayama accompanying the Emperor at the autumn army maneuvers. Hearing of the accident, it is charged that the minister left immediately for the bedside of the premier in Tokyo, scarcely taking leave from the Emperor.

Selyukai members also claim that the House of Peers considers this a grave incident.

'GOLFINGEST' SKIPPER'S TITLE IS CHALLENGED

Captain Ito, Yardley Will Play in S. F. on April 9

[Special to Japanese American News]

TOKYO, Jan. 21.—In his port, Captain Shunji Ito, whose ship the M. S. Tatsuta of the N.Y.K. steamship line arrives in his port Thursday morning, is being showered with challenges for more golf matches by skippers of other steamship lines.

Recently Captain Ito won a match with Captain George W. Yardley of the Dollar line fleet in a game on the difficult courses in Hongkong. Now Captain Yardley is planning a comeback on his own territory of San Francisco on April 9.

News comes from the Matson liner, Mai, which arrived here from Hawaii recently, that its master, Captain Andrew Townsend, wants to challenge the winner of the golf match between Captain Ito of the N.Y.K. line and Captain Yardley of the Dollar line.

Captain Rasmussen and Powers of the port staff of the Matson line of Honolulu, doubt Captain Townsend's prowess, according to the Honolulu Advertiser and have turned "thumbs down" on the proposal.

Captain Townsend believes he can defeat either of the two skippers and is willing to challenge the winner, the match to be played at the earliest opportunity.

MT. VIEW TO MEET NITTOS

Decisive Game to Be Seen in San Jose Saturday

[Special to Japanese American News]

SAN JOSE, Jan. 21.—What is promised to be the most hotly contested cage game ever held this season will be staged when the undefeated Mt. View Kyowa five invade this city and tangle in a friendly rival game with the twice defeated San Jose Nitto Wildcats in a J.A.U. "B" league game this Saturday evening at the Buddhist temple court.

If the Mt. View boys win, they will no doubt cop the championship without much effort for they already have defeated the other two teams by a large margin.

The invaders are reported to have an edge over the local team in the coming game. However, the Kyowa five have never beaten a San Jose team in the past, and the chances for the local team winning in the coming tangle lie in this fact.

The Nitto quintet is confident that it will not have the invaders mar the clean record that the team holds in the Saturday battle.

If the local squad wins in the game, the team will still have a chance to place in the league but if it loses, the Nitto quintet will be out of the race in the league.
