Kyoko Inouye Will Make Japan Tour in Recitals

SPRING! Everyone in this region must have been reminded of the fact in the warm sunshine of Sunday—We wandered through the famous orchards of Santa Clara valley and over the Coast range mountains. Certain varieties of plums were in full bloom and the apricot blossoms were beginning to bud forth on branches that reminded us of the Japanese "ume." In the mountains the hillsides were the color of soft green that is so soothing to the eye and spirits and the California poppies were challenging the famous California sun with their brilliant coloring.

Every time the breeze blew a shower of white petals fell on us as we stood under the plum trees. We were reminded of the time when we stood under cherry trees in Japan and watched the pale pink petals as they fluttered down. And we wondered—as usual. Why is it that so few songs are sung, so few poems are written, and so little praise is given to blossom time here? We wondered as our host complained of the high cost of keeping orchards, and the low price of apricots last season. We wondered as we heard tourists prosaically telling each other as they passed by that this was the "greatest prune producing district in the world." Why couldn't it just as well be described as the most beautiful and largest blossoming district in the world?

THE inimitable G. K. Chesterton is in this city. According to him, morality is "trying to be tolerable to other human beings and organized society." The trouble with our Puritans and anti-Puritans today is that they are all essentially Puritan," he says. "They quibble over superficialities, sometimes nonsensical things." We don't pretend to be critics, or moralists, or anything resembling greatness but we, too, have often wondered if the world would not run along more smoothly and happily if so many of us were not so "finicky." We needn't "play up" crime and immorality, but at least we could take a more understanding attitude concerning mankind's common frailties—and it seems that frailties are common to us all.

France and Italy have at last come to an agreement concerning their naval limitations. At last! Now perhaps the present Great Britain, United States, Japan naval agreement will be the Five Power pact that it was originally intended to be—Another reviving news.

Headlines say that President Cerro of Peru has resigned to "end civil warfare." Still another piece of good news in keeping with spring. And yet, we wonder. We wonder if he was not forced out of his position by the man who is succeeding him, Chief Justice Elias.

OFFICE BOY SEES AND HEARS

—oo—oo

It all happened—not "in Monterey a long time ago"—but right here in this San Francisco Japanese community just two nights ago, Saturday. This office-boy strolled out of the smelly editorial room and mingled among the "prominent"—the Citizens' league dinner, at the "Zensen" little theater presentation, and the "Ha-Ha-waii" dance.

Sat beside Miss Toyoko Domoto of Oakland. She confessed, "I can't get along without 'okoko.' Hidden up with some penniless guy. Didn't know George Togasaki was in Yokohama at the time of the 1923 earthquake, until he told me about interesting episodes he encountered at the dinner table.

Miss Togasaki is quite enthusiastic about the "Pacific Citizen" publication. Bravo, Sim! Go ahead and advertise all you want. We'll help you, too! Me'n the editor. Me especially. Didn't know the girl in white from San Jose was Miss Bernice Uyemura, Jimmy's sister. Glad to know you. Understand she's helping her brother writing San Jose news for this paper. Will tell the editor about it, Bernice. You might get a letter of thanks from her.

Kyoko Inouye Will Make Japan Tour in Recitals

"Our Soprano," Miss Kyoko Inouye of Los Angeles, who has been invited to make a song tour of the Flower Kingdom this summer by the Tokyo and Osaka Asahi Shinbun, will give her recital in San Francisco March 15, Sunday, in the Catholic auditorium.

It is expected that the charming and diminutive second generation lyric soprano will appear at recitals given in several Japanese communities in California prior to her departure for Japan.

Miss Inouye appeared at a successful farewell song recital held recently in her own community, Los Angeles.

She will give her interpretation of popular and classical songs in Japanese, English, German, French, and Italian.

It is reported that the Japanese singer will be in the bay region some time this weekend. Miss Chihiko Sato, popular "Jazz Singer" from Japan, is said to have encouraged Miss Inouye's visit to the Island Empire.

The wedding will be held sometime in the near future, it is reported.

ANNOUNCES BETROTHAL
Hoshide Is Engaged to Hollister Girl

Tsunekichi Hoshide, prominent second generation business man of the city, announced his engagement to Miss Kishiko Nishimoto of Hollister last Saturday.

Mr. Hoshide is now connected with the Iwata Art Goods Store occupying an important position in that firm. He is a Hawaiian born second generation member who came to the mainland at an early age. He is also well known in the Santa Rosa district where he lived formerly.

The wedding will be held sometime in the near future, it is reported.

MRS. ONO TO TEACH
Increase to 6 Per Day in February

TOKYO, March 2.—(UPI)—Unemployment, cold weather and general depression caused Greater Tokyo's suicide rate to increase to an average of more than six a day during February, according to figures released by the Metropolitan Police Bureau today. A majority of those taking their lives were from the poorer classes.

More than 1700 suicides were reported in the Metropolitan police area during 1930.

JAMES TANDA, popular Showa member, and George Yama of San Mateo, also a Showan, were guests here during the last week end.

A. M. tells me that it isn't a compliment to call a girl "getting fat." Beg pardon! Didn't mean anything bad.

Surprised... Not seeing K. K. from Stanford at the Hawaii dance... Hoko Ikeda, former editor of "The Public Opinion," and a defendant in a recent libel suit, lauding the Citizens' league dinner, at the "Zensen" little theater presentation, and the "Ha-Ha-waii" dance.

Didn't know "Vic" Yamakawa was a regular lightning effect technician. If it weren't for him—this is just between you and me—the whole "Zensen Little theater" presentation would have been a—well, I don't want to say it too strongly, but—a failure! Of course, there was a charming woman in the cast, though. She's Miss Somebody Suzuki. Forgot to ask her first name.

Did you know Kido's "old lady," pardon, Mrs. Saburo Kido, was in the hospital since last Monday? Where are you, Minnie's friends? Better get your new stationary.

MIDNIGHT IN A GHOST HOUSE! — THEN WHAT?

S. F. Japanese Raise $2406 for Chest Drive by Monday

Alameda EL Answers in Benefit Play March 7

[Special to Japanese American News]

ALAMEDA, Mar. 2.—"Sh. Listen a minute! Didn't you hear something creek? Sh! There it is again! Ah! What was that?—What was that noise?"

These are some of the thrilling excerpts from Lura Woodside Watson's sparkling mystery comedy, entitled "The Ghost Hunters," to be presented at the fourth annual benefit entertainment of the local Japanese Epsworth league in the new auditorium of the Japanese M. E. church, south, this Saturday evening.

CAMP GIRLS HELPING

The local Camp Fire girls are doing their share in the Community Chest drive by selling doughnuts in the Japanese community in San Francisco.

The plot is cleverly woven around the nerve-racking adventure of four high school students in a deserted house in Springfield, Mass.

When the curtain rises, four students, two girls and two boys, find themselves in the sitting room of the Doane home, reported to be haunted. The walls are bare and stained. A few relics of antique furniture are in the room—a battered sofa, a rickety table, two or three chairs, boxes, and rubbish. A frayed calendar, ten years old, is seen hanging between the window and the door.

GIRLS SCREAM

In this room of noxious exhalation, Madge, portrayed by Miss Grace Kawachi, is seen tremblingly recounting her frightful experience she had one night passing by this haunted house. Suddenly the lattice window behind the girls shuts with a slam. All jump to their feet, and the girls, frightened to death, emit a wild scream.

The girls are calmed. Homer, enacted by Robert Mizoguchi, looks at his watch. It is quarter to 12!

Only 15 minutes more! And then? A sinister knock at the outer door is heard. The door swings open slowly and silently, a revolver appears around the edge of the door. It approaches.

WHO'S THE GHOST?

It is almost midnight now. Only a few minutes more! All sit in silence, all eyes turn toward the closed door which leads into the hall. The town clock strikes 12. A slow footstep is heard outside, approaching nearer and nearer. The door opens. The ghost enters. Who and what is this mysterious figure? The members of the cast invites the public to find out for themselves this Saturday night.

Two other plays will be shown during the night. Tickets are being sold at 50 cents per person. The benefit begins at 7 o'clock.

S.J. SEES FOUR CAGE TILTS IN WEEKEND

San Jose 'YM' Downs Oakland Boys in Sunday Game

[Special to Japanese American News]
SAN JOSE, March 2.—The local Y.M.C.A. hoopers outclassed and defeated the invading Oakland Y.M.C.A. boys in a cage clash held here Sunday afternoon by a score of 27 to 17.

The locals started the fire work early in the game and took a comfortable margin. The half ended in favor of San Jose, 13-5.

The game was a rough and tumble affair with 27 fouls to slow up the loop battle. The Oaklanders were guilty of 18 and San Jose of nine personal fouls.

Nobu Tabata played a wonderful defense game for the losers and his floor work was quite outstanding. The stars for the winners were M. Sakamoto and Kitune, scoring 11 and nine points respectively, coupled with an air-tight defense featuring H. Sakamoto and Henry Akagi.

S. J. AND IRVINGTON—TIE

The invading Irvington team broke even with the San Jose Y.M.C.A. juniors Saturday night. In the preliminary, the Irvington "B" quintet trounced the local Y.M.C.A. second team.

OAKLAND Y.W.B.A., VICTORS

The Oakland Y.W.B.A. and the local Y.W.B.A. sextette played in the preliminary game Sunday afternoon, the former trimming the San Jose girls, 22-17.

The fast stepping sextette from Oakland made the first two baskets, and it looked like an easy victory for the invaders. As the game progressed the San Joseans steadily crept upon the visitors and were trailing by three points at the end of the half, 13-10.

In the second half the local girls rallied and at the beginning of the third quarter they were leading by one point. However, the local lead did not last long, for the visiting team started the rally and won the game by the close score of 22-17.

And the girls, frightened to death, emit a wild scream.

The girls are calmed. Homer, enacted by Robert Mizoguchi, looks at his watch. It is quarter to 12! Only 15 minutes more! And then? A sinister knock at the outer door is heard. The door swings open slowly and silently, a revolver appears around the edge of the door. It approaches.

Dr. Akagi Speaker at Doll Fete at Hotel St. Francis

More than 500 invitations were sent out by the officials of the local Japanese Y.W.C.A. recently for the doll festival to be held in the "Y" building Friday afternoon, March 6, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

In an endeavor to show the charming tradition of the Island Empire,
