BRAND new head adorns the Comment column today. K.K., H.M.L. and A.M. hope that they can use their "head" faithfully every day after this—literally and otherwise.

The three columnists take great pleasure in awarding the prize of $5 to Mr. Thomas Otsani of 118 South Soto street, Los Angeles, California, who submitted the head design reproduced above as our new comment column heading.

The reason for our long delay in announcing the winner lay in the fact that so many excellent designs were received that we were greatly puzzled as to which one to choose.

The design of "The Thinker" drawn by K. M. Nishimoto was so excellent both in workmanship and in idea that the columnists thought it too good for their humble writings. Regrettably they laid it aside, sighing for the day when they would deserve to have such headings on columns written by them.

Following is a list of honorable mentions over which the columnists smoked many a pipe and con tried to select the best:

K. M. Nishimoto, Berkeley; I. Matsumoto, Palo Alto; Beatrice Hayashi, Watsonville; Carl Kondo, Los Angeles; Rose Himi, San Francisco; K. Kawai, Sacramento; Michio Ono, Fresno; Stella Sato, San Mateo; Helen Kawano, Loomis; Anonymous of San Francisco; Suchi Yoshino, Livingston; Mary Jingu, San Antonio, Texas.

K.K., H.M.L. and A.M. wish to thank the artist named above and many others for their interest in providing a suitable comment heading for our column.

And to the winner—congratulations!

JUNIOR AND SENIOR SECTION

Hello, everybody! Come and go—You'll listen to her chirrup now! We have lost some members, dear, but we have also gained some back from the doors of death, and auntie is so thankful.

"Dear Aunt Mia, please don't soid me for not writing sooner, will you? (Course not, Teruko-san! You see, auntie knew that you were ill recently. A little birdie told her.) Well, yes, I—ah, I—well, I tell you, I got a touch of spring fever. I was so lazy that I didn't want to wash my own face. My mother and I were the helpless victims of 'Old Man Flu.' (That's too bad, Teruko. Auntie hopes that you are both well by now.) My mother had it lots worse than I did and when she was well even she was very tired.

"As for me, coughing was about all I did. Thought I would cough myself to death. But now! We're both tip-top. (That's fine, niece o' mine, Auntie and the members are so glad.)

"I have a new wheel chair now and it certainly is a hundred times better than that clunky old wheel-chair that I had before. Guess I shouldn't criticize it too harshly, though.

"Friday night I went to a birthday party, then to a show for the first time. (That was wonderful, Teruko. Hope that you will do so often after this. And please don't catch any more flu's so that you can come to visit us often.)

—Senior—
Look! We have another auntie in our midst! Member? Lo of Sacramento recently became an Auntie and here is Hideo Makabe of Loomis running a close second. She says, "Dearest auntie Mia, it has happened at last! I wanted to write to you before but I had been waiting for it to happen and I was almost getting impatient too. But now, I can count myself in the same class

Bruin Club Planning Big Dance Around April 17

(Special to Japanese American News)
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 26.—Alice Asaka and Tom Suzuki, both of whom are graduating seniors of the S31 class of University high school, and six other students, were awarded the coveted C. S. F. "Lamp of Knowledge" pins, signifying that they are members for life of the California Scholarship federation.

Miss Asaka has held many important positions in the school. The club positions in which she has rendered valuable services are numerous. She served on the school annual art staff for three years; has been chairman of the installation committee of the Girls' league; has been the secretary of the Art club for two terms; art editor of the G.A.A. for two semesters; treasurer of the Honor society; and has been member of the Mawandaa, a large organization consisting of girls who have rendered services to the school as members of these clubs: the Broadcasters, Vestalians club, Girls' Glee club, Letter Girls' club, and the French club. She not only has served in these clubs and organizations, but she has had, in order to receive the award, received continuously throughout her school period of six terms extremely high grades.

Tom Suzuki has received much recognition for his splendid services as Commissioner of Publications. Other major offices held by the youth are publicity manager for the History club and treasurer of the Honor society. He is now president of the Honor society, has been active in the Boys' league in the Latin club, and has been on the Board of Hearing. He participated in the World Friendship Oratorical contest. And he has engaged in athletics, having been one of the foremost track men of the school. His scholarship is high; the requirements having been passed with ease.

BRUIN CLUB PLANS DANCE
The Bruin club of U.C.L.A. will stage a semi-formal dance sometime in the middle part of April, following the mid-term and the end of Easter season. The dance is an annual affair. At this time the locale for this Bruin club dance is yet to be selected.

It is probable that the date of this dance will be on Friday, April 17. One of the three following country clubs will be chosen for the dance: The Whitley Park Country club, Palomar Country club, or Brentwood Country club.

Not only the members of the Bruin club, but approximately 75 couples will be invited. The dance is open only to those invited; $1.50 is to be the bid price.

There may be two or three more members to be sent from the local Y.M.B.A. It was learned through the secretary.

Land Plot Schemes Bring Question of Legality of Deals

A scheme for expensive sales to Japanese of ownership certificates in California farm lands as a means of circumventing the alien land act was revealed recently in a consultation between Raymond L. Halght, commissioner of corporations, and Attorney General U. S. Webb.

Several corporations have been formed to purchase agricultural land and dare selling as high as 95 per cent of their stock to aliens intended to be barred from land ownership by the provisions of the act, it was charged.

The corporation commissioner requested a legal ruling. Less than 5 per cent of the stock would be held by American citizens. This would represent only the required directors' shares.

A considerable acreage already has been purchased in Butte county, Halght said.

"Under the act," Webb declared, "it is my opinion that any transaction which is made with the intent to avoid its provisions may be construed as a violation."

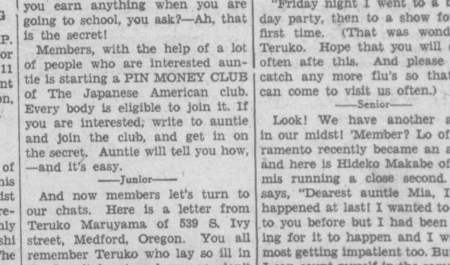

Robert Yamagata will represent the local organization; Masao Murata and Ted Yasukawa, religious education; Minoru Furuki and Masao Shi-
