MANAGUA, Nicaragua has just had a terrible earthquake. Like all earthquakes, it has been followed by fire and danger of a pestilence. Again, like all disasters of that kind, the devastation is followed by looting. Only, in this case it is aggravated by the fact that the bandits are reported to be pouring in from the surrounding hillsides—Why is it that it has to "pour when it rains"? Suffering humanity has enough as it is without having fire, pestilence, and bandits added on top of earthquakes.

Today is Good Friday, we are told. As usual, the columnist is busy at work, so we have no holiday for which to be thankful. Yet, today, the day of Christ's crucifixion brings thoughts of reverent gratitude not only for Christ's martyrdom, but for the hosts of other saints and servers of humanity in many lands and of many creeds who gave their lives for some beautiful ideal, truth, or cause for the betterment of mankind. Religious leaders, scientists, dreamers, workers, musicians, writers, thinkers, for them and for many others of the past we are thankful today.

A BOY who has been blind since birth just had his sight given to him by a delicate operation. At this time when the world is thinking of Easter and rebirth, this news comes with greater significance. To be blind for 22 years and then to be able to suddenly see! Truly that must have been rebirth or even greater!

Which reminds us. The King and Queen of Spain donned aprons and washed the feet of beggars. News reports are careful to state that the king wore a gold braided, much decorated admiral's uniform, while the queen wore a gold lace gown with a diamond collar. The first part of the news sounds appealing and touching—but gold braids and diamond necklaces do not seem to fit in with the picture, somehow.

"Success often attends those subject to a feeling of inferiority," says a psychology professor. Good news for the second generation members who are often accused of having this disease called "inferiority complex" and are told that they never will "amount to anything" if they don't "assert" themselves more in this "be-man" world.

Bread now comes all sliced from the bakery. So we were informed by our breadman as we hurried to the office this morning. "Isn't that great? Can you imagine anything more convenient?" asked he—"Yeh," was our reply. "Oweh it and swallow it for us."

Admiral of Japan Admires S. F. Bay as Best in World

San Francisco bay is the greatest natural harbor in the world, in the opinion of Vice-Admiral Sadao Hatanoto, one of the foremost naval experts of Japan, who has just completed a world survey of naval orifices for the Japanese Imperial government. He sailed for home Thursday on the N.Y.K. liner Chichibu Maru on the last lap of his lengthy journey.

"Now I can well believe the slogan that all naval fleets of the world could anchor in the waters of this mighty harbor," said the noted Japanese technician. "The United States should be proud of such a haven for its commerce and trade on the Pacific coast and development should find the increasing growth of commercial relations between America and Japan."

The directory will have an individual's name, his address and the clubs with which he is connected. If you belong to more than one organization be sure all the groups send in your name.

GOOD MUSIC TO REIGN AT YPC PARLEY

Conference Pamphlet Dedicated to Yuki Kuwahara

In an effort to enliven the conference program of the Bay Region sectional conference of the Northern California Y.P.C.C., slated to be held in Oakland on April 11 and 12, the Music Chairman Ruth Morishita, announces a string of enticing musical selections to be presented during the gathering.

According to Miss Morishita, Henry Furuta, young baritone of the Oakland M. E. church, is at present offering his services as the official song leader during the two-day session of the convocation. He will be assisted by Miss Haru Aoki, pianist.

Some of the highlights of the musical program, that are expected to soothe the hearts of the delegates at the conference, are given as follows:

A trumpet solo by Hisashi Moriyama of San Francisco, music graduate of the College of the Pacific at Stockton.

Masao Yoshida of the Alameda M. E. church, south, who has won the hearts of music lovers throughout the bay area with his renditions of classical pieces on his violin, will also be on hand to delight the assembled delegates with his charming presentations. He is at present taking active part in the activities of the San Francisco Junior Symphony orchestra.

Another local talent, who has won for herself a reputation as a young song-bird, is Mrs. Charles Yoneu of San Francisco. She will give several vocal selections.

A xylophone solo, an instrument which is very difficult to master, will be presented by Thomas Tsuji of Oakland.

Several selections are scheduled to be rendered by the well known choir of the Oakland M. E. church. Miss Morishita, music program chairman, is being assisted by Misses Vera Tanaka, Haru Aoki, and Hisashi Moriyama and Pete Furuta.

An announcement has just been made by Miss Yoneu Taniguchi, literary committee chairman, that this year's conference pamphlet is to be dedicated to Miss Yuki Kuwahara, who is at the present time in Spokane, Washington, actively engaged in Christian work.

In making her announcement, Miss Taniguchi stated: "It was greatly due to her untiring effort that our conference has progressed so much in the last few years. We feel that she has played a great part in furthering the spirit of Christian unity in the bay region."

The pamphlet this year will contain seven pages and it is reported that it will be distributed to all delegates at the Sunday night banquet. Many interesting articles and comments will feature in the publications, it is said.

Miss Taniguchi is being aided by her committee of 14, namely: Misses Dorothy Fujita, Minae Kakehi, Misao Takeuchi, Nellie Itahara, Oshu Hirano, Margaret Fujita, and Fumie Yanagizawa, and George Miki, Misaki Iijima, John Yoshino; Shigeru Saito, Shigehi Madokoro, Robert Mizokuchi, and Haruo Imura.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR SECTION

"Lo, everybody! Isn't this grand? We just grow and grow and grow! And auntie, the 'Old Lady Who Lives in a Shoe,' she puff and puffer with pride as her family grows. And now, let's look up our waiting list of new members.

Here, dears, is Big O of Berkeley. "My d-d-d-dear Aunt Mia an-n-d my beloved O-o-o-cousins, m-m-may I-pardon me, auntie, I'm not used to addressing such a large crowd. Neither are we, nephew. We just talk with each other. We don't 'address' them. Just chat, nephew, just chat. You'll find that much easier. Won't he, members? (Course!)

"Well, accept me today, my dear cousins, as one of y-your family. Perhaps I am unworthy of my great cousins but I will try to perform my duty as a 'wonderful' member.

"I shall not disgrace my 'wonderful' person by describing myself, but I leave it to my learned cousins and auntie to judge me according to their own opinion. If you think I'm a nice kid, O. K., think so. If you wish to say that I'm a boaster, say so; I care not in the least. Whew that takes a lot of breath! Take it easy, Big O.)

"Nom de plumes seem to be in fashion. Therefore, I take great pleasure, my honorable Aunt and Cousins, to make my first appearance under one too. (You don't HAVE to, you know, Big O.) I know well that some dislike it, but those who write under one, I'm sure, would not oppose. At least, I fancy so.—Awwwwww!—Don't get mad! I won't be long before a 'guy' like me will spill the milk carelessly and give my dear name away unconsciously.

"I'm dying to hear from some of my august cousins, as fr instance, Brownie and others, but—alas! Going under a pen name and giving no address, it is impossible for them to write to me. Awfully sorry but even to our Beloved Aunt, I can't tell my precious name.—Nope, not even in a whisper. (Right, Big O. We will be waiting patiently until you give yourself away.)

"I'm awfully glad to see quite a few members from Berkeley. (So are we, Big O.) This is all until Easter. (Almost time for Easter, nephew. Hope we hear from you. Are you going to 'give yourself away' then?)

And now let's welcome Haruko Frances Furusho. She is 14 years old and her birthday comes on March 15. She lives at P. O. Box 547, Penryn, Calif.

"May I join your jolly group? I have been reading this interesting column since you organized it. Suiko Margaret Tayama of the Junior club asked me to join so I decided to write to you and join this wonderful club. I really think this is a wonderful club. (That was nice of Margaret to do that, and it is nice of you to think such nice things of us, Haruko-san. Do come and make our club more wonderful.) Auntie, will you please tell members to write to me?—I will send my picture later. (Please, do, Haruko-san. Don't forget, will you?)

—Junior—

And now let's talk with Ume Maekawa of Rt. 1, Box 241, Hanford, Calif. She says, "This is the largest club that I have ever joined. I enjoy reading the Junior and Senior section everyday. I am 12 years old and my birthday is on August 1. I would like to correspond with club members around my age."

(Come and make our club bigger, little Plum Blossom mine.)

Shizuyo Oura halls from the same city. Her address is Rt. 2, Box 99, Hanford, California. She writes, "I have been wanting to join in this wonderful club for a long time. I love to read the club section everyday. I am 13 years old and my birthday is on September 11. I hope that the club girls will write to me. I will answer them right away."

"Ume Maekawa and I live about two miles apart. She and I go to the same school and are very good friends. May we join? (Course you may join, Shizuyo-san. Now you have 900 loving friends and cousins isn't that thrilling?)

Let's hurry to welcome Minnie Ishibashi of Rt. 2, Box 147, Ft. Lap-
