CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF TURLOCK HAS JOINT MEET WITH CORTEZ JAPANESE

Turlock Mayor Gives Keys of City to Japanese

By A. M.

A meeting of several members of the Chamber of Commerce of Turlock and the citizens of that vicinity together with the Japanese residents of Cortez! That was the unprecedented and joyous event which we were permitted to see Monday night at the Cortez school house.

For the first time in history, perhaps, the keys of a city have been given to a Japanese community in the United States. That was done Monday night when the Mayor of Turlock, Mr. J. W. Guy, presented the keys of his city to the Japanese residents of Cortez and welcomed them into the town and the hearts of the people.

PRESENTS KEYS OF CITY

What the Mayor said to the Japanese farmers and citizens assembled there was not only a tribute to and applicable to the Japanese there, we think, but to all pioneer Japanese in America. "You," said he, "are an asset to our city. Only you could have turned these wastes into blooming fields and fertile gardens. We could not have done it. I respect and honor you for your honesty and courtesy. I can truthfully say that I have never kept a Japanese account for over three days. One tradition and custom among the Japanese which has impressed me tremendously is the matter of the 'Koden,' each person's little gift to the departing soul at the time of the funeral—a sort of mutual benefit insurance. With this key of the city, we welcome you into our city and into our hearts."

PRES. OF C. OF C. LEADS

A.A. Caldwell, the president of the Chamber of Commerce of Turlock, in his kindly and carefully enunciated English, expressed his appreciation for the Japanese community and did nobly in "breaking the ice" of the evening and turning it into a jolly, friendly get-together.

When Miss Ruth M. Dodge of the Japanese American Weekly and A. M. entered the gaily decorated Japanese school house of Cortez, the banquet had already started and the participants were gaily singing. "The more we are together, the happier we'll be." Those who could not speak English and those who could not speak Japanese just smiled at each other in beaming appreciation which, after all, was more expressive than a whole barrelful of words. Those of us who could speak each other's tongue but not our own, the Japanese and the Americans, were gaily singing.

It was also decided to paint the tennis courts, and repair the net. During the meeting, the members agreed to donate a day's wages earned during the coming summer vacation to increase the treasury of the club, the minimum being set at three dollars.

The members discussed the proposition that they are not to join with the members of the J.S.C.A. in forming a non-religious college students' organization until they hold a joint meeting in the near future.

The business of holding a dance party was laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

Baishakunin Wedding

FRESNO, April 14.—Merits and demerits of the "baishakunin system," traditional mating method of Japan, were fully discussed at the regular monthly gathering of the Fresno chapter of J.S.C.A., a college students' organization, held last Friday night at the Kawai home.

The club accepted the challenge issued by the Buddhist Students' club for a tennis tournament between the two student groups. Henry Kazato was appointed chairman to arrange the tennis affair.

The J.S.C.A. will participate in the "Tencho-setsu" program to be sponsored by the Japanese community. Miss Jeannette Kawai was appointed chairman of the committee to select a suitable number for the program. Others on the committee are Misses Helen Kazato, Kay Kawai, Nakiki and Setsu Saki.

Delicious refreshments were served after the business meeting, during which a jolly, impromptu "Japan Night" program was given by various members, each contributing a Japanese song or dance.

KEEP UP GOOD WORK

Surely, more and more as we, the second generation, grow up and live and work and contribute our share in the daily life of America, may we be able to say with our fellow Americans, "The more we are together, the happier we'll be." A good beginning has already been made in Turlock and Cortez, that region where Japanese were so misunderstood only a few years ago.

GOODWILL FOUNDATION BUILT

The first generation pioneers of Cortez and the second generation leaders of that community spoke. While we listened, we envisioned the well-cared for fields and the comfortable farm houses and thought of how firm a foundation had been built up for the young people in that vicinity and how well they might be able to build upon it. Not only have the first generation there built the foundation of tilling the fields properly, but they have built a firmer and better foundation—the goodwill and respect of their fellow American neighbors. That was the most difficult part and it is being accomplished as was seen Monday night. How much easier and pleasanter it will be for the second generation to step into the places left vacant by the elders and carry on. Monday night, as the young people spoke A.M. looked around to see the American audience nodding and smiling their approval in sympathy and understanding. For at least one common
