GARDEN WINS COUNTY FAIR DISTINCTION

By K. K.

"KIKU MATSURI," the chrysanthemum festival of Japan, has been transplanted to California. From a purely local celebration held by the Japanese florists of Redwood City to mark the opening of their season, the festival this year has blossomed forth into an extensive community fête promoted by the various civic organizations of Redwood City. Even San Francisco has joined in, and the "Kiku Matsuri" has taken on added significance.

That the esthetic appreciation of a beautiful flower by the nature-loving Japanese should be taken over by Rotary clubs, Lions, Kiwanis, chamber of commerce, and other such organizations of a hustling American town as a means of community advertising is somewhat amusing, to say the least. But regardless of the purpose behind the promotion of this festival, it can not fail to have good results.

No doubt, the Japanese florists as well as the American civic promoters have seized upon this scheme as a welcome opportunity to ballyhoo their wares and their town. But that should not be begrudged, if it is to leave entirely beneficial results. A quickening of the sense of esthetic appreciation through the understanding of the beauty of flowers together with all the artistic feelings which go with it cannot help but be an enriching influence in the cultural life of any people.

This "Kiku Matsuri" may be Redwood City's contribution to the work of introducing the best of Japanese life to America for America's own enrichment, and as such, it deserves hearty commendation.

Robbers of Jewelry Store Nabbed in 10 Minutes

SAN JOSE, Oct. 1.—Within 10 minutes after the Akigetsu company here was robbed of jewelry and other valuables from its show window at about 3 o'clock Thursday morning, the burglars were taken into the custody of the police.

The robbers were identified as young Chinese from San Francisco. Mr. Akigetsu, the owner of the Akigetsu company, who resides on the upper floor of the store, was awakened by the sharp sound of his show-window being broken. Sensing his store in danger, Akigetsu ran down only to find the robbers had just finished their job and were making their escape in an automobile. He took down the license number, and immediately notified the police station.

While the Japanese owner was giving the description of the thieves and their automobile to the detectives in front of the store, the machine which had left the place only 10 minutes earlier appeared on the scene driving slowly down the street. Jumping into another car the detectives gave chase, catching the Chinese robbers a few blocks away.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLUB

HELLO MEMBERS! How are you all? I imagine all of you are back to school and studying very hard to get good grades. This is the best time in the year to study, is it not? In S. F. we have been having lovely weather the last few days. Some one told me this is the so-called Indian Summer. The dictionary defines it "the autumnal summer; generally the finest and mildest part of the whole year, especially in North America."

It was very nice of Auntie Mia to take me in as a part of this wonderful club. I certainly enjoy being with you, and I wish to come and chat with you as much as possible if you don't mind.

Today, we have a sweet letter from Takaye Kawahira, P. O. Box 170, Perkins, Calif. "Dearest Aunt Mia: Howdy, howdy, how's everybody? Fine, I hope. As for me, I'm just fine as usual. Auntie, I've heard that you had been sick with the flu. That was just too bad. Hope no other sickness will come to you, Auntie dear. By the way, how is Obasan?"

Give my best regards and tell her to be well soon. (Obasan is a little better, I heard.) Many many thanks to those who wrote to me when I joined this club. I wish to know the address of Grace Shimado of Vacaville. (Auntie Mia has the list of addresses of all the members, Takaye-san. She is not here today, and so we'll see you know tomorrow.) Adios, everybody, until next time.

And members, Takaye-san wrote a lovely story. She says, "This is the first time I've made up a story to send in to some club, so I'm kind of nervous." Here it is:
THE MEETING OF THE TWO
By Takaye Kawahira
As the days drifted by, Tom Honda, a handsome young man, kept up his courage in trying not to break down with a broken heart. As he was doing his day's work every day, he would say to himself, "I'm going to find my only Hanako, even if it takes me all my life."
So Tom passed his dreary time, sick and lonely thinking only of his beloved sweetheart—whom he had lost somewhere in this great world. But he was in hopes that he would find her soon.

The next week, they were to be through picking grapes, and how glad Tom was to get out of that stuffy place full of mosquitoes. The following week on Tuesday Tom left, and went to a hotel. He stayed up all night that day because he didn't want to go to work the next morning. The next morning he woke up very early. At seven o'clock, he got dressed, washed his face and combed his hair. After finishing his morning breakfast, Tom went outside. After taking a little walk, he went and sat on a couch which was in the hotel veranda. He was now again thinking of his beloved Hanako. Somewhere deep in his heart, he could hear it say that she was near him now. But he couldn't believe it. Poor Tom. He just could not stand the pain in his heart any longer. He threw his face in his hands and wept as he was thinking how he would ever see or meet her. Hours had elapsed since Tom came out on the veranda, but he did not know it. Soon he heard a sweet voice calling, "Tom Honda, why are you weeping so?" Tom, surprised, looked up to see who had said that, and who do you think he saw! His only and beloved Hanako, Hanako whom he had always longed for. And she too, had longed for him. "Hanako-san!" he cried. He jumped up with joy and put his arms around her. They stood staring at each other for fully ten minutes, with their eyes filled with tears of happiness. The end.

BANDITS IN CLASH WITH JAPAN ARMY

Stragglers Plunder Villages in Manchuria

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—Today's developments in the Manchurian situation was marked by the report of a skirmish between a detachment of Japanese troops and a body of Chinese soldiers said to have numbered 3000 at Kalyuan near Mukden. Three Japanese were reported killed and many wounded in repulsing the Chinese.

Following the massacre yesterday of between 300 and 400 Korean villagers in Manchuria by prowling bands of Chinese soldier-bandits, Japanese gendarmes were being rushed to the scene. It is estimated that a total of 1500 bandits are pillaging the district in groups of 50 or 60.

LEAGUE ADJOURNS ON MANCHURIAN PROBLEM

GENEVA, Oct. 1.—The League of Nations council last night adjourned consideration of the Chinese-Japanese clash until a special session October 14. By that time, the council hoped that all Japanese troops in Manchuria will have been withdrawn to the positions they occupied before the recent outbreak.

Dr. Alfred Zee accepted the adjournment for China with the reservation that this nation, after the status quo has been restored, will still expect the council to participate in determining responsibility for the conflict and for fixing "just reparations."

K. Yoshizawa, the Japanese delegate, stated emphatically that Tokyo will not accept such an approach to the problem.

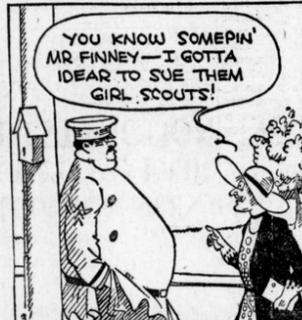

Museum Director to Visit Japan Soon

Dr. James B. Scherer, director of the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles, and author of "Romance of Japan" and other books on Japan and the Japanese people, will leave for a short vacation to Japan on the N.Y.K. liner, Taishu Maru, sailing from Los Angeles on October 12. Before taking up his present post, Dr. Scherer was connected with the English editorial staff of The Japanese American News.

L. A. EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS "GET-TOGETHER" SOCIAL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 32.—With approximately 50 members present, the local Epworth league, following their regular services last Sunday, enjoyed a "get-together" party. The meeting was held at the M. R. church.
