GUNS SHAKE SHANGHAI IN NEW DRIVE

3 Nations Make Move For Peace at Parley

(Copyright, 1932, by United Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 12.—The crashing thunder of heavy artillery in the Shanghai sector today shattered the brief truce during which I saw thousands of frightened non-combatants being evacuated from the war torn zone.

Big guns, silenced for six hours, roared along the front in the renewed offensive for control of the lower Yangtze delta.

The bombardment began just outside the International Settlement. Soon the entire Shanghai front was shaken by the big guns.

Chinese Begin Attack
Rifles and machine guns joined in the artillery bombardment as the Chinese began a general attack on the Shanghai front, and the heaviest fighting of the last three days was in progress.

The truce apparently was not observed at Wusong, where intermittent shelling by Japanese warships on the Chinese forts continued during the entire day.

Resumption of hostilities ironically enough coincided with moves made by British, American and French representatives in a new peace effort.

Mamoru Shigemitsu, the Japanese minister, conferred with Sir Miles Lampson, the British minister. Later he talked with Henri Welden, from France. Nelson T. Johnson, American representative, expected to meet Shigemitsu Saturday.

Japan Firm in Demands
Lampson and Welden indicated they were advised Japan was ready to negotiate for peace only on condition the Chinese forces withdraw to positions sufficiently distant from Shanghai to remove all danger to the International Settlement. These terms the Chinese consistently have rejected.

Johnson, Lampson and Welden asked T. V. Soong, finance minister, Quoi Tai Chi, vice minister for foreign affairs, and Wellington Koo, of the foreign office, to meet them in what they described as most important conversations. The conference was arranged late in the afternoon, during the height of the bombardment.

Placer Devils Lose Game to High Team

(Special to Japanese American News)
PENRYN, Feb. 12.—Placer Green Devils were eliminated Wednesday night at the Placer high court in the N. C. Official Association basketball tournament by losing a heart breaking game 28-24 to Anderson Placer high 135 pound quint after two overtime periods.

Thirty-two minutes of hectic nip and tuck tussled found the teams deadlocked 22 all, and in the second overtime period, Winton made an under the basket shot to give Anderson's five a well earned victory.

With the addition of Bugs Suzuki, Placer Greens played heads up ball and for the most part outplayed their American opponents, but it wasn't their night to click.

Ejection of Suzuki from the game in the last quarter through four personal fouls spelled the Mount tainers doom as it left only three regulars on the floor with two players from the second team. The lineups follow:

Green Devils (24) Anderson's (28) Miyakawa (5) r Liddicoat (4) Yamada (10) f Winton (3) Yoshida (7) c Bandera (13) Suzuki (2) rg Anderson (2) Furuta (1) lg Kelly (2)

Chinese Fish Makes Shanghai Gesture At Japan Medaka in Steinhart Aquarium

There's something fishy about this Sino-Japanese situation. Visitors to Steinhart aquarium in Golden Gate park got that impression today as they inspected the tropical fish.

Occupying adjoining tanks are the medakas and the fork tailed paradise fish. The two families have crowded to the far ends of their tanks and spend all of their time glaring at each other.

There's a reason. The medakas are from Japan and the paradise fish from China.

They're naturally sullen and would probably glare just as menacingly at a U. S. marine. But imaginative attendants insist it's a case of underwater patriotism.

ORIENT ROW IS CAUSED BY CHINA CHAOS

Bandits, Warlords are Roots of Clash Says Consul

A tragic picture of China, with its 400 million people harassed by greedy war lords and ruthless bandits, whose uncontrolled brigandages made inevitable clashes with Japanese interests which they attempted to despoil, was presented with graphic vividness by Kaname Wakasugi Thursday at St. Francis hotel.

The address was delivered by the consul general at a weekly luncheon of the Down Town association.

The high lights of the address were:

The anti-Japanese boycott in China is not a spontaneous refusal of Chinese merchants to conduct trade with Japan, but it is tyrannical bridling of free trade by a small group of agitators by the convenient method of threat, violence and forceful confiscation. This is an outright violation of both the letter and spirit of the commercial treaty between Japan and China.

China has often been pictured by Chinese as the innocent and peace-loving victim of a terrible Japanese aggression. Yet Japan at the sacrifice of 2,000,000,000 yen in gold and 100,000 lives of soldiers, took the vast territory of Manchuria from Russia and restored it to China, as a result of the Russo-Japanese war, reserving only certain trade privileges with the approval of China herself.

Japan Has No Desire
Japan faces a stupendous problem in attempting to apply the twentieth century peace program of the Kellogg pact and the Nine Power treaty to the brutal realities in the war-torn and disunited China, similar in nature to seventeenth century Europe with its war lords, barons, disorder and internecine warfare.

Japan does not want to conquer or rule Manchuria, with its thirty million Chinese, nor any other part of China.

here! It is Hideko Makabe of Loomis. We haven't heard from you in a long time. How have you been, Hideo-san?

"Oh say, there was one remark by Henry that I resent. You shall take it back, young man! You say, 'I suppose the girls will take sides with the nom de plumers. They would—they are so capricious,' or words to that effect. How dare you, Henry! If you wish to know, there are more girls using their own names than there are boys. (You better apologize Henry.)

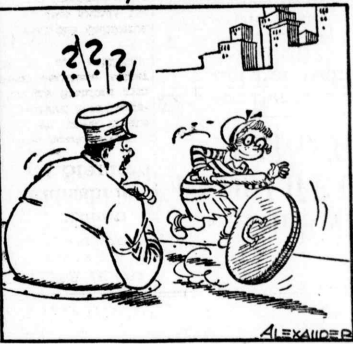

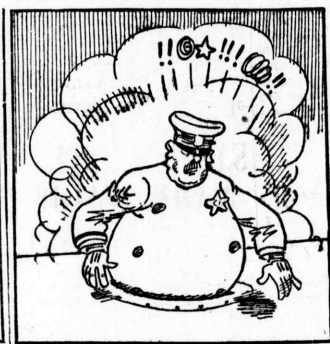

"You nom de plumers take heed! I had promised to blast down each thin wall of defense that you use. (Oh my oh my! Another Dangerous Warning!) And I'm going to. Now, listen! I am not saying that we demand unconditional surrender on your part. Or that you have to reveal your true names immediately. But I am challenging you to set forth in specific language good and satisfactory reasons for hiding yourselves.

"Bashfulness, modesty or shyness? Oh, who says so? Doreen says, 'appliance!' I say that is no reason. In the first place of whom are you bashful? And now! If you met Auntie and your cousins for the first time you would be excused for biting your fingers and hiding your faces. But gee, after you have been meeting them day after day for so many months, and after you have been sharing one another's burdens, and laughter and tears. (You are right, Hideo. So down went the reasons modesty and shyness.)
