'OPEN DOOR' IS UPHELD BY STIMSON

Firm Stand Taken By U. S. In Respect To China War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—Secretary of State Stimson today announced to the world that the United States would stand by its "open door" policy in the Orient.

Had these treaties been faithfully observed the present situation in China could not have developed, he maintained.

He affirmed further that if the nine power treaty were disregarded the whole structure of the Washington treaty of 1922 would be disturbed.

By this treaty the United States limited its naval power in the Pacific and agreed not to strengthen its fortifications in that area.

Open Door Policy The statement, which may go down in diplomatic history as a corollary of the famous "open door" policy of the late Secretary of State John Hay, was made in the form of a letter to Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee.

By the 1922 treaty the United States, Stimson pointed out, surrendered its then commanding lead in battleship construction.

It also agreed not to strengthen its naval bases at Guam and in the Philippines.

These "self denying covenants," he pointed out, were made because of assurance that the open door policy in the Far East would be observed and that no nation would resort to "military aggrandizement" in China.

Brian Kellogg Pact After tracing the rise of the open door policy of free trade in China and its formal acceptance by the world powers in 1922, Stimson called attention to the Brian-Kellogg peace pact, saying:

"The recent events which have taken place in China, especially the hostilities which have been begun in Manchuria have later been extended to Shanghai, far from indicating the advisability of any modification of the treaties we have been discussing, have tended to bring home the vital importance of the faithful observance of the covenants therein to all the nations interested in the Far East.

Treaty Breach is Hinted "We see no reason for abandoning the enlightened principles which are embodied in the treaties.

"We believe that this situation would have been avoided had these covenants been faithfully observed, and no evidence has come to us to indicate that a due compliance with them would have interfered with the adequate protection of the legitimate rights in China of the signatories of those treaties and their nationals."

LIVINGSTON Young People Will Hear Orient War Talk

(Special to Japanese American News) LIVINGSTON, Feb. 24—The second generation young people and the American public here will be given an opportunity to learn the Japanese position on the present Sino-Japanese conflict in the Far East when Karuo Nakashima, secretary at the San Francisco Japanese consulate, speaks at the local Union high school auditorium on the afternoon of March 4. Nakashima is a graduate of Harvard.

The company has asked the authorities of the university to submit names of students who will be graduated next year with the recommendations for their employment.

Meiji U. Accepts The Tokyo Asahi says the electrical department of the South Manchuria Railway already has informed that it will be prepared to employ scores of the school's graduates this spring.

Meiji University of Tokyo already has submitted a list of 200 students of the class of 1932 for service in Manchurian projects affiliated with the S. M. R. A.

A majority of the students to graduate from Waseda, another big Tokyo university, also expects to seek careers in Manchuria and provinces of Mongolia.

Emigration The development of Manchuria will be vastly accelerated during 1932, the Tokyo press believes and Japan will not worry if China emigration into the four eastern provinces is stopped because of anti-Japanese movement in China.

Emigration from Korea and Japan will more than make up for any slackening of the movement of population from China proper, it is said.

JAPANESE TOT IS BEATEN UP BY CHINESE

Three Assaultants in Car Conduct Outrages in Fresno

(Special to Japanese American News) FRESNO, Feb. 24—Three young Chinese ruffians, presumably infuriated over the Sino-Japanese conflict in the Orient, committed outrages on the afternoon of Feb. 17 upon two defenseless Japanese students, including a little grammar school boy, it became known here today.

Yoshito Imada, a student of the Edison Technical high school, was on his way home from school, when a mysterious automobile trailed him. Suddenly the car stopped in front of him; and three Chinese, all about the age of twenty, stepped out. With a menacing gesture they asked Yoshito whether he was a Chinese or Japanese.

Upon being told that the boy was a Japanese, the three Chinese ruffians attacked him, beating him with fists and kicking him about the body. In the mad melee that followed, the Japanese youth managed to give one of the attackers a devastating wallop.

The Chinese fled in their automobile. On the same afternoon little Fujii, a pupil of the Lincoln grammar school was accosted by the apparently same group of Chinese in the same automobile. The little boy was beaten by the attackers, and ran crying home.

The incident so frightened the tot that he was loath to return to school the next day.

The local police authorities are investigating this unprovoked attack upon the helpless little child.

Miss Agnes Mizuhara, secretary at the local branch office of the Fujimoto Securities company, will be transferred about the end of this month to Los Angeles office of the same company. She is a well known girl in the younger circles of San Francisco, being vice president of the Golden Echo club of the Japanese Y. W. C. A. She is also national executive secretary of the Y. L. I., a Catholic organization.

plumer. You don't mind if I change my name to Chica, do you? (I don't mind. But maybe some of the anti-incegs will fuss and frown.)

"Cousin, our Aunt Peggy is one of the most charming young ladies I have ever met, and pretty and wise besides. (Well, well, thanks for all the compliments, Chica. But members, don't take Chica's words too seriously for you will be disappointed when you see me. I want you to know Chica. She is cute with such a nice smile. And look how wise she is. She has an ambition to become a linguist.)

"In my spare time, I pick a bit of this and that, some French, German, Chinese, Spanish, Italian, and a little bit of Slovenian. I am after a bit of Arabian and Russian. (Splendid, Chica. Besides those 8 languages, of course you can speak English and Japanese, so that makes 10. It must be a grand feeling to be able to speak so many languages. Keep it up, Chica.)

"When I was in Fresno for Christmas and new year holidays, my uncle took his eldest son Jack and me to see the snow at Yosemite. Everything was blanketed in soft, white snow. The trees and rocks were beautiful. I felt like an insignificant piece of humanity when we drove past towering, snow clad cliffs! I had never before touched snow, but Jack made up for the loss by pulling me with snow balls! You can't imagine the fun he had! And I! Don't ask. (You must have had lots of fun, Chica. You wanted to know the address of Mary Sakimura. It is Central Hotel, 10 North St., Yakima, Washington. And members Chica lives at 41 Middle St., S. F., Calif.)

—Senior— Elaine Nishimoto, hopes "none of my pen pals have deserted me because of the change of my address. The new address is Rt. 1 Box 304, Hollister, Calif. And I will be much obliged if anybody can tell me Rose Himi's address. (Her card says 1961 Buchanan st., S. F.) Who was the member who dared to go over to the incoogs' side saying it was easier to write under a pen name? It might be easier, because you can say lots of things you really couldn't under other circumstances, but wait until you get found out. I am hoping the incoogs meet their down fall soon."

—Senior— That's all today. See you tomorrow.
