LOS ANGELES, Mar. 1—A discussion was held by the senior Epworth league of this city following regular Sunday morning services. The topic was, "What is the cause of the lack of harmony between the first and second generations in America," and Miss Aiko Yamada was the leader. The topic was a continuation held over from the Sunday previous. The primary cause of dissension between the two groups was lack of trust on the part of the first generation, it was suggested.

A joint meeting of the first and second generations was recommended. Cabinet members were announced for the new term. Mr. Furuta, of Oakland sang a number.

HINODE, TAIYO COMPLETE CARD IN BLAZE OF GLORY

	W	L	Pct.
Taiyo	5	1	83.3
Hinode	5	1	83.3
Kyowa	1	5	16.6
Nitto	1	5	16.6

By JAMES UYEMURA
Hinode and Taiyo finished their regular league schedule in a blaze of glory, with both clubs tied for first place. It wasn't a surprise to find Hinode at the top of the pile but Taiyo's showing was in the nature of an upset.

Nitto Flips
Nitto, supposedly the dark horse, was the greatest disappointment of the league. Absence of Toke Ishikawa, their stellar all around man, was keenly felt. Kyowa, defending champion, lost three of their best men in Kawamoto, Kiyomura and Suzuki, hence, their showing couldn't be expected to be much from the outset.

With Hinode and Taiyo deadlocked for the honors, the playoff for titles has been set for San Jose, Saturday, March 5. The game will be played on either the Buddhist floor of the States Woman's court. Higuchi has been appointed referee.

Inouye, Nakamura, Miho and Shiohara present a dangerous scoring threat. When Paly puts these four young men on the firing line, anything can happen. In balancing the threat that Paly has in this quartet as compared to Shirachi, Tada and Okamoto, of the Taiyo, the beam swings in favor of Hinode by a slight margin.

Salinas Will Be Tested
Charley Inouye, better known as Little T. N. T., will be the fly in the ointment for Taiyo. There's Nakamura, who will be making those side shots count for two points almost everytime he tries. The Taiyo man to man defense will be given the acid test Saturday night when they stack up against the Hinode. Admitting Hinode's offense to be above par, the only hope for the Cowboys would be a tight defense.

NORTHWEST YPC STAGED

WAPATO, Mar. 1—Unity of spiritual forces and interesting social contacts were among the main objectives sought and achieved at the Northwest sectional conference of Christian young people held on Feb. 20 and 21 at Wapato and Yakima.

The two day conference, with its varied program and inspiring addresses was the first of its kind held here by the Japanese and received considerable attention from the newspapers and local Americans. About 65 young people were registered for the meetings.

The high light of the first day's program at Wapato was the banquet held at Nellie's Cafe. Amy Matsushita acted as chairman and Sono Kikuchi as toastmaster.

A good meal, informal singing and a short talk by Yuki Kuwahara brought the right banquet spirit. Vocal solos by James Hirai accompanied by Welly Shibata and a piano solo by Helen Olds were enjoyed.

Officers Elected
Sunday morning the Yakima Congregational church was the scene of morning services, with Yakima, Seattle, Spokane, Portland and Wapato youths represented. Talks by Miss Yuki Kuwahara and Dr. Robinson featured the program.

Before the close of the conference, new officers were elected and installed. Miss Tossie Yamaguchi, this year's chairman, Harry Masao was chosen vice chairman; Sono Kikuchi, rec. sec.; Fumi Yamaguchi, cor. sec.; and Mamoru Matsumura, treasurer.

The viscount would attempt to correct misunderstandings between the two nations. The report coincided with the disturbing effect on the local population caused by publication of the news that the entire American fleet would be concentrated in the Pacific.

Viscount Kaneko was said to be willing to accept the mission, but had not done so today. The plan was opposed by many Japanese leaders, who considered it useless.

PEACE PLAN IS PROPOSED BY CHINESE

Gen. Shirakawa Takes Over Command in Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Mar. 1—Mayor Wu Teh Chen of Shanghai was understood today to have outlined a four-point peace proposal for submission to the Japanese.

Provisions for the proposal were said to include cessation of fighting, mutual and simultaneous withdrawal of troops from Shanghai, supervision of the withdrawal by neutral observers, and reparations for China.

The Japanese were understood to be similarly seeking an armistice. Their terms were believed to differ little from those of the last ultimatum issued here, which demanded that Chinese withdraw 12 miles from the Settlement, with a neutral zone in the area.

New Chief Gives Views
Gen. Shirakawa, who arrived at the head of the Japanese 11th division and assumed command of the Japanese forces in the Shanghai area, said the Japanese would withdraw their troops and end military activities immediately if the Chinese met their demands.

The Japanese commander expressed a desire to cooperate with foreigners and to respect their rights. He reiterated the Japanese desire to localize the dispute with Chinese, protect Japanese subjects, restore peace and order in the Orient, and achieve neighborly relations with China.

Foreign Face Problem
Foreign military observers who toured the battle front today expressed the belief that Japan, faced with an almost insurmountable tactical problem, would soon be prepared to accept any reasonable peace proposal.

The experts said the Japanese do not hope to meet the situation unless commanders are prepared to sacrifice upwards of 10,000 casualties. It appeared they said, that Gen. Shirakawa was loath to risk this number of troops.

"Older residents believe a Chinese victory would take an anti-foreign tone. Sniping is already a dangerous menace and scarcely a handful of the 5000 Catholics in Shanghai dare to go to mass on Sunday. Hangkew district is hard hit, since 20,000 Japanese troops are here."

Cleric Says Victory for China Dangerous

In the first word received from Jesuit priests in China by their fellows in San Francisco, fear is expressed that a Chinese victory at Shanghai would mean an uprising against all foreigners.

Rev. Pius Moore, S. J., S. J., former vice president of the University of San Francisco and now head of the Jesuit college of Gonzaga in Shanghai, writes to Rev. Joseph M. Piet, S. J., provincial of California: "Older residents believe a Chinese victory would take an anti-foreign tone. Sniping is already a dangerous menace and scarcely a handful of the 5000 Catholics in Shanghai dare to go to mass on Sunday. Hangkew district is hard hit, since 20,000 Japanese troops are here."

Baby Doll is going to sing for you.
SONG
By Black-eyed Baby Doll
Love is a song which I may sing,
Winter and summer, fall and spring.
Love is a melody which I throw
To the blue sea and the sky.

Nothing in any words I toss,
Lightly aside for gain or loss,
Brings me the happiness your smile,
Lends to my day for a little while.

Happily, bitterly, softly as
Spring and winter, and rose and snow—
Love is a song, of which the words
Flutter and leave me, like homing birds!

You have heard the name Alice Takaoka of Fresno, haven't you members? Of course, you have, for Henry Takahashi has introduced her to her other day.

Well, Alice decided to join our club. Isn't that nice? Welcome, Alice to our family circle, and I am glad you are not using a pen name. "Well, Auntie, and members, I finally decided to join, and I hope to find some one to write to me. I believe it is not necessary to describe myself to you since one of my pen pals has already told me about me. Anyway he forgot to tell you when my birthday is. It is July 23. "As I am fond of writing letters, I promise to all who write me, a long and interesting letter. I wonder who will be the first to write me. "I am almost as good at writing letters as Boots of the funnies is at entertaining her friends. I want everybody to write to me except the Congressmen and undertakers. Alice Takaoka, Rt. 3 Box 325, Fresno, California. —Senior—

A THOUSAND BIRDS ARE SINGING
By Black-Eyed Baby Doll
A thousand birds are singing in my heart
Because you came along—
"I listen, and I find your name alone."
Is all their song.
A thousand birds are filling all the air
With color and fragrance and delight.
You go, each hides its head beneath its wing.
Thinking it night
Come back and bring the birds the golden dawn
That they are waiting for your hands to bring.
A thousand birds are sleeping.
Bid them wake—and sing!
—Senior—
That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Old King Football has been dead these two or three months, but the other day the Fresno Mikado sallied down to Los Angeles and took the cream of Southern's grid teams on in a little go at Union Pacific to lose, 13-0 to the Olivers.

Since that time the Southern scribes started singing sagas about the prowess of their Oliver eleven, hinting in a vague sort of way that the Olivers could take the Showans to the cleaners.

Shows and Oliver games but the time was different. If we played in midseason, I am sure we could beat Oliver. For us it was out of season and we did not have practice but the Oliver had a league game every week, they were in mid season condition. My opinion is that Showa is better than Oliver.

The comparison between "Sim" Nambu and Miyamoto can't be made. It's no use to argue that Nambu is better.

Sam Yamasaki says, "As a team I favor Showa because Showa has more experience. As for the individual, I pick Nambu over Miyamoto because he is a triple threat."

"Tom Nakamura stated 'Miyamoto is a fast runner but he has not the potential threat that Nambu has.' "Showa is my choice because they have more weight and experience," speaks up "Hank" Yoshikawa. "Yes, Oliver has a good passing attack but Oliver has not the power Showa has. As for individuals, I will pick Nambu."
