TEIKEN HAS BIG WALLOP AS FIGHTER

Shows Confidence on Eve of Ten-Round
Bout in Sac'to

By FRANKLYN SUGIYAMA

Next to the depression, the thing that bothers the local Japanese community is the outcome of the Pancho Villa and Joe Teiken at Sacramento Saturday.

Without doubt, the ringsiders will see a mighty battle. From the looks of things it will be fight between a fighter and a boxer.

Teiken did not shine particularly well against the last boxer he tackled in the shape of one Tuffy Pierpont of Oakland in their fist clash at the Golden Gate arena a short time ago. Pierpont's left jab was always in Joe's face.

Villa Is Good

Well, it seems that Villa is just about twice everything that Pierpont is in ability, speed and generalship. However, it is generally conceded that Teiken packs the wallop while Villa is a cream puff puncher.

Still, in a long grind of 10 rounds, Villa could slowly cut Teiken's speed down and in the closing stanza's wallop the Japanese lad at will. But, on the other hand, if Villa wants to trade punches with Teiken like Pierpont did, then Teiken will put him to sleep.

May Land Punch

In most of the tiffs between fighters and boxers, the fighter will risk everything and come tearing in, trying to land a damaging punch, then with the boxer's defense broken down, he will just put the boxer away. Sometimes, that devastating punch never lands.

It goes without saying that Joe Teiken is a fighter, he will try. In fact, he says himself that he can absorb all that Villa has.

When asked by a friend, "are you afraid of Villa?" Joe just laughed.

Has Confidence

That is the situation in a nutshell. Joe has a world of confidence in himself. He knows in the bottom of his heart that he is going into the crucial fight. If he goes over the hump, he knows that he is made, but if he loses, he will be just a fighter.

In other words, he is staking everything on the bout. He knows that he has everything to gain and nothing to lose. Hence, with this knowledge and his own confidence, despite the fact that Teiken is slightly overmatched, the Japanese batter will go into the squared circle to win, and he may do it.

Merritts' Meeting

OAKLAND, June 30—There will be a special meeting of the Merritts A.C. July 1 at the local Japanese association on Webster between Sixth and Seventh streets at 8 p.m., according to George Ochiai, president.

WATSONVILLE GLEANINGS PICKED UP FOR OUR READERS BY SMILES

WATSONVILLE, June 30—Some 50 graduates were feted at the Y.M.W.B.A. graduation party last Saturday night. Games were the main feature of that night. Rev. Inouye, Katsukyo Kadotani, and Tom Mori welcomed the graduates, and Frank Sakata and Hisao Hirokawa responded. Much credit goes to those who worked laboriously to make this affair a great success. They were Violet Yamamoto, Peggy Ikeda, Estelle Yoshii, Bea Hayashi, Helen Murakami, Nancy Tada, Shige Wada, James Asami, Tom Mori, Ted Yamamoto, Katsukyo Kadotani, and Fred Nitta. The stunt called, "The Rush," was presented by Mary Koke, Peggy Ikeda, Violet Yamamoto, Ted Yamamoto, and Tom Mori, and they were applauded loudly.

Off to ???

Last Saturday night the Sunday School of the Japanese Presbyterian Church gave a farewell party in honor of Albert and Richard Watanabe, whose father died recently. It is rumored that they will leave for Oregon where their uncle awaits them, but they are undecided.

Honored.

Bea Hayashi and Fred Nitta, both popular members of the Y.M.W.B.A.

Teiken Carries Harder Wallop but Villa Has Better Ring Generalship Says Critic

Steve George, sports editor, San Francisco Union, has kindly made the following statement to the readers of the Nichi-Bei in regard to the Teiken-Villa fistfight affair:

If there are any knockdowns or a knockout finish, Teiken will do the knocking down or the knocking out. He carries the harder wallop, and is intent on mixing it from the start.

He is a very willing fighter who depends on punching power to overcome ring generalship and experience. (Hot weather here seems to have effected Teiken more than Pancho and his workouts have not been as fiery. Moose Taussig says the boy will be a different fighter in the cool of the evening.)

In summary, I pick Pancho to triumph by decision after sensations to take, predicting a victory for Joe, it looks bad.

George's statement follows:

If the fight goes the limit, I pick Little Pancho to win a close decision.

His experience—161 fights to date—is too much for Teiken—too much of a handicap. He is a very crafty and steely boxer, very alert and a sharp shooter.
